Christmas Seal Sale Begins Today

Funds Received Locally Are Used in Newton

The 27th annual Christmas Seal Sale to carry on preventive work and anti-tuberculosis care in Newton starts today. The sale will be conducted under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs which organization has successfully conducted the work in previous years. It is a contribution of the Federation to the welfare of the city and is its most important work in this direction. In previous years the returns from the Christmas Seal Sale have been larger than in any other city of similar size in the state. This is due to three facts. First, the organization and conducting of the sale in a dignified and businesslike manner entirely through the mail. Second, the turning over of the receipts of the sale to the Newton Welfare Bureau in which all have confidence. Third, the adjustments of all expenditures and needs to be met by careful supervision of the Health Committee of the Welfare Bureau which includes representatives of the Board of Health, the School Department and the City.

General consideration of the appeal letter which is being issued is sought in order that Newton citizens may be fully acquainted with the fact that from this source comes the only income which can be used for anti-tuberculosis work in the Newtons. It is further urged that Newton citizens purchase the Seals through the local committee. The Christmas Seal Sale is not included in the Newton Community Chest because of the association of the former with state and national tuberculosis leagues.

The Seal Sale committee of the Federation is comprised of Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett, chairman, Mrs. Charles A. Riley, co-chairman, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, chairman of Publicity and the following chairmen and assistants in the various sections of Newton:

Auburndale—Chairman, Mrs. E. L. Johnson.

Newton—Miss Miriam Drury, chairman, assisted by Miss Florence C. Bacon, Mrs. Arthur Kendrick, Mrs. Percy Kenway.

Newton Centre—Mrs. Denton G. Nutter, chairman, Mrs. Herbert S. Cleverdon, Mrs. A. Gram Fulton, Mrs. Harrison W. Hayward, Mrs. Glenn W. Lawrence, Mrs. L. M. MacKinnon, Mrs. William E. Many Rallies in Newton Next Week

Citizens of Newton will have many opportunities to hear the candidates for Mayor during the coming week. Open rallies at which all the candidates will speak will be held tonight at the F. A. Day School, Newtonville, under the auspices of the Jefferson Club; on Monday night, December 4, at the Auburndale Club, under the auspices of the Community Club; on Tuesday night, December 5 at Emerson School, Upper Falls, conducted by the Women's Club of that village. On Friday night, December 8 all the Mayoralty candidates will address the City Employees Local at the F. A. School. Candidates for Aldermen will also speak at these rallies which will start at 8 p.m.

Rallies scheduled for Mayor Weeks will be found in another column. Rally for Thomas W. White will be held on Tuesday, December 5 at the High School; on Wednesday, December 6, at the Stearns School, Nonantum; on Saturday, December 9 at the State Armory, West Newton; on Monday, December 11 at the Weeks Junior High School. These rallies will start at 8 p.m.; Mr. White and former City Councilor Edwin O. Childs will be the principal speakers.

Paul H. Drake will hold a series of rallies in a number of school buildings next week.

Threat Made to Kidnap Children Of Newton Man

The kidnapping racket hit Newton the past week when Benjamin Blum of 6 Garner rd., Newton Centre, received an unsigned letter demanding that he leave $5000 in bills on Battery Wharf, Boston, or his children would be kidnapped. Blum has two sons, one 17, attends Newton High School; the other, 8 years old, attends the Ward school. Blum is a clothing manufacturer on Washington st., Boston and says he is not wealthy, and has not had labor troubles in his factory which would cause anyone to seek revenge. He moved to Garner rd. about two months ago from Brookline. The road is an unaccepted street running from Irving

Red Cross Receives Allotment of Goods Valued at $19,000

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross received as its allotment of the wheat donated by the government and milled into flour by the National Red Cross 3310 bags of 98 lbs. each, or 1/2 bbl. 1150 families in Newton, approved by Welfare Agencies, received this during a period of about a year. From cotton similarly donated and made up the following were also received: 20,900 yards cotton or cotton flannel material; 450 pairs blankets; 150 comforters; 340 yards sheeting; 1274 dozen garments (underwear, hose, trousers, shirts, etc.); 102 dozen sweaters. The value of these goods at wholesale prices were approximately $19,000. All over the city sewing groups are still making up garments from the cloth and the work will continue all winter. Through the courtesy of the Newton Trust Company a cutting room has been established in Little Bray Hall, Newton Centre, where volunteers cut and assemble the garments ready for the sewers. Distribution is made, as last winter, at the Red Cross Room, City Hall and to families who are recommended by Welfare Agencies.

Woman's Forum to Be Opened Sunday

A Woman's Forum for women of all the Newtons will start a series of meetings on Sunday afternoons beginning on December 3rd at 5 o'clock in the parlors of the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. The first speaker will be Miss Margaret McGill of Newtonville. Miss McGill is a former teacher of history in the Newton High School for many years, and is president of the Boston Women's Educational Union. In the summer of 1931 she made an extended trip to Russia which will be the subject of her address. There will be music by Mrs. Payson Allen. Refreshments will be served.

Large Crowd At Political Rally At Newton Corner

Underwood School Hall Audi- ence Hears Various Mu- nicipal Candidates

The hall at Underwood School, Newton, was well filled on Monday night at the political meeting held by the newly organized Ward 7 Improvement Society. President John J. O'Brien was in charge of the meeting. Most of the candidates for Aldermen in the various wards spoke briefly, having been restricted to 5 minutes. The feature of these speeches was the reference made by Edward O. Proctor, candidate from Ward 6, to the condition of Newton's water supply. He quoted evidence obtained from the State Health Department and claimed that attempts being made to gloss over the situation will be futile, because residents of Newton have seen positive evidence of the pollution of Newton's water as it has come from the faucets in their homes.

Thomas W. White was the first candidate for Mayor to speak. He said in part:

"We have had in the past four years a part-time Mayor on a part-time salary doing a part-time job."

"At the present time the entire administration at City Hall is having an attack of hysteria. I advise it to be calm and stay on solid ground. It has had four years in which to make good and now asks for two years more in which to make good."

"It was currently stated five years ago by the present mayor that he did not consider the mayoralty of Newton a vocation."

"In a letter dated October 11, 1933, the State Board of Health calls the water supply of the City of Newton a menace although $400,000 has been spent recently for buildings, land, machinery, architects and engineering fees. This does not give the people drinkable water."

"Recently the city laborers have been put to work three weeks before election by the same mayor who laid them off in 1932. He is not fooling the people.

"The services of engineers and architects who are politically active were engaged before construction money was available and just before the election. This is not sound finance.

"I am making this statement—that in spite of the so-called 20¢ reduction in the tax rate, the debt of the city has been tremendously increased in four years, that the surplus account has practically disappeared; that the borrowing capacity is very low, and that the total valuation has fallen off although the individual tax bill may have risen; that Newton stands below Chelsea, Chicago, Everett, Somerville, North Adams and eleven other cities of this Commonwealth as of January 1, 1933, in regard to the ratio of net debt valuation. (See Massachusetts Public Document 79.) It now stands rated as 18 of the 33 cities in this respect, whereas in 1929 it stood tenth."

"I am asking the people to find out for themselves if for the first time in the history of the city a practical political coterie has been active in city affairs."

"I am asking why people never have had a complete story of the contract on the sewer under Mt. Ida costing more than $400,000. What were the terms of the contract? Was it awarded without competition? Was it on a cost-plus basis? Why?"

"Why were water rates slightly reduced just before election?"

"Why was the police station built on land at West Newton not owned by the city and the settlement made afterwards with private owners?"

"Why was the route of the West Roxbury parkway in Newton Centre changed, at what added cost and what are the future plans?"

"What became of the Boston and Worcester Street Railway contract in perpetuity for the lighting of the new

1100 Newton Men to Get C.W.A. Jobs

Newton Fares Well in Aid From Washington

Newton has made a good start on the C. W. A. program by placing at work the first of the week four hundred and seventy-five men on the following projects, which were approved by the C. W. A. board under the direction of Mr. Jos. W. Bartlett: Thompsonville Playground, Edmonds Park, Cold Spring Playground and the Auburndale Playground.

In order to carry out the wishes of the State Board that Newton place at work a total of eleven hundred persons, additional projects were presented and approved on Wednesday, November 29th. It is necessary that a large amount of material such as paint, lumber, rubber boots, etc., shall be purchased, before workers can be employed. It is expected that some of the projects will be under way by Monday, December 4th, and that before the end of next week Newton's quota of eleven hundred will be entirely taken care of. All of those who are to receive this work will be notified at their homes.

INFORMAL MUSICAL CLUB

Many of the Newton members of the Informal Musical Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Philip M. Tucker, 163 Dean rd., Brookline, on Monday. Mrs. Harold Scranton of West Newton sang "Care Selve," by Handel. Mrs. Douglas Williams, Jr., played the Bach sonata in G minor for violin alone, adding also to the program "Lotus Land," by Cyril Scott.

Entertainments of Local Interest

Highland Glee Club To Hold Annual Concert Dec. 12th

AD HIGHLAND GLEE CLUB
The first concert of the 1933-34 season of the Highland Glee Club will be held at the Weeks Junior High School on December 12th at 8:15.

A varied program of entertainment and unique interest will be given. It includes the thrilling "Battle Hymn of the Monks"; several negro spirituals; a stirring Russian ballad; a dramatic musical picture, "The Americans Come," the words graphically expressing the overwhelming gratitude of France in 1918; and another memory of the World War—"In Flanders Field."

Many other selections carefully chosen and rehearsed under Conductor D. Ralph MacLean assure an evening of rare pleasure.

Guest soloist the Club has selected Sarah Dobbs, talented soprano, who has recently delighted New York audiences.

The Club presents Elizabeth Travis-Behnke, pianist extraordinary, as guest artist for its Spring Concert in March 1934. In playing at a Boston Symphony Pop Concert this summer, she received one of the greatest ovations ever given in Symphony Hall.

Jewish Community Center Plans a Musical Comedy

Preparations for "Loose Change" the new musical comedy that is to be staged by the Newton Jewish Community Center are well under way. Selection of the cast, to be composed entirely of local thespians, has been progressing rapidly. The professional director of the Rogers Company has already taken charge of rehearsals and he will stage the finished performance. "Loose Change," from the story "Brewster's Millions," is a romantic, rollicking musical comedy. The performance is to be staged on Thursday evening, December 7th, at the Newton Centre Women's Club.

LEVI WARREN JR. H. S. FACULTY PLAY

Booth Tarkington's sparkling comedy, "The Intimate Strangers," will be presented by Levi Warren faculty in the assembly hall of the school Friday, Dec. 8, at eight-fifteen o'clock.

Those who enjoyed the delicate chivalry of "Monsieur Beaucaire," the adolescent absurdities of "Seventeen," and "The Country Cousin," will find Tarkington at his best in "The Intimate Strangers." It is not a comedy of juvenile experience, but youth enters into the plot in an intriguing contest with finished maturity.

The alumni, students, and friends of Levi Warren will welcome their acquaintances in the cast of characters which includes: Ralph Ackerman, Everett Converse, Esther Pepin, Evelyn Mooney, Francis Tower, Charles Regan, Jean Epstein, Priscilla Aurelio. The play has been ably coached by Mr. Penny.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The pupils of the All Newton Music School are working hard in preparation for a Christmas Concert which will be given on Friday evening, Dec. 15th, at the Newton High School. The combined ensembles of both branches of the school will have a final rehearsal on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 10th, at the Unitarian Church in West Newton. This full rehearsal will be conducted by Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Director of the Music School.

CHEVALIER FILM AT NEWTON THEATRE

Set against a background of the root-top dwellings, the small carnivals and musical halls of the left bank of Paris, Maurice Chevalier in his newest starring picture, for Paramount, "The Way to Love," is coming Sunday for four days to the Newton Paramount Theatre.

That part of Parisian life which offers Maurice the more simpler, more human, "down-to-earth" roles he so earnestly desires presents the singing French star as a guide for tourist agency. His job, showing the "beauties" of Paris, leads him into a romance with one beauty who isn't to be seen from the top of a sightseeing bus. Ann Dvorak has the role.

She has the job of target for a villainous knife thrower in a carnival act. Running away from her employer, she meets Chevalier, seeks refuge in his one-room flat overlooking the roofs of Paris. But their romance meets with difficulties when the knife thrower seeks them out, takes the girl back.

In the supporting cast, in addition to Miss Dvorak, appears Edward Everett Horton, who was the star's comedy foil in "A Bedtime Story." On the same program will be Bette Davis and Lewis Stone featured in "Bureau of Missing Persons."

For the last half of the week, William Powell and Mary Astor will be seen in "The Kennel Murder Case" and on the same program "My Woman," with Helen Twelvetrees, with the usual vaudeville on Saturday evening.

Church Group to Hold Pop Concert

Mrs. Herbert L. Stevens' group from the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church will give a Pop Concert in the Assembly Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 8, at eight o'clock. Music will be furnished by a trio consisting of Mrs. Margaret Lee, violinist; Mrs. Dorothy Eycleshymer, cellist; Miss Marion Mercer, pianist, and a male quartette consisting of John L. Elliott, first tenor; Alan J. MacQuarrie, second tenor; Walter H. Stevens, baritone; Dr. Joseph T. Paul, bass. Kenneth Messer will appear as a saxophone soloist and Robert Sisson as a banjo soloist, while Miss Jane Briggs will appear in costume as a soprano soloist.

Recital at West New. Girls' School

At the Misses Allen School for Girls in West Newton on Friday evening, Nov. 24th, a recital was given before a group of friends of Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, Headmistress of the school. The program included soprano solos by Mrs. Dorothy Fairbanks, Baeser of Newton; piano solos by Miss Elizabeth Siedoff of Boston; and violin solos by Mrs. Wilma Adams of Fisher Hill, Brookline.

Mrs. Baeser's taste in the singing of carefully selected songs is impeccable. A finely schooled voice of ample range, possessing much color and warmth, enables this singer to express understandably to the listener the meaning which her own artistic perception has seen in the song.

Miss Siedoff's faithful application to the keyboard, and her custom of coaching abroad annually, have kept her among the foremost women pianists. Miss Siedoff's audience was privileged to hear a splendid interpretation of the Prelude, Chorale and Fugue of Cesare Franck entirely from memory.

Mrs. Adams' expertly handled bow drew from a fine old violin tones of a quality rarely heard outside the great concert halls. Technic of a high order enabled her to use her fine instrument to great effect. Her work in rapid harmonics was also notable.

After the recital, a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed in the spacious dining room of the Allen mansion, one of the oldest in Newton.

NEWTON SHOW OF THE AIR

The twelfth of a series of broadcasts of the Newton Show of the Air, will be presented on Thursday evening, December 7th, from 7:15 to 9:00 p.m. over Station WLEY Lexington under the personal direction of Estelle G. Marsh.

Hortense Creede Railback, formerly a member of the faculty of Leeland Powers School, Boston, and now a distinctive and outstanding reader of current Broadway plays before women's clubs and charitable organizations will again be a feature of the program.

Edward E. Whiting, writer of Whiting's columns in the Herald, author of Contemporary Estimate of President Coolidge and Calvin Coolidge, his ideal of citizenship. He is a prominent lecturer on current events and political subjects.

The guest soloist will be Rowena Grace Moore prominent contralto. Mrs. Moore has been a soloist in Boston churches for many years, and is also fulfilling a number of engagements in various women's clubs this season. She will be accompanied at the piano by Florence Carter Allen, who is also very prominent in club and church work.

Mary Barr Snyder, pianist and Sylvia Church Petty, soprano, who are a part of the Studio Family return to the station with unusual offerings of solos. With the closing broadcast on Dec. 14th over one hundred Newton people will have given their services that Newton might have its hour over the air weekly.

A PLAY FOR CHILDREN

Boys admire Curdie, the brave miner's son, and girls adore the beautiful Princess Irene, in the play "Curdie, the Princess, and the Goblins." In one place in New Jersey at the end of the play all the children rose to their feet and shouted, "Three Cheers for Curdie."

A fairy tale written by George McDonald is the source of the second of the Six Plays for Children which Clara Tree Major is bringing to the Repertory Theater in Boston, Saturday, Dec. 9th, under the sponsorship of the Boston University Woman's Council.

In a wild and mountainous country, some little distance from the court of the King, her father, lives the Princess Irene, in the midst of great mountains were miners tunnel for gold. In the hidden depths of the mine live a strange and ugly race of Goblins who have taken to these subterranean passages after a quarrel with the King. When they learn that his daughter is living happily above them, they plot dire mischief. The strange adventures of the Princess, Curdie, the miner boy, her champion, will be unfolded before the eyes of the children.

There are two performances, morning and afternoon, Saturday, Dec. 9th, 10:30 a.m. and 2:15 p.m.

For this performance only there will be special student rates for any group of twenty or more children. Many English and grammar school teachers will wish to take advantage of this offer. Call Mrs. Harold Ruopp, Newton Centre, for information.

Among members of the committee working for the plays in the Newtons are: Mrs. LeRoy Miner, Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, Mrs. George Hinman, Mrs. Arthur Cobb and Mrs. Frank Barton.

RE-ELECT MAYOR WEEKS

For several months the political campaign for the Mayoralty of Newton has been in progress. Much has been said and written regarding the various abilities of the five candidates for that office, from among whom the voters of Newton will make their selection as to which shall guide the destinies of the city during the next two years. During the past month we have given a great deal of attention to the situation and have endeavored to strip the veil of politics from the campaign arguments of the candidates and reach a decision which is based upon facts. Four years ago there were a number of mayoralty candidates among whom we believed that our present Mayor, Sinclair Weeks, was the outstanding candidate. We believe that Mayor Weeks has given Newton a good administration during the past four years, a period which has been a most difficult one. The question before the voters of Newton at the coming city election is whether or not there is a candidate available who will give us a better administration and whether or not a change is advisable if there is a candidate available who can give us as good an administration.

It was this question which first impressed us a few months ago when it became known that Mayor Weeks would have opposition. Thus we concerned ourselves with the candidates who entered the field. What experience had they had that will fit them to serve a city of some 70,000 population and some 32,000 voters in an executive capacity. We are personally acquainted with four of the five mayoralty candidates at the coming election and have a friendly feeling for all. Of the five we believe that there are only two who have the experience and training in the many ways in which a chief executive of a city the size of Newton must be experienced and trained. These two are Mayor Weeks and Thomas W. White. The remaining three candidates are Ex-Alderman Walter A. Hodgdon, Paul Harris Drake and Frank G. Sullivan. None of these three have had the business experience or the administrative training, that in our opinion can compare with that of Mayor Weeks. Their campaign speeches are largely based on promises and not at all upon their abilities as executives or administrators.

Mayor Weeks Lists Nine Major Rallies

Make your plans to hear Mayor Sinclair Weeks recite the record of his administration which has given Newton the lowest tax rate and the soundest credit in Massachusetts.

PRINCIPAL RALLIES DURING THE FINAL WEEK OF THE CAMPAIGN ARE:

MONDAY, DEC. 4*—Community Club, Auburndale.

TUESDAY, DEC. 5—Weeks Jr. H. S. for Residents of Newton Highlands, Waban and Eliot.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 6—Newton High School, Newtonville.

THURSDAY, DEC. 7—Underwood School, Newton.

THURSDAY, DEC. 7—Emerson School, Newton Upper Falls.

FRIDAY, DEC. 8—Women's Club, Newton Centre.

FRIDAY, DEC. 8*—F. A. Day Jr. H. S., Newtonville. Auspices City Laborers' Union.

MONDAY, DEC. 11—Davis School, West Newton.

MONDAY, DEC. 11—Columbus Hall, Nonantum.

*These Rallies have not been arranged by the Weeks' Committee, but Mayor Weeks will attend and speak at them.

Vote For Weeks-Dec. 12
Make No Second Choice

Base Your Vote on the Record

Charles B. Floyd, 454 Wolcott St., Auburndale.

Thus our choice is confined to re-electing Mayor Weeks or electing his chief opponent, Thomas W. White. Mr. White has had wide experience in politics and in legislative and administrative affairs culminating in his appointment as Collector of Internal Revenue at Boston under President Coolidge. Undoubtedly he has qualifications that would make him a capable mayor of our city. With two capable candidates in the field, which should fill the office? Should we make a change and if so, why? This is the question to be faced.

Political talk throughout the city offers various answers. There are some who believe a change is desirable and would be for the best interests of the city. There are many who believe the opposite. We have studied as closely as possible the various reasons that are advanced as to why a change might be desirable. Some weeks ago we felt that we knew what our ultimate decision would be but have kept an open mind on the questions involved that we might see things in an unbiased light. Now that the campaign is in its closing stages and the issues that have been raised are known we believe that it is time to take a stand.

Mr. White has attacked the financial policy of Mayor Weeks, particularly as it pertains to an increased bonded indebtedness. The subject is one which requires considerable space to discuss. Suffice it to say at this time that Newton is in a sound financial condition. In a succeeding issue we will go into the subject more at length. Other issues raised have been regarding welfare work, "pure" water, and full-time service. We believe that the average voter of Newton is entitled to know the situation and these will be the subject of editorial comment next week.

We say at this time that the candidates opposing the re-election of Mayor Weeks have failed to make out a case for themselves and to offer any important reason why a change is desirable. Coming to this conclusion after a careful study of the situation we urge the voters to re-elect Mayor Weeks. His record is substantial. Nothing can be gained by a change. Much might be lost. He should have the unqualified support of the civic minded voters at the coming election.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

A prominent citizen of Newton has become one of Massachusetts' most prominent citizens during the past few weeks. Joseph W. Bartlett of 45 Ridge rd., Waban, chairman of the Civil Works Board for Massachusetts, has loomed large in all the newspapers of this State. Appointed by Governor Ely several months ago as Chairman of the Emergency Finance Commission, in charge of this State's allotments from the NRA, Mr. Bartlett and his fellow members on that commission were delegated by the Governor to assume the very important added duties entailed by the latest relief move of President Roosevelt.

"Joe" Bartlett, as he is known by his friends, possesses tremendous energy and has been engaged for years in activities that would wear out several ordinary men. Besides being a member of the law firm of Bartlett, Jennings & Smith of Boston, with a large private practice, he is City Solicitor of Newton and president of the Douglas Shoe Company of Brockton. He was born in Boston, 57 years ago, the son of General Charles W. Bartlett and Mary (Morrison) Bartlett. He graduated from Dartmouth in 1898 and from Harvard Law School in 1901. He moved to Waban about 25 years ago. Mr. Bartlett can be real stern when necessary, but smiles easily and is a man's man. He served overseas during the World War and attained the rank of major. A life-long Democrat with thousands of Republican friends, it is not beyond the realm of probabilities, that if his friend, Governor Ely, persists in his determination not to run for reelection, that "Joe" Bartlett may be persuaded to head the Democratic ticket in Massachusetts next year.

Two elderly residents of Newton were killed by automobiles in this city within the past ten days and both died during the past week. Each was hit while walking across a street. So far this year 11 persons have been killed in automobile accidents in this city.

The drivers of the cars involved were not to blame for all these fatal accidents. But, with the fast automobiles in use today, there is a temptation to operate at speeds which do not give proper consideration for the safety of pedestrians; particularly for the safety of aged persons whose agility of mind and body has slowed down; or for the safety of children who do not exercise the caution expected of adults.

Traffic officers operating motorcycles do not prevent automobile accidents, but they certainly lessen the number. The Newton police departments formerly had 8 of its members operating motorcycles on traffic duty, except during the winter months. The past two years only two policemen have been operating motorcycles in this city despite the fact that two additional high speed thoroughfares have been built in the city. Isn't it about time that proper traffic protection be given to residents of Newton? Or are the lives of Newton residents of less import than the saving of several thousand dollars which patrolling of our streets by motorcycles' officers would cost?

The writer is opposed politically to Mayor Weeks. This fact has been well known for the past three years. Personally, we like Sinclair Weeks. He has an attractive personality. We have respected him since he courageously went overseas with the 26th Division into the war that truly was (as Sherman said) "hell." We respect Mr. Weeks for his intolerance of religious and racial prejudice; for his willingness to sacrifice his time in their present stand.

The writer served two years with Mr. Weeks in the Newton Board of Aldermen and enjoyed friendly relations. Although we were one of the four members of the 1929 Board of Aldermen who did not sign Mr. Weeks' mayoralty nomination papers, it was not because we were unfriendly to him politically at that time, but, because our old friend and neighbor, William E. Earle, was also a candidate. We remained neutral.

When Mr. Weeks was elected mayor it was our honest desire to thoroughly approval has already been made for use in women's work in various cities and towns. At present the number of jobs for women is very small, but it is hoped that it will increase. Under the plan now formed, half the women to profit by the Civil Works program money will be taken from the Welfare Department list; the other half from unemployed, needy women with dependents. Mrs. Williams will be at the employment office at City Hall.

co-operate with him. For many months after he assumed this office we told anyone who asked us, we believed he was earnestly endeavoring to give the city a good administration. But, when we observed Mr. Weeks deferring to persons who combined activities in Newton's politics with selfish interests, when we saw a practical political machine being built up in this city, we became politically at variance with the present mayor.

On the large signs which were placed outside the campaign headquarters of the mayor at Newton is a statement that his has been a "non-political" administration. In our belief this is not true. If necessary, we can go into details to show why we do not agree with this statement. We have attended every regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen (except two) for the past eleven years. We were a member of the Board for four years. We know considerable of what has been going on, in the open, and behind the scenes.

Many of the names on the long lists printed of those who endorse Mayor Weeks for re-election prove that his administration has been conducted on the line of practical politics.

If the Weeks administration has not been on a practical politics basis, why has he sought to thoroughly dominate the Board of Aldermen? Why have he and his close political advisors endeavored to defeat for re-election the few members of the Board who had sufficient courage to disagree with the administration in some matters? Do you believe that it is for the best interest of Newton to have all twenty-one members of the Board of Aldermen subservient to the Mayor, or is it desirable to have an honest (if, in the mind of the administration) mistaken minority to provide a check?

We, personally (not the Graphic) favor the election of Thomas W. White as Mayor. We believe that Mr. White has the experience and ability to competently serve this city as its chief executive. He has the time to be on the job without delegating much of his duties to others. Although he is being labelled as unsympathetic towards the working man, we have sufficient knowledge of him to know that this is not so. Mr. White was a poor boy and through ability and perseverance attained his prominence in the life of Newton and Massachusetts. He knows human nature. He will not be unduly influenced by self-interest. He has always manifested a loyalty to Newton and can be depended upon to defend its future.

We believe he will give the city an economical, efficient administration and at the same time be liberal in his treatment of city employees and humane to those victims of the depression who are dependent on aid from the city.

It is a God given privilege to have the right to change one's opinion. But, when we read of the names of who now endorse Mayor Weeks, when we remember the criticisms they have made during the past several years, when we recall their conversations with us and their commendation of the stand we took on certain matters, we wonder just how they can reconcile their past attitudes with their present stand.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICE

It is customary on Thanksgiving Day for Christian Science churches and societies throughout the United States to hold a service appropriate to the occasion, at which time a Lesson-Sermon especially prepared at the headquarters of the Church in Boston is read.

In accordance with this custom, First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton held its service yesterday. The service opened with the singing by the congregation of Hymn 322 from the revised Christian Science Hymnal, "Sweet hour of holy, thoughtful prayer, Thy peace and calm may we improve." This was followed by the reading of the Thanksgiving Proclamation written by the President of the United States, appropriate scriptural selections, and a solo, "Blessings," by Stainer. "Let us in silence remember our blessings, giving the glory to infinite Love."

The Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon on "Thanksgiving" was as follows: "All things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God" (11 Corinthians 4:15).

One of the Scriptural passages contained in the Lesson-Sermon was from the one hundredth Psalm: "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. . . Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name." The readings from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following citation: "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love and good deeds. To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done" (p. 4).

Towards the close of the service a brief opportunity was given to those of the congregation who wished to express gratitude for healings received through Christian Science.

The service closed with the benediction from Psalms 117: 1-2, which read: "O praise the Lord, all ye nations; praise him, all ye people. For his merciful kindness is great toward us; and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise ye the Lord."

Many of the names on the long lists printed of those who endorse Mayor Weeks for re-election prove that his administration has been conducted on the line of practical politics. If the Weeks administration has not been on a practical politics basis, why has he sought to thoroughly dominate the Board of Aldermen? Why have he and his close political advisors endeavored to defeat for re-election the few members of the Board who had sufficient courage to disagree with the administration in some matters? August 1, 1933

My dear Tom:
I should feel I was lacking in public spirit and in appreciation of a fine public service, if I didn't embrace the opportunity to congratulate you on the excellent manner in which you have administered the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, located in Boston.

As Governor, I have said of you in the past, that I always felt you knew more about the government of Massachusetts than any man living and, furthermore, you have always been willing and it has been your disposition to give those who desired it the benefit of your counsel and advice.

I want to offer you my congratulations and best wishes and I hope it won't be long before the public will have the benefit of your talents and ability in some equally important position.

GEORGE W. AURYANSEN

Woman Hit By Car
Fatally Injured

The sudden death of George W. Auryansen on November 24, brought to a peaceful close a long life of great usefulness and kindly service to community, church, and a host of friends. Born April 22, 1864, in Piermont, New York, son of Cornelius and Jane (Allen) Auryansen, he took up his residence in Newton in 1881. He entered the service of the American Trust Company as a bookkeeper, later becoming an assistant secretary. For nearly fifty years, he served that company with faithfulness and efficiency, continuing with The First National Bank of Boston upon the merger of the two institutions. At the time of his death he was an auditor in the Trust and Transfer Department of The First National Bank.

Social by nature, hospitable, and fond of travel, he made friends easily and many delightful contacts in travel came as a result. Always on the lookout to see if he might be of service to some one else in a quiet, unostentatious way, he will be held in grateful remembrance by scores who received help and encouragement at his hands. In numerous ways he was active and helpful in community and church affairs. He served as deacon, treasurer, teacher in the Sunday School, as a member of the choir, and on the prudential committee in the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. He acted as clerk and auditor of the Newton Cemetery Corporation for several years, was president of the Newtonville Improvement Association for one or two years, and actively interested in all its civic enterprises.

A former pastor telephoned, "He was the truest and best of friends, a helper of the needy, kind to all, loyal to duty, to church, to family and to God, truehearted, generous and faithful to the uttermost." A letter from a friend says, "There stays with me the impression of a most unselfish man who was always ready to give of himself as well as of his means to make burdens lighter, gloomy days brighter, and the outlook more hopeful for all whose lives he touched."

The funeral service was held on Monday, November 27, Rev. Arthur M. Ellis and Rev. Randolph S. Merrill officiating. A very large number of friends were present to share in this simple and tender service in grateful memory of a beloved and honored citizen. The honorary bearers were Charles H. Bowen, Ernest L. Nichols, Frank W. Chase, Wallace C. Boyden, Rev. William E. Gilroy, D.D., and Frank G. Willson.

Mr. Auryansen is survived by his wife, Lucia Trevitt, and by two brothers, Albert W. Auryansen of Newtonville and Frederick Auryansen of Fort Lee, New Jersey. The interment was at Mount Vernon Cemetery, New Hampshire, just as the sun went down in glory behind the purple hills he had loved so much.

MRS. MARY F. HILL

Mrs. Mary F. Hill of 175 Hicks st., West Newton, wife of Moses Hill, died on November 23. She was born 45 years ago at Newbern, North Carolina and had lived in Newton for 40 years. She is survived by her husband; her father, James Spikes; and two brothers, Winthrop and Eugene Spikes, all of West Newton. Her funeral service was held last Saturday at Myrtle Baptist Church, West Newton; Rev. Lewis Ford officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

MRS. ALICE L. JOHNSON

Mrs. Alice Libby Johnson of 148 Harvard st., Newtonville, wife of Charles E. Johnson, city editor of the Boston Herald, died on Tuesday morning at Newton Hospital, following childbirth. She was born at Vinalhaven, Maine 33 years ago and graduated from the University of Maine in 1925. She is survived by her husband; three daughters; her mother, Mrs. Lillian Libby of Newtonville; and two brothers, Everett Libby of Westwood. Her funeral service will be held this afternoon in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. Rev. Randolph Merrill will officiate.

It was declared that the beer tavern was the old saloon, and that Massachusetts tried the beer saloon in the years 1870-73; that the Police Commissioner of Chelsea, writing at that time said, "Every beer shop is a rum shop." It was asserted that every beer shop now would be a hard liquor shop under cover; and that the tavern where men and women sit and drink together is more dangerous to morality and sobriety than the barroom where men alone went and stood while they drank.

Also that the speakeasy, down a back alley where you must be introduced is less a menace than the barroom, both because it is not as accessible as the open-door of a saloon, and because it can be instantly raided if the town so desires, whereas the tavern, bar-room and dispensaries cannot be touched until the next election.

How to educate and publicity were the subjects considered, also the other points for which they would work: Total abstinence against Moderation; No-license committees in every town pledged to work against licensing of all liquor; passage of a federal law giving adequate protection to Dry states; a Federal law forbidding liquor advertising over the radio; and election of Drys where otherwise qualified.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Today we reconstruct the gastronomic events of yesterday, but only in imagination because there's a limit to everything.

The Pause for Thanks

While hanging around for the call to dinner yesterday, which was about the only thing there was to do, the idea popped into my head that after all one who is not distressed over the stabilization of the currency should naturally express his thanks in emphatic terms on Thanksgiving Day. It was also a satisfaction to know that there is no danger that I shall be accused of hoarding gold, or even suspected of its possession. Gratitude also welled from my heart at the thought that I was not a candidate for political office. Thoughts of those with money and political preference on their minds aroused my sympathy and I said to myself, "You're lucky, although you don't appreciate it." It takes a festival like Thanksgiving to make us think and I even got as far as congratulating myself that I was not a football player and could sit down with a reasonable degree of comfort with no marks or bruises either visible or invisible. I think I would have quite a list of blessings noted on the tablets of my memory had I not been summoned to partake of the holiday spread. That was before I followed the custom of the human race and postponed further contemplation of the abundance of good things until next Thanksgiving Day.

The detailed development of this plan is in the competent hands of our newly appointed director of guidance and research working with a representative committee of teachers. Parents will be informed at least semi-annually by letter of the progress of their children. More frequent contacts and conferences will be arranged whenever necessary or desirable. The child's success or difficulty will be his secret, shared only with his teacher and his parents. Under the new plan there will be no lowering of standards. Each child will be challenged constantly to work to the limit of his ability and capacity. "Getting by" will cease to be a worthy goal. "Making the most of oneself" is the new challenge. We believe that better teaching and more vital meaningful learning is the ultimate and inevitable outcome of such a process.

The first time I rode into the village it was on a stage—the buckboard kind. Drawn by a pair of stout horses we had come nine miles over the Wachusett foothills from the railroad station in the next town. The driver, George, they called him, met me as I stepped from the train. He took my grip and tossed it among a pile of empty milk cans, wooden boxes, burlap bags and other things we see little of nowadays.

"You'll about fit in the front seat with me," he chuckled, and with his mighty arms lifted me to the royal place where my skinny legs dangled high above the dash-board but from which I could see everything.

George wanted to know all about me. My name, folks I was related to, where I was going to stay, how long, what I expected to do and if I liked raspberry pie. This latter point is chief among my recollections for when we pulled alongside a brook to water the horses, George produced a big chunk of the sweetest and juiciest raspberry pie ever baked. "You eat that, sonny," he commanded, gently.

I made a feeble remonstrance about not wanting to take his lunch. He merely laughed and said if I couldn't manage to stow it away he didn't know what he would do with it as he had had more than was good for any man. I envied him and resolved that when I grew up I should marry a good cook like George's wife.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a tulip veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Leslie G. Swain of Boston. Mr. Morton Lewis, cousin of the groom, was the best man.

A reception was held from eighty-three to ten. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. The home was attractively decorated with pine boughs and chrysanthemums.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York and Niagara, Mr. and Mrs. Gips will reside in Framingham where they will be at home after December 5.

glad to tell them where this delightful reading may be obtained. For myself I am content to agree with the author, "Intoxicating Liquor and its Abuse, from the earliest days, constituted an exceedingly grave problem, as is shown by the Colonial records. From that period to the present, no subject, in fact, has required such constant attention from lawmaking bodies." To this I would add, "And the end is not in sight."

Recent Weddings

HAVENER—PIKE

Miss Edith Wingate Pike, of 749 Centre st., Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Pike of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, was married to Francis Morse Havener, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Havener of 19 Whitford terrace, Waltham, on Saturday evening, Nov. 25th, at 8 o'clock in the chapel of the Channing Church, Newton. Rev. Chester A. Drummond performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, princess style, her veil of tulle being combined with rich old lace, a family heirloom, falling from a lace bandaged cap with a bandeau of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of blue roses and white sweet peas. Miss Harriet Murray of Newton, the bride's attendant, wore a gown of poudre blue silk and carried an arm bouquet of bramble roses.

The groom was attended by his twin brother, Frederick L. Havener. The ushers were Philip and Newell Havener and Louis Henry of Waltham, and Clyde Hicks of Newton.

Miss Eleanor H. Taylor of Waltham played the wedding music.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony at which the couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. Among the guests present was Mrs. Louise M. Chase, 84 year old grandmother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Havener left for New York where on Sunday night they were the guests of Mr. Havener's cousin, Miss Alice G. Chase, at the University Club, New York City, where at a dinner they met relatives from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Pike will reside at 354 Newton st., Waltham. The bride is a graduate of Dean Academy and Vesper George School of Art. Mr. Havener is a graduate of the Newton High School.

Mrs. Havener has resided for the past five years with her aunts, Miss Mary Shannon Wingate and Mrs. Elizabeth Wingate Mack at 749 Centre st., Newton.

GIPPS—HANSOM

Miss Elizabeth Hanscom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanscom, was married to Sherwood J. Gipps of 33 Summit street, Framingham, on Sunday evening, November 26th, at the home of her parents, 24 Turner st., Newtonville. Rev. Lawrence W. C. Eisig performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a tulip veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Leslie G. Swain of Boston. Mr. Morton Lewis, cousin of the groom, was the best man.

A reception was held from eight-thirty to ten. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. The home was attractively decorated with pine boughs and chrysanthemums.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York and Niagara, Mr. and Mrs. Gipps will reside in Framingham where they will be at home after December 5.

partment of Home Economics at the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, demonstrated various ways of preparing attractive dishes, salads, desserts, cookies, and others. Miss Feeney also illustrated graphically, by means of the ingenious "wooden stick" method, the caloric value, vitamin content, and mineral content of many different kinds of foods. The modern all-gas kitchen, located in one corner of the auditorium in which the meeting was held, was a model of efficiency and simplicity.

There were thirty-six members of the American Home Class present at this meeting, which was held in the large hall in the Boston Consolidated Gas Building at Newton Corner.

Amidst campaign speeches, stickers, posters, party rallies, and street parades, the Ninth Grade held its annual fall election during the week of November 16-18. Three parties entered candidates and loudly proclaimed their platforms in the race for class offices.

On Wednesday, November 22, Mrs.
Gertrude S. Hasbrouck spoke to an audience of mothers and teachers in the auditorium. Mrs. Hasbrouck's subject was "Problems of Adolescence." More than 150 members of the John W. Weeks Parent-Teacher Association attended the meeting to hear the speaker discuss this problem which is so pertinent to the parents of boys and girls of the junior high school age.

In the final election of November 20, the voters of the Ninth Grade showed great independence of thought by splitting their tickets and electing a variety of officers. The winners were:
president, Robert Bishop; vice-president, Joseph Lockett; secretary, Eldora Kirton; treasurer, John Bishop.

Rosamond Joyzelle, of New York
City, the foremost Dramatic Scripture Reader in America, will give a program at the Newton Methodist Episopal Church, corner of Centre and Wesley sts., Rev. Harry Belmont Hill, Minister, this coming Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Joyzelle has received the highest endorsement from leading ministers of the country. Dr.
Cadam says: Rosamond Joyzelle has appeared before my people at Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn, to their delight and edification. She is an artist of unusual and impressive dramatic power. In her presentation she excels for realism, reverence and arresting persuasiveness. She has revived the art lost by the church. Dr.
Harry Emerson Fosdick said: "I should not have supposed that a stranger coming to New York could have achieved, in such a realm as the dramatization of the Bible, the success that is coming to Rosamond Joyzelle."

She has given programs in leading churches from coast to coast. Miss Joyzelle, a creative artist and producer of original drama based on Bible themes in which she herself interprets all characters in costume, makes the Bible live. Her method of presentation is that of clear-cut dramatic action with a variety of costumes and multitude of varicolored drapes and veils of exquisite texture, changing swiftly from one character to another as she is interpreting the different roles, gaining effects through the medium of her composite art which embraces spoken drama, pantomime, color, light, reproduction

Her theme for Sunday night will be "The Miracles of the Master." During

Lincoln Park Church To End Anniversary Tuesday

Ex-Mayor Childs, Dr. Anderson and Others To Address The Meeting

It may be just "Election Day" for most folks but for the friends of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church in West Newton, it will be Tuesday, Dec. 12th, the 80th Anniversary of the organizing of the church now known as "The Home of Friendly Cheer". Following the Anniversary Supper on Dec. 6th and the Old Time Prayer Meeting, the main body of the celebration will come this Sunday morning and evening with the climax Tuesday evening.

At 10:45 o'clock Sunday the pastor, Rev. John Shad Franklin, will preach the anniversary sermon, "More to Come." Mrs. Clifford W. Gammons of Schenectady, N. Y., will speak on behalf of the graduates of Lincoln Park among whom are Dean Albert E. Bailey of Butler University, Indiana and Dr. Waldo G. Leland, Secretary.

The Lincoln Park Choirs numbering fifty voices in all will bring a program of secular and sacred music. The Senior Christian Endeavor Society and the Service Club will attend in a body.

Fifty years ago, in the first year of the Rev. O. D. Kimball's pastorate of Mabel F. Robinson was baptized at Lincoln Park Church. Sunday she returned with her sister, Jennie, and her friend, Nellie May Sanger. The Robinsons now live in Waltham and Miss Sanger, whose father, David C. Sanger, was the first clerk of this church and builder of the original edifice, lives at Readville, Mass.

For music the Vested Choirs will sing "Baines' All Ye Nations," Miss Lillian Chandler, soprano, will sing the offertory solo.

At the West Newton Community Evening Services, 7:45 o'clock, the historical address by Dr. Henry K. Rowe, church historian and professor of Church History at the Andover-West Newton Theological Institution will be featured. A rich program of music includes the regular congregational and choir singing, an instrumental trio with Miss Dale Palmer, violinist, Miss Marjorie Dow, violinist, and Miss Gladys Cornish, cellist and Paul Bennett soloist.

The concluding observance will be held on Tuesday, December 12th, the actual 80th anniversary of the evening meeting at which the little group of sixteen Baptists voted to organize themselves as the First Baptist Church of Newtonville. Hon. Edwin O. Childs, former Mayor of Newton, and the Rev. Frederick L. Anderson, D.D., of An-

White Assails Mayor Weeks' Administration

Ex-Mayor Childs Active in White's Support

Thomas W. White at various rallies the past week severely criticised Mayor Weeks' administration. He referred to the Mayor's control of nearly all the members of the Board of Aldermen, the secret sessions held by this body, and the resultant lack of knowledge by the people of Newton of facts they should know.

White scored the spending of $700,000 for the ornate Weeks junior high school at Newton Centre, when a good, utilitarian school could have been built for half this cost. He said "this is not the time to build monuments." He attacked Weeks for resorting to the pledge card campaign months before the election, thus seeking to unduly influence and coerce voters and nullify the Australian ballot principle.

Referring to the welfare problem in Newton, White said that the maximum number of cases, including Soldiers' Relief, was under 1000; that Newton is far less burdened, proportionately, than any other city in the State, and that 30 per cent of the cost of meeting welfare aid is contributed by the Federal Government.

The total cost of Welfare in the city for this year ($200,000) is little, as compared with other places. Mr. White said that it amounts to only 90 cents of the tax rate. He severely criticised the commissary method of welfare as inhuman and contrary to the desire of the Federal Welfare executives. It has been restored to us by a few places in Massachusetts.

White asserted that instead of being an enemy of the laboring class, as he has been painted, he is a real friend of the workers. He said he has been twice endorsed by the Federation of State, City and Town Employees, as well as by other labor organizations and unions. He stated that anyone who claims he ever said that $2 per day is enough for a working man is a liar. He promised to restore the wage cut to city employees if he becomes Mayor, at the first possible opportunity. He referred to the many endorsers of Weeks who are on the city payroll, or who have been receiving favors from the Weeks administration.

At the White rally in Stearns School last night a Weeks worker, without having a permit to do so, entered the building and distributed circulars attacking White's alleged labor record.

Referring to this circular, White denounced some of the charges in it as utter falsehoods, and he explained why he had voted against other labor measures a score of years ago when conditions at that time justified such action. He said none of the votes he made on these matters took one cent from the workers pay. He referred to the motives impelling some of the signers of this circular, and said that the father of one of these signers had apologized to him for his son's action, and had assured him that he would receive the votes of five other members of this signer's family.

Mr. Laura Felton, nee Laura B. Woodworth is now living in Boston.

Frank A. Jackson, now a member of Beth Eden Church, Waltham, lives at 445 Crafts st., West Newton.

Samuel Leland is active in the great Immanuel Baptist Church, Chicago, where he has served as deacon.

Mrs. Martha J. Cole, nee Martha J. Estes now lives at 70 Elm st., West Newton.

Mrs. Edith Potter, nee Edith Tuttle, is now living in Chicago. She is a daughter of Charter Member, Charles F. Tuttle, Sr.

Herbert A. Pike, son of Charter Member, Nathan C. Pike, now lives in Boston.

Mrs. George H. Wiswall, nee Fannie Carr, is living in Watertown and a member of the First Baptist Church there.

Caroline Van Buskirk the longest time member of Lincoln Park, although living at Pugnash, Nova Scotia, for many years. Her continuous membership here is nearly fifty-five years.

Mrs. Ellen M. Leland, nee Ellen Gifford, Wife of Luther E. Leland and second longest time member of Lincoln Park. Her continuous membership of fifty-three years has been marked by phenomenal service in the Church School and other departments of the church. She is still a faithful attendant at both Sunday and mid-week meetings.

George S. Sherman is now living in Dorchester.

Newton to Vote On License, Not on Tavern Question

Question on Ballot Regarding Sale of Liquor in Newton

A few days ago it was rumored that at the city election next Tuesday the voters would be called upon to ballot upon the question of licensing "taverns" in Newton. There is no foundation to the rumor. There will be however, the question of licensing the sale of alcoholic beverages, wines and malt beverages upon the ballot.

This question is divided into three separate questions. The first is as to whether or not the sale of all alcoholic beverages shall be permitted in Newton. In the event the vote is in favor of license on this question the local licensing commission will be compelled, by state law, to withhold twenty-five per cent of the quota of permits to be issued for the consumption of such beverages on the premises, until the question of whether or not "taverns" shall be legalized in the city.

The second question is whether or not the sale of wines and malt beverages shall be permitted in Newton. In the event that the voters express preference for this form of license the same situation will prevail in regard to the taverns. When the tavern question is later decided the taverns would then be permitted to sell only wines and malt beverages.

There are also on the ballot instructions regarding how to mark the ballot on these questions in order to obtain a full expression of opinion.

If a voter desires to permit the sale of any and all beverages he should vote "Yes" on both questions. If he desires to permit only the sale of wines and malt beverages he should vote "Yes" on the first question and "No" on the second. If he desires to prohibit the sale of any alcoholic beverages in Newton he should vote "No" on both questions. There is no question on the ballot which divides the matter into whether or not the sale of such beverages is to be sold in packages only or to be consumed on the premises also. In the event Newton votes for license the vote will be for both forms of licenses.

Egypt Discussed At Central Church

Miss Eahaahmed Matwalli of Cairo, Egypt, gave a very interesting talk at the meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church, Newtonville, on Monday, Dec. 6. Miss Matwalli is the first Egyptian girl to come to America to study. She is taking special courses at Harvard and at Perkins Institute to prepare her for social work among the many blind of Egypt. Her hope is to educate the people in the prevention of blindness, most of which is due to unsanitary conditions. Miss Matwalli said her ancestors were pure Egyptians for seven generations. She was given a good education in an Egyptian college, and is eager to help her country women in their struggle for freedom.

Mrs. C. A. Wentworth and Mrs. T. O. Bjornson and their committees who were in charge of the luncheon, had decorated the tables in Christmas colors. Mrs. Merrill led the singing of Christmas carols, and Mrs. E. K. Titus, the devotional service.

Mrs. W. E. Strong presented the needs of the Seaman's Friend Society, and hung up a huge red stocking into which contributions were put to furnish Christmas cheer for the sailors. A short business session was conducted by the President, Mrs. A. H. Decker.

Tuberculosis League Urges Purchase of Christmas Seals

Seventy-five unemployed persons of this city, mostly women, had a very brief term as "school teachers" in Newton on Monday. They were among the many who reported to the employment office at city hall conducted in conjunction with the C. W. A. program. They were instructed to report to the Newton school department to be assigned to various schools as kindergartens assistants, science teachers, building assistants and physical instructors. Some of those told to report for such duties never had experience or any training for such work. Before any of the temporary teachers got started on their new duties, an order came from Washington cancelling this type of activity under the C. W. A. in Newton. Similar orders were sent to other cities, including Boston, where 1000 persons had been told to report at schools for teaching and other duties.

Christians Seals are shipped to Porto Rico, South America, Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines and even to England where this year a city-wide sale will be held in London for the first time.

The health and relief which those little stickers bring to humanity is beyond estimation.

Mayoralty Campaign Gets Hot; Rival Forces In Bitter Struggle

Closing Days See Increased Tension and Activities by All Candidates
For Mayoralty, Board of Aldermen and School Committee

The most hectic political campaign in the history of Newton is entering its final stage with increased tension and bitterness. Four of the five mayoralty candidates, Drake, Hodgdon, Weeks and White, have been taxing their physical endurance attending rallies, making speeches and pressing their campaign by personal contact with voters. The fifth candidate, Sullivan, has also been attending some of the rallies. He openly states that he knows he has no chance of election, but is getting considerable amusement poking witticisms at the other candidates, and he is providing laughs for his auditors with his Irish wit.

Drake, a former clergyman, and a student of sociology, has been expounding quite radical views. Although he asserts in his campaign literature that he has been a life-long Democrat, his political doctrines are more radical than even liberal Democrats usually expound, and show the results of Mr. Drake's socialist affiliations in his younger years. His views, while coinciding in some respects with the trend of things in economic matters nationally, will not be shared by any appreciable percentage of Newton voters in this municipal contest.

Hodgdon, a serious minded man, has been waging his fight largely on a partisan basis. Because of his intelligence, there has been a wonderment as to how he can believe, he has a real chance of winning the fight. He has been closely in touch with Newton politics in late years, and knows how many of Newton's citizens who support the Democratic party in State and National elections are supporting either Weeks or White. He has knowledge of the way in which alleged Democrats, even members of the then Democratic Ward and City Committee, deserted the candidate of this party in the hotly contested city election about 30 years ago. He will realize next Tuesday night that Democrats in Newton were not loyal a generation ago when the election was conducted on a partisan basis.

Weeks discussed the welfare and labor policies of his administration at rallies last night in the Underwood School, Newton and at the Emerson School, Newton Upper Falls. "It has been our aim since 1930," said Mayor Weeks, "to carry on our welfare activities on the most humane basis. To provide a maximum amount of assistance for the victims of the depression, we determined that every dollar should be honestly and properly spent. We also made up our minds that our first aim would be to provide adequate food, clothing and shelter for women and little children, who have suffered the most. Therefore, when the cash system began to show defects we installed a modified commissary system, which accomplished that purpose. I am aware that some few of the men who formerly received cash grants, which did not always go to relieve conditions in the home, are criticizing the commissary system and that some of my opponents are attempting to capitalize on this criticism. But we have the satisfaction of knowing that well over 80 per cent of the recipients of welfare funds, particularly the women, endorse the methods we have adopted. Newton has had no public welfare scandals, and will not have any.

"In order to provide relief for the home owners of Newton, I advocated and with the support of the aldermen carried through a flat reduction of 7½ per cent in all municipal salaries. We did this believing that the city employees, most of them protected by civil service and therefore secure in their jobs, should make some contribution to the relief of distress. In my opinion this was a more honest and more satisfactory method than the compulsory contributions to welfare and other funds enforced in other cities. These compulsory contributions in the aggregate amount to a great deal more than the Newton reduction. Some city employees have been resentful, but I believe that if they are fair they will admit that they have suffered far less than the great bulk of our citizens. I am not哩eading the prophecy that if better times do come and the need for heavy expenditures for welfare activities is less acute, the employees in other cities will be relieved of the duty of making compulsory contributions."

Recital of the record of his four-year business administration in which he covered every phase of municipal management, featured rally addresses by Mayor Sinclair Weeks during the present week. The Mayor, seeking reelection for another term held strictly to his own campaign and did not, like some of his opponents, resort to criticism of any candidate.

"Taxes and Credit" was the subject of his Monday night addresses; "Water" was his topic on Tuesday and since then he has successively explained his position and accounted for his actions on "Municipal Improvements and Aldermanic Co-operation," "Zoning the City" and "Welfare and Labor."

The Weeks Campaign, moreover, sways into full stride with street banners hung across thoroughfares in various parts of the city and in organization of its great force of volunteer workers for duty on Election Day.

Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale, manager of the Weeks Campaign, declared:

"None of the four opponents of Mayor Sinclair Weeks has brought forth a real issue against the present administration. Verbal reports of committee members and letters from citizens of every village which have virtually poured into headquarters during the past week, clearly indicate that the residents of Newton are overwhelmingly satisfied with our Mayor and proud of the city they live in where taxes are lowest of any city in Massachusetts, financial standing the best, all departments functioning normally despite the worst depression in history and Welfare and Soldiers' Relief administration—now ten times greater than when Mr. Weeks took office—acknowledged to be efficiently operated and, from the standpoint of unfortunate citizens, the most generous in the Commonwealth."

Men and women who are proud of Newton and its standing among all the communities of Greater Boston and New England will, I am sure, reward the remarkable service Sinclair Weeks has freely given to them by giving him an overwhelming re-election on next Tuesday, December 12."

Spain Eligible for Hockey

Prospects for a strong Dartmouth hockey team this winter are bright. Newton will play a prominent part in the coming season from personal indications. The new head coach, Herbert Gill, finds a complete veteran team on hand with several letter men in reserve as spares. The forward line has Wilbur Powers of Newton Centre as one of its key veterans. Powers has been resting up from the football season in which he figured quite prominently. Bob Bennett of Newtonville, also a member of the varsity football squad, is one of the regular defense players available. But about the best news of all is the return of Frank Spain to eligibility after a year's absence. The former Newton and Exeter Academy star athlete has had a broken college career and last winter and spring remained out of college. Returning last fall he is now ready to go. Conceded to one of the finest wingmen in college hockey, Spain will bolster the Green's attack tremendously. From a local standpoint the Dartmouth team is the one to be watched this winter.

Newton League Bowling

In the Newton league bowling matches on Wednesday night, Hunnewell and Magnus shut out their respective opponents, West Newton and Weston, by taking all four points each while University topped Winsor three to one. Frank Dennison led the Hunnewell Club team with scores of 100, 109, 113 followed by Loring with 83, 105, 120. Dickinson, White and Goff completed the team. Chase, Fuller, Blunt, Esson and Cooper bowled for West Newton with Chase hitting 120 on his first string for the high mark of the quintet.

Hoover Plans Cup Race

There is a strong probability that the Yankee, one of four yachts which figured in the trials for the defence of the America Cup in 1930, may again race in the trials next summer. A syndicate plans to alter the yacht to conform to the new conditions. It is understood that Chandler Hoovey of Chestnut Hill and Marblehead, one of the original owners of the sloop, is one of the group in the syndicate.

Place in Medford Horse Show

Allan J. Wilson and Helen and William Danforth figured in several of the events at a Horse Show at Medford last Saturday. Allan J. Wilson, riding Running Wild, was the only rider to clear the carriers in the touch-and-out class. His Kay Francis took second in the same event. Little Helen Danforth won the blue ribbon in the riding competition for children under 12 years. She nearly placed also in the touch-and-out class. William Danforth, Jr., placed second in the hunting seat competition. Allan Wilson also took second place in the open jumping horse or pony event.

Schipper on Wildcat Squad

Fred Schipper of Newtonville, a sophomore at New Hampshire University, is one of the outstanding new candidates for the Wildcat varsity hockey team. He will undoubtedly see service at centre on the team this winter.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTSALL-SCHOLASTIC TEAMS ARE NAMED

Although Newton High finished a successful season on Thanksgiving Day with seven victories in ten starts the players received little recognition on the mythical All-scholastic teams selected by various sportswriters. Captain Charley Thompson earned a utility line berth on the Boston Traveler team and the Newton leader along with such other players as Charlie Flagg, Jimmy Bryne, Francis Joyce, Melvin Swig, received mention by one or more newspapers.

The outstanding fact which must be considered in naming all-scholastic teams is the individual play of each player. Newton's strength as a team was greatly due to its balance. There was little star play by this player or that but together the orange and black came from a mediocre mid-season outfit down the home stretch in a blaze of glory. That Newton had balance and not individual brilliance is further testified to in the fact that the annual selection of an All-Suburban League team through a consensus choice of the coaches of the league teams gives Newton but two places despite the fact the orange and black captured the league title.

With four teams in the league a selection by three coaches is an unanimous selection as no coach selects his own players. Charlie Flagg in the backfield and Melvin Swig at tackle are the two Newton lads chosen on the All-Suburban outfit. Charley Thompson received one vote at centre with the position going to centre with the position going to Bernard of Rindge. While Thompson's play was outstanding many times during the season he was severely handicapped with a side injury. In addition Coach Sanborn was able to rest Thompson somewhat by switching Melvin Swig to the centre birth for part of the time in several games.

Coch Jack Sheehan of Cambridge Latin named Finberg at end, and Flagg and Charlie Mascia in the backfield of his team. Coach Metivier of Rindge Tech selected Flagg at end, Thompson at centre and Flagg in the backfield. Coach Brown of Brookline named Swig at tackle, Joyce at guard and Flagg in the backfield. Chester Smith of Rindge and Captain Albert Maguire of Cambridge Latin each received three votes for end positions to top Flagg's two votes.

The Boston Globe permitted the schools to choose their own team by a compilation of the votes of the boys themselves. In answer to the request more teams from the north of Boston responded than from any other section. Thus the team is largely made up of players from those schools. Newton players did not participate in the voting but Arlington, Brookline, Cambridge Latin, Everett, Rindge Tech and Waltham, all 1933 opponents of Newton, were among the teams whose players sent in their votes.

Captain Charley Thompson came within three votes of receiving the centre birth which went to Dolan of Salem with 23 votes. The Newton leader with 25 votes led Lentine, Winchester star by one. The other Newton players who received votes were Bryne, end; 9; Swig, tackle, one; Grow, 5; Rich, one, guard; and among the backs Flagg, 11; McCarthy, 3; and Whitney one. Curiously enough Lane of Arlington was the only back in the list who faced Newton who topped Flagg. Schwerdt of Everett tied the Newton back and Falzone of Waltham was one behind.

In a succeeding issue the Globe went a step farther and selected an All-Greater Boston team by a consensus of votes of the coaches of teams around the Hub. This team was similar in several positions to that of the schoolboys. On the coaches' team Jimmy Bryne of Newton was named at right end.

SPORT NOTES
On All-State Team

Gordon Linberg, of Newtonville who wound up his college football career at Tufts this past season, was among four Tufts players selected on an All-Mass. team of small colleges chosen by a Boston Globe sports writer with assistance from the coaches of the various teams. Linberg, who is New England heavyweight wrestling champion and captain-elect of the Tufts matmen, was a tower of strength all fall in the Tufts line. In every game he played he either blocked at least one punt or recovered a fumble.

Waban Wins Opener

The Waban Neighborhood Club won its opening match in the Greater Boston Badminton league on Wednesday night, defeating Framingham, 3 to 1, at Waban. Ashley of Waban defeated Copinger of Framingham in singles and Travers and Hill, and Ashley and Webber defeated their doubles opponents while the visitors captured their only point through the victory of Stearns and Seavey over Crofts and McCutcheon of Waban.

General Needham Hurt

Brigadier General Daniel H. Needham of Newtonville suffered a broken shoulder in warming up his pony prior to a polo match the other night. He is up and around but will be out of the sport for most of the winter.

The Track team of the Y. M. C. A. has started its indoor practice under the direction of Coach Henry Pierce. The team meets on Tuesday from 5:30 to 6:30 P. M. and on Friday from 7 to 8 P. M.

SPORT NOTESWine Letter at Nichols College

Word comes from Dudley, Mass., that Robert Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hamilton of Wamesit rd., Waban, was awarded his varsity football letter at Nichols Junior College at the annual fall sports banquet last week. Edward C. Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Horton of Otis st., Newtonville, and Stearns Smalley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Smalley of Auburndale, were awarded soccer letters.

Owen Coaching Hockey

George Owen who recently forsook professional hockey after several years with the Boston Bruins is coaching the M. I. T. varsity hockey team this month during the absence of Coach Vic Duplin who is in Georgia until the first of the year. The Engineers scored a 1 to 0 triumph over Boston University this week and tomorrow meet Princeton and next Tuesday face Harvard.

Jones Gets Letter

Jimmie Jones of Newtonville won his varsity letter in football this fall at Wesleyan University, Middletown, where he is a sophomore.

On Fencing Squad

Tom Manley of Newton is on the varsity fencing squad at Boston University, where the sport has been re-summed after a lapse of several years.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Mrs. Elspet Urquhart of 9 Clark ter., Newtonville was hit by a car driven by Forrest Smith of Ingliston rd., Auburndale while crossing Washington st., Newtonville, opposite the fire station on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. She was taken to the Newton Hospital to be treated for injuries to her back and shoulder.

Cranton Lawton, 14, of 10 Proctor st., Newtonville, was hit by a car driven by Robert Bruce of 42 Churchill st., Newtonville, last Friday evening at 5:15. The accident happened as the boy was riding his bicycle at the intersection of Walnut st. and Lowell ave. He received injuries to his left leg and wrist.

Frank P. Harris of Oak Knoll rd., Natick, received injuries to his left arm and leg when the truck he was driving skidded on Auburndale st., West Newton, and hit a tree at 6:45 a. m. Monday.

A truck owned by Carl Valenkamp of Clinton hit two trees on Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, near Morton st., at 6:20 Saturday night. Valenkamp received a cut on his head. He told the police that a man whom he did not know, and whom he picked up at Brookline, was driving the truck. This man, according to Valenkamp, fled after the accident.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

On Saturday evening at Lasell Junior College the swimming enthusiasts will participate in an "Ocean Liner Party," being planned by the Physical Education Department. It will include water sports and feature diving and comic relays. The committees: refreshments, Betty Maitland, Thompson, Conn., games; Mabel Crowe, Reading; entertainment, Katharine Peck, West Haven, Conn.; decorations, Barbara Warland, Boston. Lasell was the first girls college to have a swimming pool. Swimming practice is beginning for the meet to be held directly after Christmas. Emily Ingwersen, Chicago, Ill., heads this sport.

Kiwanis Club

The regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held on Tuesday, December 5, at the Charles River Country Club. The guest speaker of the day was Mr. Lawrence A. Bevan of the Department of Agriculture, Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Mr. Bevan, who is a Newton man, gave a thoroughly instructive and interesting talk on the agricultural situation particularly as it affects us here in Massachusetts.

His complete and inclusive knowledge of the subject made it possible for Mr. Bevan to sketch the agricultural problems of the country as a whole showing their relationship to us and to follow it with the discussion of the particular crops and farm produce of our own state. The extreme interest of the members was manifested by a series of questions lasting for many minutes after the talk.

As there was no further business, the meeting was adjourned directly following the question and answer period.

Rotary Club

The members of the Newton Rotary Club had the pleasure of listening to an interesting discourse by one of their members, John Cahill, upon the subject of "The Automotive Industry Under the NRA." Mr. Cahill gave the club the more important features of the automobile code which if properly enforced would not only be of valuable assistance to the manufacturer, dealers, laborers, and salesmen, but would be a great protection to the purchasing public.

The Code provides among other things that a dealer in used cars cannot employ any subterfuges in order to dispose of his inventory, such as establishing a price for a car and then giving the purchaser such accessories as tires, horns, and other special concessions in order to induce the purchaser to buy.

The Code also provides that the speedometer on new cars must be connected at all times so that the public will be assured that the mileage shown upon the speedometer of the car is correct. Upon the violation of any provision of the Code the dealer is subject to cancellation of his agency contract. Generally it is thought that Codes were for the benefit of the manufacturer, dealer, laborer, and salesmen, and it was extremely interesting to learn that such measures were taken to protect the buying public.

The club had as visitors: Nicholas O'Brien, Needham; Fred Bailey, Needham; Charles Centerbar, Watertown; Harold Everett, Watertown; Louis Bachrach, Boston; Thomas Hackett, Watertown; Fred Bond, Watertown; Benjamin Britton, Boston; Edward Wright, Watertown.

During the program the Music School will have the honor of being assisted by the choir of the Second Church under Mr. William Lester Bates. After the playing of Handel's Largo by a full string orchestra numbering over sixty, the choir will sing a beautiful number "The Shepherd's Story." Appropriate to the approach of the Christmas season, this will be followed by a group of carols by choir, audience, and orchestra, Mr. Bates conducting.

The ensembles from the Peirce and Claffin Branches will combine into one full orchestra under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Director of the Music School. This concert gives promise of the same high quality of all previous work of the School and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

The Lecture given under the auspices of "The Newton Centre Neighborhood Club" for the benefit of the Weeks Junior High School Scholarships Fund was given Friday night, November twenty-fourth.

RADIO ROBINS CONCERT

The children's chorus of Newton Centre, under the name of the Radio Robins, presented their first winter concert of the season, in Trinity parish house, on Wednesday evening, November 29th, before an overflow audience. The chorus of thirty young singers showed excellent training, and looked very pretty in "Sunday best." The famous "Big Bad Wolf," with its four little soloists, Gloria Florin, Sadie MacIsaac, Wally Bowland, and Parker Wheeler, pleased the audience immensely, as did the admirable performance of the lovely "Sweet and Low."

A violin solo by Norma Daniels and a reading by Ruth Nordstrom were both nicely given and then one play was presented by members of the "Little Players," a dramatic group. Although the stage setting of necessity left considerable to the imagination, the children proved themselves actors of sufficient ability to make the audience forget such shortcomings. The "beautiful ladies," Martha Hodges and Mary Mandile, brought merriment by their buoyant airs, and the gypsies, John Cappadona, Anita Florin, Marian Cappadona and tiny Ronnie Pfister, were colorful and entertaining. The little Marian showed unusual ability as the Gypsy girl, interpolating a Spanish dance and the film song "Play Fiddle, Play." The two stars however, were Dora Hetherstone as the scarecrow and five year old Louise DeVos as Polly.

The Robins have in rehearsal two more one act plays for production in January, and a Christmas pageant for December 23rd.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL CONCERT

On Friday evening, December fifteenth, the All Newton Music School is presenting a program of popular music. The concert will be held in the auditorium of the Newton High School, Newtonville, at seven forty-five o'clock. As a member of the Newton Community Chest no admission fee may be charged by the School and the concert is open to the public. Candy and flowers will be on sale during intermission.

During the program the Music School will have the honor of being assisted by the choir of the Second Church under Mr. William Lester Bates. After the playing of Handel's Largo by a full string orchestra numbering over sixty, the choir will sing a beautiful number "The Shepherd's Story." Appropriate to the approach of the Christmas season, this will be followed by a group of carols by choir, audience, and orchestra, Mr. Bates conducting.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

At next Tuesday's city election candidates will provide free auto rides to voters. Just another catch-and-carry system.

Oddments

Enthusiastic support of the protest voiced in this column against the high speed of automobiles in Center street in front of the main public library has convinced me that at least I know what I am writing about for once. If only some impression has been made on the authorities whose duty it is to protect the rights and lives of pedestrians all the better. At present I do not know what step next to take. If I thought I could organize a body of sufficient size it might be possible to correct things, or rather take the law in our hands as they did so effectively in California. The trouble is that lynching is too good for some drivers.

I know that I am going to be embarrassed next Tuesday morning by many invitations to ride to the polls. I shall refuse all. This, you may think, will free me from obligations. And your surmise is correct. One cannot accept appreciation and then decline to show appreciation. At least I am so constituted. Nevertheless, I shall walk, but bear in mind the voting place is not any great distance from my home. The exercise is something I greatly need. Aside from a feeling of independence I am forced to admit that I am always flattered to be offered a ride. So my hope is that I shall have many opportunities in order that I may decline all. Maybe you know the satisfaction that comes under such circumstances.

"Go-getting" by Phone

A note to please call such-and-such a number as soon as you get in is one of those things of everyday life. The other day I followed instructions implicitly. After two "they don't answer" assurances I was going to give up but for some reason didn't. My persistence was rewarded. Eventually I found that I had called a business office twice after the closing hour but that my third ring was propitious. Was I interested in a certain brand of prepared food? Thinking myself the possible victim of a joke I started to make a facetious reply, but I was up against a salesman—a young woman from the sound of the voice I placed no order, however.

Another day, really I should have profited by my first experience. I was offered an opportunity to invest in some furniture which I was obliged to decline because of lack of desire to invest in anything. After that I was alert and it was well that such was the case, for there were calls from other establishments. The soliciting dropped for a time and the lesson I had learned slipped from my store of "things every man should know."

It usually was a persuasive feminine voice and no gentleman, or one who pretends to be, is going to get rough in his conversation under such circumstances. Not but what I had a difficult time in restraining myself from replying with a line of cheap gab. I wanted to be funny and do a little joshing. But I didn't. My reason or what little there is left, told me to be pleasant but firm. After all there weren't so many calls. Hollards for the salespeople maybe.

Then things began again and I found myself wishing that my name was not down on many lists of prospects or as a prospect on so many lists. I thought how nice it would be if my name wasn't in the phone directory and finally how grand if I hadn't any telephone.

But then the sunshine broke through the clouds. On the next call a sweet and convincing female assured me that I should have my photograph taken. Wouldn't I like to give platters of myself to my friends. Now there was something! I was flattered and still am—but that's as far as I care to go. Unless there is a popular demand I shall continue to avoid the camera.

"Shine 'Em Up"

In the days we look back upon fond recollection each one of us ordinarily provided himself with a polish. Now such embellishment is purchased. It was a matter of personal pride as well as economy when we kept our own shoes shined. The present custom is to climb into a chair at some bootblack emporium and let the Greeks do it.

My first experience in shoe shining interested me only to the extent that I thought it so foolish to bother with one's appearance. Why weren't shoes manufactured of wood or paper or cloth? Then they wouldn't require blacking and if they did why not apply with a brush? Sort of painted or daubed on with little effort. But that was not the teaching of those days. No sir, you blacked your boots with plenty of elbow grease employed, and if you didn't you weren't much of a fellow, either at home or abroad, especially in the company of charming girls. Furthermore, you couldn't get by with only a highly brilliant shine on the toes. You had to polish the heel just as you had to wash behind the ears. The "lick" and promise method was not countenanced. You made the whole of each shoe shine and if you had the true spirit you saw that the results surpassed those of all your comrades.

My memory turns back to a liquid in a stone or earthenware container. I've been trying to remember the name of that brand of polish—one not seen nowadays. The nearest I can get is Day & Martin, but I'm not certain that is correct. The shine produced was astonishingly bright, provided plenty of energy was used. It was evidence of up-and-coming qualities and personal neatness to have your shoes shined and your hair brushed was a vital matter. Of course there was such a thing as overdoing it and the boy who looked slicked up at all times was suspected of having a girl, which suspicion was no doubt sound.

I wonder if it has really made any difference. Have boys lost anything by the change? Is it good for them to flop into a leather chair, light

"OH PROMISE ME!"

Promises mean nothing—it's performance that counts. The "bargain" battery that looks good in the store is no bargain in your car if you can't depend on it. Millions of motorists entrust their comfort and safety to EXIDES—they know the EXIDE slogan is no mere phrase. WHEN IT'S AN EXIDE, YOU START. EXIDES are ruggedly built for long wear, and charged "to the hilt" with power ready at the touch of the starter. Because of unique "built-in" features, EXIDES retain their original power practically to the end of their long lives, whereas the common tendency of many batteries is to taper off in strength soon after installation, with no reserve power for emergency demands.

the dear givers could they have seen the children do justice to it. The only drawback was capacity limit. It was such a pity that when things were so good there just wasn't room for any more.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R. R.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 13th, at half past two, the Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution will be the guests of Mrs. A. H. F. Others in the cast are: Mr. Robert C. Reed, Mr. Robert C. Currier, Miss Muriel Pearce, Miss Miriam Catheron, Mr. Phillip Reed, and Mr. Walter Holbrook. "Deaf Old England" is the third in a subscription series of six plays to be given by the Garrick Players in Newton this winter sponsored by The Newton Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Arts. The plays are directed by Mr. Robert C. Currier assisted by Miss Lorraine Catheron and Mrs. Harry L. Harding, and the settings are designed by Mr. Robert R. Reed.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTS

Newton Federation

The Christmas Health Seal committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett is chairman, and Mrs. Charles A. Riley is co-chairman, urges club members to buy as many as possible of the Christmas Health Seals. As this is a state and national project, it has not become associated with the Newton Community Chest and so must have a separate campaign. The handling of these seals is the most important part of the Federation's work and eighty-five cents of every dollar received from the sales is spent by the Health Committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau to combat tuberculosis. One of the practices is to supply milk to under-nourished school children and this is the only money available for that much-needed purpose.

More detailed account of the work accomplished with the income from the sales of the Christmas Health Seals has appeared in a previous issue, in another section, of the Graphic, and in the letters sent out by the local chairmen who are directing the work, for the information of all interested citizens of the city who may wish to help this kindly project.

Newton Community Junior Woman's Club

December 14th will be Guest Day for the children of the members of the Newton Community Club.

Irma Watson, an artist with a delightful capacity for entertaining not only children but their elders, will portray A. A. Milne's stories.

She has marked ability in acting childish parts, and her costumes are carefully selected, which adds greatly to the effectiveness of her portrayals. It is assured that a most enthusiastic audience will greet this artist.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will open her series of Current Events lectures at 10:15 a.m., on December 14th, at the Club House of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on the evening of the 11th, at Emerson School Hall. At that time donations will be received for the Veterans' Stockings, a yearly service which this Club renders to the disabled veterans. In honor of this, members of the State Federation committee on Co-operation with War Veterans will be guests. Refreshments will round out this festive occasion.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its first meeting of December 15th, at 2 p.m., of which Mrs. Douglass B. Francis will have charge.

The Dramatic committee will give a Play Reading on Friday, December 15th, at 2 p.m., of which Mrs. Douglass B. Francis will have charge. The tea hostesses will be Mrs. Myron E. Bryant, Mrs. Thomas Cummer, and Mrs. E. Marshall Hodgkins. Friends of the Club members are invited to attend.

The Club Chorus, co-operating with the Ways and Means committee, will give another of their popular Concerts, followed by Dancing, on Saturday evening, December 16th, at 8:15 o'clock.

Madame Apolline Blair, director of the Chorus, has spent a great deal of time and effort preparing the program. Mr. Armen Carapanian, whose playing roused such enthusiasm at the October business meeting, has consented to appear as guest violinist. He will play a group of solo numbers. Mrs. Montague Fowle will accompany him. Mrs. Kirtley Mather is accompanist for the Chorus.

Tickets at $1, can be obtained from Mrs. Ellis Spear and from members of the Chorus. Her address is 347 Mystic street, Arlington.

With this in mind the division is anxious this year to provide a Fund to assist the women on their discharge from the Reformatory for Women at Framingham, no money being allowed them.

The West Newton Women's Educational Club, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president, has made the first contribution, and has donated, through the efforts of the members, infants' jackets, night gowns, sweaters and mittens for the babies. It is hoped that more Clubs will follow their example with donations of money, also winter clothing for both women and babies (one to two years old) or yarns to be knitted into warm things for the babies.

There are splendid women ready to leave the institution whom the division is anxious to place in homes. The chairman will be glad at any time to give information or go to a club as a speaker, and urge co-operation in carrying out this worthwhile project.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

The Boston Woman's Civics Club will meet at the Hotel Brunswick on Wednesday, Dec. 13, at 2:15 p. m. The president, Mrs. James E. Spike of W. Newton, will be in the chair. Mrs. John N. Allen, chairman of Child Welfare, will be in charge of the program; Mrs. Luther S. Bent, former Massachusetts Director of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will speak on "Personal Experiences in Our Mission Work." There will be Christmas Music; Mrs. Orrin Merster, soloist, and Mrs. James W. Simpson, accompanist. Members are reminded to bring gifts for children as usual, which are to be sent to the Temporary Home for Children on Mt. Vernon street.

RADIO. For the radio program from Station WBZ on December 9th, at 11:15 a. m., the division of Co-operation with War Veterans will present their chairman, Mrs. T. Gordon Burkes, in a discussion of their Christmas and other work for veterans, under the title, "Remember," the division of Mothercraft will also have a discussion of their subject by their chairman, Mrs. Charles W. Hawkins. Music will be given by Edwin Blitcliffe, Pianist.

The source of the pathos of the play which deepens the tragic effect lies in the character of Desdemona whose life was likened to "a quiet stream in whose depth the beautiful and pure alone are mirrored."

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Guy M. Winslow opens her home, 145 Woodland road, for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, the 12th, when three Club members will read papers, as the morning's program: Mrs. James G. Patterson one on "The German Phoenix"; Mrs. Charles E.

MEMBER NATIONAL EDITORIAL
ASSOCIATIONMEMBER
MASSACHUSETTS PRESS ASSOCIATIONA STATEMENT OF POLICY

In our issue last week many of our readers were perhaps surprised to find that we had definitely taken our stand in favor of the re-election of Mayor Weeks while at the same time our staff associate was advocating the election of the Mayor's chief opponent. We have repeatedly stated that the editorial policy was confined to these columns and that any opinion expressed by an article in another column, with or without the writer's name, was in no way an indication of the editorial policy of the paper. It so happens that we differ with our associate in the matter of which candidate will best serve the interests of the city as its chief executive. We are in no way attempting to "ride both horses" or "straddle the fence"—we stand four-square for the re-election of Mayor Weeks. We ourselves, in times past, have criticized in some degree some of the Mayor's actions. We do not hesitate to say that we may do so again if the occasion arises where we have a difference of opinion. The GRAPHIC is issued in the interests of our readers and the community and we believe that full expression of opinion should be given the matter although some people will say that we are "riding both horses." We disclaim such implication and will go all the way with Weeks in the mayoralty contest.

THE FINANCIAL QUESTION

Last week we intimated that we would discuss some of the questions which had been raised in the campaign between Weeks and White. The latter has striven vainly to criticize and belittle the financial situation of the city by pointing out that Newton's increased bonded indebtedness as related to valuation has caused the city to drop from tenth to eighteenth place in the ranking of Massachusetts cities in this respect. One of the strongest points of Mayor Weeks' administration has been the maintenance of a high credit and a low tax rate. During the past four years the bonded indebtedness has increased just short of a million dollars. An analysis of the city's debt shows some interesting facts. During the past four years a number of projects were undertaken which were charged directly into the tax levy. They were not bonded as they might have been, thus preventing a further increased bonded debt. Of those projects for which bonds were issued the new City Hall and War Memorial constitute a great part. With much of the land taking having been accomplished prior to Mayor Weeks' election to office and preliminary plans having been started underway early in his administration it takes little imagination to realize that had the entire matter been a year later in coming to a head it would not have been completed. As it was no one could foresee at that time that economic conditions in general would have been what they are. Another item in the bonded debt was for the county tuberculosis hospital in the sum of $300,000. That was a debt which was thrust upon the city and not one of our own choosing. Other items of bonded debt were for the John W. Weeks Junior High School, alterations to the Bigelow School, the high-level sewer and other minor projects. It is conceded that all were necessary and that in addition the high-level sewer was undertaken with the view in mind of relieving unemployment.

Mr. White names the cities which now rank higher in the relation of their bonded debt to valuation, and what do we find? That few if any of those cities have financial credit so that their bonds are readily marketable at a low rate of interest. Thus their bonded debt has been kept from increasing while their welfare costs have increased much more than in Newton. In brief they could not undertake desirable projects which would tend to keep down the welfare costs.

Meanwhile, although the bonded debt of the city of Newton has increased its credit has not been impaired in the least. Mayor Weeks' handling of the financial affairs of the city has been exceptional under the conditions which have had to be faced.

THE WELFARE QUESTION

The mayoralty candidates opposing Mayor Weeks have criticised his handling of the welfare situation and have charged him with not being "human." It would be wise to reflect for a moment. Do we forget that Mayor Weeks once led a large number of boys on foreign soil? Can we conceive of any place where the "humanity" of a man could be better revealed? No. Today our plea for "humanity" is vastly different. It is more a problem of administration than of discipline. Yet there must be discipline with those who do not seek to help themselves. We know of cases in Newton where the "commissary" system has been an actual blessing to many of our people. We have heard of cases where it is said to be unjust. There can be no question but what it is a difficult problem but would it be any easier for Mr. White to handle than it would be for Mayor Weeks? There is little doubt in our mind but what Mr. White would find dissatisfaction among some in whatever changes he would make in the

Elect VANDERHOOF School Committee, Ward 2

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF NEWTON:
We, the undersigned citizens and voters of Newton, being keenly interested in the welfare and progress of our schools, wish to call to your attention the candidacy of Mr. Nelson B. Vanderhoof for MEMBER of the SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Vanderhoof was educated at Harvard. For 25 years he has been a resident of Newtonville. For 28 years he has been practicing law. His high standing in his profession is shown by his membership on the Committee on Grievances of the Middlesex Bar Association. He has frequently been appointed by the courts as auditor and master in important cases. He is now the trustee of many estates. He has shown an active interest in community welfare. For several years he has been a member of the Executive Board of the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts.

We need a capable, broadminded, public spirited man for the school committee.

We urge the election of Mr. Vanderhoof.
Margaret McGill, President Boston Branch American Association of University Women, Irving G. Palmer, formerly principal of the Classical High School of the City of Newton, Walker C. Boyden, President Emeritus, Teachers College of the City of Boston.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

The municipal election campaign now drawing to a close is the most hectic in the history of this city. Talk about mud slinging, there has been a veritable barrage of "dirt" and poison gas in this fight. The kind of politics which Newton has been accustomed to in the past is still being used by some of the candidates' workers. Other workers for some of the candidates (with or without the knowledge of those for whom they are working, and we regret to state that it seems impossible that it is without the knowledge of the candidates) have resorted to lies, slurs, calumnies that are libelous.

Men and women employees of the city are being used in the campaign activities. In our opinion this is quite contrary to the laws governing Civil Service. Persons who have received favors from the administration are working for the reelection of the Mayor. This is quite natural. If they have been asked by the campaign committee to do this, it means that very practical politics is being resorted to. Persons who have sought favors from the present administration, and have not received them, are also working for Mayor Weeks. These persons are optimists. Hope springs eternal in their breasts. We don't blame the Mayor for accepting their aid, limited though it may be.

We disapprove of the boozing of the Mayor and other candidates at rallies. While we are not supporting the Mayor, we realize that he has gone through four "tough" years as chief executive of this city; he admits that being human, he has made mistakes. But, even though persons are opposed to the Mayor, they should extend him the courtesy due him as the head of this city and not resort to hoodlumism. We believe the boozing at rallies was largely done by boys.

The support of Tom White for Mayor by Hon. Edwin O. Childs, and the assertion by the Mayor that White was the leader in the co-operation Mr.

Childs received from the Boards of Aldermen from 1921 on for several years, in increasing the pay of employees of the City of Newton, should nullify the propaganda which has been extensively circulated that White is unfriendly to labor. Particularly, when some of those most active in spreading this propaganda have professed to be great admirers of Mr. Childs, and still profess to believe implicitly in him. They are not very consistent.

Some persons of narrow vision can't understand that while the GRAPHIC is supporting Mayor Weeks, the writer, as an individual, is permitted to favor Mr. White in this column. The answer is—that the present managing editor of this paper, like his father before him, is man enough to accord us freedom of individual thought and action to a reasonable degree. Our employees have not attempted to muzzle us, and have been sufficiently broad-minded not to attempt to interfere with our political views. We can assure our readers that Warren Brimblecom is not the type to be actuated by mercenary motives and would not be a party to a "straddle" by this paper for the purpose of having either he or the writer on the winning side, whoever wins. He is sincerely for Weeks, and yours truly is sincerely for White. Mr. Weeks, for one, knows that the writer's attitude is not feigned.

History is merely repeating itself. Changed conditions in the progress of civilization necessitate changes in politics, in economics. To assure such changes being properly made, all should take part in selecting our government, city as well as State or Federal.

We applaud those who favor that candidate sincerely and for unselfish motives. We give the opposite to those who insist, or for selfish motives vote for any candidate. When you vote, cast your ballot according to the dictates of your conscience. Life is short. We will be dead a long time. If most men and women would be actuated by a desire to make the lot of all better, and not by sordidness, this old world would not be in the mess it is today.

Lincoln Pk. Church Anniversary

Mrs. C. E. A. Peck, nee Gertrude Briggs is the third longest time member. Mrs. Peck has also an enviable record of continuous service in the Church School and other departments of the work. After more than fifty-one years' membership she is still serving in the Primary Department every Sunday morning.

Frank A. Tuttle, son of Charter Member, Charles F. Tuttle, Sr. now resides in Chicago.

Susan M. Carr is now living in Waltham.

Mrs. Mary E. Kimball wife of Rev. O. D. Kimball. Many stories have been told across the fifty years since she first began her ministry of loving tenderness and helpfulness at Lincoln Park so that she was no stranger when she returned a while ago after long absence. Her membership has not been continuous but it has been marked by perfect faithfulness.

Mrs. Herbert E. Clayton, nee Annie E. Carr is now living in Woodstock, Vt.

Mabel F. Robinson is now living in Waltham.

Hodgdon Attacks Weeks and White

Drake Flays Weeks Regime

At rallies held in the city this week, Walter A. Hodgdon read a letter from City Clerk Grant to prove that he is an enrolled Democrat, was a member of the Democratic City Committee in 1917, and was never enrolled as a Republican. He denounced both Weeks and White as unfriendly towards the working class. He said in part:

"Ex-Gov. Allen who is now using hired thugs against labor in his Norwood factory endorsed Tom White. Ex-Pres. Hoover who sent the Army against the bonus marchers endorsed Mr. White. Why? Because he is their type, not ours."

"Mayor Weeks is just as bad. His enmity towards the working man has been shown by his inhuman treatment of those on Welfare. This treatment caused strike and resulted in a real riot at City Hall. Also, he has publicly stated that we should make Welfare aid unattractive, which meant, and Nero never said anything more callous—Make them suffer. He cut the wage scale of City Employees so it would remain cut, when he could have accepted a voluntary donation and protected the scale."

"I do not hedge on any issue. My opponents do. They go hand in hand as typical Machine Men. White and Weeks are enemies of the working class, and of our great Democratic leader, President Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"The people of this country are now free men. Prohibition has been officially repealed. We must take a courageous stand on this issue. Temperance and the elimination of the speakeasy are the important problems. To aid temperance and to do away with the speakeasy we must vote Wet on Tuesday next."

"We must protect our citizens who want to drink under the law. Proper protection requires that they have the right to patronize our Newton merchants. We can fully regulate and control the buying and drinking of liquor in our own city. It is much better to do this than to force them to drive to nearby cities where conditions will not compare with our own. If a man must drink it is well for a family to know where he is drinking."

"Sarah Dobbs, who is to make her first appearance in Boston with the Highland Glee Club on Dec. 12th, at the Weeks Junior High School, Newton Centre, received her musical education in this country and abroad, having spent two years in Paris, where she studied under M. Salignac of the Opera Comique and concertized in Paris and other cities. Having attracted the attention of Madame Melius, of the Chicago Opera Company, she acted as her chief assistant in New York City in her teaching work.

Miss Dobbs has also had a series of her own recitals in Town Hall, New York, as well as having given recitals in many other cities in the United States.

She was the assisting artist on the Mason and Hamlin program over WBZ on Sunday, December 3rd, with the Godding-Thiede-Zeise Trio.

Claflin Club Host To Men's Clubs

The Claflin Club is to be the host to the men's clubs of the Central Congregational Church and St. John's Church at its meeting Friday, December 15, 1933.

Dean Charles R. Brown of Yale University is to speak on the subject "The Fate of Religion in Russia." Dean Brown is a most popular speaker before men's clubs, chambers of commerce and college audiences throughout the United States. He is a well-known author of many books and has been honored by degrees from seven different colleges and universities. He was for many years Dean at Yale University and has been an inspiration to thousands of college students.

Members of both the Central Club of the Central Congregational Church and the men's club of St. John's Church have accepted the invitation of the Claflin Club to attend the dinner and lecture December 15. It is anticipated that at least two hundred men will be present at the meeting.

Oliver Delivers His Platform

Anthony Oliver, candidate for Ward Alderman in Ward 6, stated at rallies in Newton Centre this week that if elected he will endeavor to have all public works in this city employ Newton residents; that the streets and sidewalks shall be kept in good condition; that municipal activities shall receive better supervision and that gangs shall not seize political power in this city.

Recent Deaths

SAMUEL NOYES BRAMAN

Samuel Noyes Braman was born in West Newton August 4, 1869. When a small child the family returned to Wayland, his mother's family home since the original settlement of the town. He was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the class of 1882. For many years he was connected with engineering firms in New York and Philadelphia. On his return to Boston he was manager of Morris and Whyte Company in Cambridge until that business was absorbed by the Simplex Wire and Cable Company with which firms he was connected until last April when he retired on account of ill health. Since his marriage to Miss Ethel Gilman in 1919 he had made his home in Newton. Besides his widow he leaves a sister, Mrs. Josiah A. Bacon and a brother Mr. Charles E. Braman, both of West Newton.

The services were conducted by the Reverend Richard G. Preston and the interment took place in the Newton Cemetery.

JAMES R. CONDRIN

James R. Condrin of 112 Sheridan st., West Newton, died at St. Elizabeth's Hospital on Dec. 2. He was born at West Newton, 73 years ago, the son of Daniel and Joanna (Welch) Condrin. He was in the employ of the Waltham Watch Company for 42 years, much of that time as foreman in the tool making department. In former years Mr. Condrin had been active in amateur dramatics in the Newton Catholic Club and other organizations. He was a member of the Newton Veteran Firemen during that association's career and served as foreman. He was a member of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, Triton Council, Royal Arcanum and the Newton Catholic Club. His funeral service was held on Tuesday at St. Bernard's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery. He is survived by a sister, Sister Mary Paul, Superior of St. Joseph's Academy at Brighton; two nephews, William and James Condrin; and a niece, Margaret J. Condrin, all of West Newton.

NEWTON CENTRE MAN DIES IN GARAGE

Asa R. Mitchell, 67, of 178 Summer st., Newton Centre, was asphyxiated by the exhaust fumes from his automobile in the garage at his home on Saturday. His wife found him lying on the running board of the car. It was thought he collapsed while shutting off the motor. Dr. E. A. Andrews and firemen from Engine 3 worked valiantly for an hour trying to resuscitate Mr. Mitchell. Medical Examiner Gallagher reported that the death was accidental. The funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon at the late home of the deceased.

MRS. PERSIS A. COTTON

Mrs. Persis A. Cotton of 85 Atwood ave., Newtonville, widow of William H. Cotton, died on Dec. 3. She was born in Lebanon, N. H., 84 years ago and had resided in Newtonville since 1906. Her husband died in 1904. She is survived by three children—Thomas W., Mae G. and Mrs. Russell Wyde, all of Newtonville. Her funeral service was held on Monday at her late home; Rev. Randolph Merrill officiating. Burial was at Lebanon.

BENJAMIN W. C. FISHER

Mr. Benjamin W. C. Fisher passed away at his home, 68 River st., Wellesley Hills, Saturday afternoon Dec. 2, 1933. He was born in Edgartown, Island of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., March 6th, 1852. His father, Capt. John Fisher was one of seven brothers of that place who became captains of vessels and his mother Sarah Young Collins was a cousin of General Worth who achieved fame in the Mexican War. Mr. Fisher first came to this village to visit his aunt Louise Collins who was the wife of Rev. Mr. Baylies, minister of the Methodist Church in Lower Falls. Over fifty years ago he came to the Dudley Hosiery Mills. In 1882 he was a member of Hose 6 of the Newton Fire Department. In 1890 he became a member of Shiner Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Wellesley and was past Grand of the same. For more than thirty years he was collector for the Newton Ice Co. and retired from work in 1928. His wife died in 1927. He is survived by a stepson William H. Hollis and one sister, Mrs. Henry A. Pease of Edgartown, Mass. Funeral services were held in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls and the burial was in the family lot, in the cemetery adjoining the church.

His funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Newton Cemetery Chapel. Rev. Mason Sharpe of the Auburndale Methodist Church officiated.

He is survived by his widow, Gertrude Bowser Gammons; two sons, Edward R. and Lewis Gammons, a daughter, Mrs. Lydia Swain, all of Auburndale; three brothers, George T. Gammons of West Newton; Clifford Gammons, of Schenectady, New York and Herbert Gammons of West Newton, and one sister, Miss Ida Gammons of West Newton.

MRS. NORAH JONES

Mrs. Norah (Given) Jones of 47 Washington st., Newton, wife of James A. Jones, died on December 3. She was a native of South Boston and was employed on the Boston Globe as an artist prior to her marriage in 1915. She has been a resident of Newton for about 15 years. Besides her husband she is survived by a son and a daughter. Her funeral service was held at Presentation Church, Oak sq., yesterday morning. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

A DIVISION OF GUIDANCE AND RESEARCH IS ESTABLISHED IN THE NEWTON SCHOOLS

Newton's schools constitute her major "industry". All industries exist for the purpose of transforming certain raw materials by means of various processes into a product of greater usefulness and value. In this sense we see the children as the raw material. We see the classroom as the production unit, the place where physical, mental, social, and ethical development is guided; a place where this raw material is transformed into young men and women ready to take their place as useful citizens who will fit into the life of the community. The greatest emphasis, until recently, has been placed upon the work of this unit, the classroom process. There have been developed, as a result, many highly organized plans and methods of instruction while subject matter has been improved and expanded.

Industry, however, has found that it cannot devote all of its effort and attention to any one of the units which constitute a part of its organization. It cannot concentrate upon the production activities to the exclusion of others. It recognizes that other phases of activity are equally essential for its successful operation. It must have an inspection department to measure, inspect, properly classify, or label its product; it must have a planning and routing department to economize time and methods of manufacture. It must have service, personnel, advertising, and sales departments.

Education has likewise discovered that it cannot focus its attention exclusively on its production activities, the classroom instruction of pupils. It recognizes that most effective classroom situations are dependent to no small degree upon factors that hitherto have not been given the attention that they should have been given. It has felt the need of an agency within the school that should serve as a means of improving its effectiveness that it may render a greater service to the community.

In response to this need, there has been created within the Newton schools a new department, the Division of Guidance and Research. This new department assumes for the Newton schools the responsibilities that are carried by the planning, routing, inspecting, service, and personnel departments in industry. It will assist in increasing the school's effectiveness through evaluations of methods and materials of instruction, records, and reports. It will aid in the proper distribution of pupils into those classes, subjects, and courses where the school may make its greatest contribution to the individual. It will assist in making those adjustments necessary to care for individual problems as they arise. It will be responsible for providing young people with more information pertaining to the educational and vocational possibilities that are open to them. Finally, it will be interested in the further development of plans and procedures for measuring the growth of individuals in various fields of school and life activities.

These and other activities in which the division will engage will enable the school to assure to every child the advantages of individual treatment which have always been given to the most fortunate children under the most favorable circumstances. It will enable the school to improve its services through the development of especially selected procedures, improved instruments, better understood scientific principles, so that the school will provide the conditions necessary for the greatest possible individual development.

Detailed accounts of some of the activities mentioned in this article will appear in subsequent issues.

Recent Weddings

VARLEY—KEHOE

Miss Marjorie Kehoe, daughter of Mrs. Anna and the late Henry E. Kehoe, of West Newton, was married to Mr. Francis Varley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick E. Varley of Waltham, on Saturday morning, Dec. 2, at a nuptial mass celebrated in St. Bernard's Church by the Rev. Fr. Dwyer. The ceremony was performed at nine o'clock and was largely attended.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, John J. Kehoe, wore a gown of ivory velvet entrain with a veil of Alencon lace and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias. Miss Grace McCarthy, of 126 Webster st., as bridesmaid, was gowned in sapphire blue velvet with hat of gold color and matching slippers, and carried a brief question period.

The second meeting will be held on Sunday afternoon at five o'clock in the parlors of the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville. Miss Constance Blackstock, teacher of Current History at Lasell Seminary, will speak on India. Miss Blackstock was born and brought up in India. She holds degrees from Goucher College and Boston University. She spends part of each year traveling and has visited India within the last two years.

There will be special music. The forum is open to all the women of Newton.

$10,000 Fire at Brae Burn Club

A large building on the grounds of the Brae Burn Club near Dorset rd., Waban, was destroyed by fire last Saturday morning. The fire was discovered by an autoist who was driving on a street near the grounds. He sounded his horn at 8:20 a.m. The building was a mass of flames when the first fire apparatus arrived. It was necessary to lay 1500 feet of hose to reach the burning structure. The building was practically a total loss, together with its contents which included 4 tractors, 30 electric lawn mowers, 5000 feet of garden hose and other equipment. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

THE NEWTON SHOW OF THE AIR

The thirteenth of a series of broadcasts of The Newton Show of the Air over Station WLEY Lexington, comes on Thursday evening, December 14th from 7:15 to 9:00 p.m. under the personal direction of Estelle G. Marsh.

This week, in addition to Sylvia Pettys, soprano soloist, and Mary Barr Snider, pianist who have been a part of the Studio Family for the past twelve weeks, the Francesca Barker Trio will be featured.

Violinist Edith Garrison is a pupil of Elizabeth Fyffe. The cellist, who needs little introduction in the Newtons, is Doras Forte, a former pupil of the Charlotte White School and of Sangendorf. Francesca Barker, pianist, is a pupil of Dorothy Curtis and an associate teacher of piano at the Dorothy Curtis Studios in Newtonville.

The program will consist of trio numbers and solos.

This broadcast brings the series of thirteen weeks of the Newton Show of the Air to a close. These entertainments have been sponsored and arranged weekly by Estelle G. Marsh of Newtonville, who has presented during this period of weeks one hundred and twenty-eight local artists in a weekly program dedicated and presented by Newton's talent.

Through unforeseen and unfortunate circumstances Mr. Edward E. Whiting could not participate in the program last week as announced.

"FOOTLIGHT PARADE" AT NEWTON THEATRE

Two hundred and fifty girls were engaged by Busby Berkeley for his amazing dance ensembles in "Footlight Parade," the big Warner Bros. musical picture which comes to the Newton Paramount Theatre on Sunday for day four.

These production numbers are supplied with music by two teams of song writers, one of them Harry Warren and Al Dubin, the other Sammy Fain and Irving Kahal. The "Honeymoon Hotel" number makes use of a large chorus, with Ruby Keeler and Dick Powell as principals. In "Shanghai Lili" Jimmy Cagney dances and sings for the first time since he came to the screen from Broadway. Ruby Keeler is his partner in this number.

HEALTH IN THE MENU by Ruth M. Feeney

BOSTON CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

Quick breads include the class of breads which are quickly leavened by gas or steam. These breads are generally served warm with the exception of nut bread and brown bread, which may be served either way. Quick breads are divided into three groups—pour batters, as griddle cakes and popover batters; drop batters, exemplified by drop biscuits, waffles, and certain nut breads; soft doughs, as in cut biscuits, quick coffee cakes, and short cake.

Pour batters are known as one-to-one batters (one cup flour to one cup of liquid); drop batters are a two-to-one batter (two cups flour to one cup liquid); and soft doughs are a three-to-one batter.

Quick breads add a personal and finishing touch to any meal. We recommend your trying these recipes:

Apple Muffins

1 egg
1 cup milk
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup chopped apples
4 tablespoons melted fat
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Break the egg into a mixing bowl; beat it. Add the milk to it. Sift the flour, measure, and sift with the other dry ingredients. Combine the milk and flour mixtures, and add the chopped apples. Add the melted fat, mix quickly and thoroughly, and drop into oiled muffin pans. Sprinkle with Sift flour, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift two or three times. Cut in shortening. Add sugar and unsifted graham flour. Add nuts. Add soda to sour milk, then add to dry ingredients. Pour into greased bread or fruit cake pan. Bake 1 hour at 350°.

Send any of your cookery problems or requests for recipes to Miss Feeney, care of this newspaper. She will be glad to answer them, either through this column or by personal letter.

Local News

The merchants of Newton signed practically 100% under the Blue Eagle. The consumers who signed the Consumers' Statement of Co-operation agreed to co-operate by supporting and patronizing employees and workers who are NRA members. If a consumer, employee, or employer has reason to believe that any one displaying the Blue Eagle is, either through error or design, not living up to all the conditions of the President's Re-employment Agreement, he should report it to the office of the Newton Compliance Board at 277 Washington street, Room 4, Newton, Mass.

The Blue Eagle has spread its wings to cover all industries of the United States, the newspaper publishing business included. It is of great importance to the merchant-advertiser and the consumer reader, as well as the newspaper publisher, to consider just what the Blue Eagle is concerned with in this industry.

First of all the NRA does not concern itself with the freedom of the press. That is an inherent right of the people of the United States handed down by the liberty-loving founders of the nation. It does concern itself with working hours, wages, and conditions. In addition there are competitive ills and unethical practices that have sprung up in more recent years which will not be tolerated in the "new deal". Similar practices in other industries have been somewhat remedied through the application and signing of basic codes and there is sufficient indication that the NRA has brought worth while results.

The allied graphic arts industries, which include the large metropolitan dailies, small city dailies and weeklies, print shops which may or may not conduct a newspaper also, and other publications, have been working for weeks on the problem of a basic code. The preliminary hearings in Washington about a month ago saw more than forty separate codes submitted with each group seeking privileges which are of value to that group alone. At the present time officials of associations representing these various groups are at work endeavoring to solve the difficult problem.

Publishers of leading weeklies and small city dailies are well-organized through the National Editorial Association, an organization of long standing and of great influence. It is comprised of several thousands of publishers and publisher printers from every state in the union. It is significant and a tribute to the weekly newspapers of Massachusetts that the association has selected three of its presidents in the past twelve years from this state. They have been J. G. Brimblecom of the Newton Graphic; L. C. Hall of the Wareham Courier; and the present president, W. E. Allen of the Brookline Chronicle.

Mrs. Allen is now giving much of his time to the development of a code.

Cen. Cong. Church Held Pledge Service Joash Chest Filled

An impressive service was held in Central Congregational Church on Sunday, Dec. 3rd, on the occasion of the yearly pledging for the work of the church and its benevolences. The observance took the form of filling the Joash Chest, a ceremonial reminiscence of the old Hebrew days of King Joash.

The pastor, Rev. Randolph S.
Merrill, in a convincing sermon stated the functions of the church, the part it took in the life of the people, recalling the historic cathedrals of Europe which for generations have stood for worship and ministry. He spoke of the beautiful Gothic spire of the Second Church of West Newton, an impressive feature in the evening sky. Referring to the tower of Central Church,
Mr. Merrill said that too him it sang:
"A mighty fortress is our God,

A bulwark never failing," with its suggestion of strength and protection, a symbol of the church's ministry to all who come under its influence.

The chest was held by the Misses Judith Andress and Betty Hall. The following ladies passed through the audience and collected the pledges which were placed within it: Mrs. W.
Vosburgh, Mrs. F. G. Wilson, Mrs.
R. W. Conant, Mrs. C. A. Rouillard,
Mrs. R. S. Merrill, Mrs. H. M. Waybright, Mrs. P. E. Woodward, Mrs. T.
E. Shepherd, Mrs. W. B. Haskell, Mrs.
A. H. Decatur, Miss Barbara MacCormick deposited the pledge for the Church School.

A special musical program was rendered by Miss Lillian West, organist, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings, violin, Mrs. Watson F. Baker, "cello."

John C. Brimblecom, Owner and Publisher of the Newton Graphic, Passes Away At His Home Sunday

Editor Had Attained State and National Prominence In The Field of Journalism—Served City and State For Many Years

John C. Brimblecom, owner and publisher of the Newton Graphic, passed away early Sunday evening at his home at 233 Lowell ave., Newtonville. His death occurred a few minutes before six o'clock after a brief illness, following several years of failing health. He had long been prominent in civic affairs and newspaper circles, having been president and treasurer of the Newton Graphic Publishing Company since purchasing the newspaper with a group of associates in 1900. He was a former Representative to the General Court from Newton from 1920 through 1924; a former president of the Massachusetts Press and National Editorial Associations; and for many years was connected with the Newton city government.

He was born in Swampscott, Mass., on Jan. 21st, 1868, the son of John Briard and Mary Ann (Lewis) Brimblecom. On his father's side he was descended from early settlers of Marblehead who came to that town from Devonshire, England, in 1658.

He moved to Newton with his parents when seven years of age and was educated in the Newton public schools. He left high school at the end of his second year in order to aid in the support of his mother and father.

In 1885 he became assistant to City Clerk Isaac F. Kingsbury and with the exception of a few months in the latter part of 1889 was connected with the city government in various capacities for nearly thirty-seven years. In 1888 he was made clerk of the Common Council which office he held until 1898 when the city charter was changed giving Newton a new form of government. He was then made clerk of committees of the Board of Aldermen and continued in this position until the office was consolidated with that of city clerk in 1922.

On January 1st, 1894, he became agent of the Newton Board of Health serving under Dr. Francis G. Curtis, who has been chairman of that Board since 1893. He resigned that position as agent in 1898.

In 1900 Mr. Brimblecom saw the opportunity to purchase the Newton Graphic which at that time was owned by Edward D. Baldwin. Seeking the aid of a group of friends the Newton Graphic Publishing Company was formed with Mr. Brimblecom as president and treasurer. The other incorporators were G. Fred and John Simpson. The original stockholders of the company in addition to Mr. Brimblecom were G. Fred Simpson, John W. Weeks, Frank A. Day, Charles I. Travelli, Sydney Harwood, James C. Melvin, Charles S. Dennison, Henry E. Cobb, Arthur F. Luke, Charles W. Leonard, Emma T. Leonard, Henry B. Day, Edmund W. Converse, Fred M. Crichton, Frank J. Hale, and Winthrop Coffin.

The newspaper at that time included a mechanical plant which was located on Centre place almost directly opposite the present office of the Newton Graphic in the postoffice building. A few years later it was seriously damaged and the plant and it was moved to the location on Centre place now occupied by the Graphic Press. Under the direction of Mr. Brimblecom the Graphic became the leading newspaper of the city with an increased circulation and prestige that enabled him to purchase, from time to time, stock held by the original group of friends. At the time of his death all of the stock except five shares was held by either Mr. Brimblecom or his widow, the few remaining shares being owned by Mr. Allston Burr of Chestnut Hill, a valued friend.

On June 11th, 1891, Mr. Brimblecom married Lillie Frances Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Stone of Watertown. After several years residence on Hunter street, West Newton, the Brimblecom family moved to a new residence at 25 Breckmore rd., in the Hunnewell Hill section of Newton where they resided for nearly thirty years. There were four children, one daughter dying in infancy. His widow, two daughters, Janet and Helen, and a son, Warren K. survive him. Since 1924 the son has been associated with him and for the past five years has taken over the management of the newspaper business. He is, at the present time, a Representative to the General Court from Newton.

With all his activity in the field of journalism and in the interests

Many Beautiful Floral Offerings at Masonic Services

Many Attend Impressive Services at Channing Church

Funeral services for John C. Brimblecom were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at Channing Unitarian Church, Newton. A large number of friends gathered to pay their final respects to the deceased and the floral tributes were many and beautiful. Rev. Chester A. Drummond, former minister of Channing Church officiated and the Masonic services were conducted by members of Dalhousie Lodge, headed by Worshipful Master Carl Graves. The Concorde Male Quartet sang "The Old Refrain," "The End of a Perfect Day," and "Nearer My God To Thee."

The honorary pallbearers included Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Allston Burr, Gran Blandy, Dr. A. C. Cummings, Dr. Edward Melius, Howard Norton, Frank L. Richardson, George H. Snyder, all of this city; and L. C. Hall of Warcham.

Among those present were Congressman Robert Luce, Senator Arthur W. Hollis and Hon. George H. Ellis. Others who attended were members of the Newton City government, members of the Massachusetts Press Association and other organizations of which Mr. Brimblecom was a member, and the employees of the NEWTON GRAPHIC. Cremation was at Mount Auburn, where the committal prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Drummond.

of the publishing fraternity he found time to retain a close contact with civic affairs. His long connection with city duties gave him a widespread knowledge and appreciation of the problems of municipal government and he was held in high esteem by many city officials. For many years he served as secretary-treasurer of the Civic Club of Newton, an organization comprised only of present and former city officials. In 1913 when he had completed twenty-five years of service as clerk of the Common Council and Board of Aldermen he was tendered a testimonial banquet by members of the Civic Club. On that occasion he was presented with a beautiful gold watch and chain which were among his most prized possessions.

At intervals of several years he compiled and published three books pertaining to the history of the city and its representative citizens. The last of these, issued about six years ago, was a Memorial Record of the Newton youths who served in the World War.

Glee Club Concert A Big Success

The Highland Glee Club gave its fall concert before a large group of sponsoring members and guests at the Weeks Junior High School on Tuesday evening, December 12th.

A comprehensive and varied program was offered, arranged by D. Ralph MacLean, Director, accompanied by Karl Switzer.

Assisting the Club as guest artist was Sarah Dobbs, whose accompanist was Stephen Somerville. Miss Dobbs appeared in two groups of songs, including German and Gaelic, and responded to an encore with a most charming selection called "Lilac Tree."

Nearly 70 active members of the Glee Club participated. The selections ranged from Handel's Hallelujah, to Gilbert and Sullivan's well-known Gondoliers, and the program ended with a call for a repetition of this tuneful selection. Between were such songs as "Lamp in the West" by Horatio Parker; the facetious "To All You Ladies Now on Land the famous 'Battle Hymn of the Monks'; two well-known selections, "Ye Watchers and Ye Heralds" and "O Come All Ye Faithful"; in which the audience upon invitation joined in with much amusement being caused when the Glee Club members applauded the audience as well as the audience applauding the Glee Club; two patriotic selections, "In Flanders Field" and "The Americans Come"; a Siabian Folk Song and a Russian ballad; a negro spiritual, "Sweet Canaan"; and Tennyson's poem, "Sweet and Low"; and the virile "John Peel" by Mark Andrews. While the Glee Club rendered "Summer Evening," an old Finnish folk song, Miss Dobbs interpolated a solo, making a delightful musical combination which was received most enthusiastically.

This was the 57th concert of the Highland Glee Club since its incorporation and judging by the many comments was one of the most successful programs ever presented.

Mayor Weeks Re-elected By An Overwhelming Majority In Record City Election of 24,793 Total Votes

Weeks' Plurality of Over 8,000 More Than Combined Votes of All Opponents—All Aldermen up For Re-Election Win

The most bitterly contested city election in the history of Newton brought out a record vote on Tuesday. Of a total of 32,657 registered voters, 25,109 went to the polls; almost 77 percent. The result was—a sweeping victory for Mayor Weeks, the reelection of all members of the present Board of Aldermen, and the reelection of all members of the Ward 3 Alderman Sydney Holden, who had the strong support of the Weeks' organization, won the contest for the sale of alcoholic beverages in Newton, including the higher powered liquors.

Mayor Weeks defeated his only real opponent, Thomas W. White, two to one. Weeks received 16,334 votes; White 8072. The other three candidates received even much less support than was expected. Hodgen polled 179 votes, Drake 137, Sullivan 71. Weeks carried every precinct in the city but two. These were Precinct 3 of Ward 2 at Nonantum, and Precinct 1 of Ward 5; White's home precinct at Newton Upper Falls.

The feature in the aldermanic fight was the victory of John Temperley of Newton Upper Falls, who was reelected alderman-at-large from Ward 5. He repeated his accomplishment of two years ago by overcoming the opposition of the Weeks' machine, which had endorsed William A. Davidson after Temperley openly espoused the cause of White for mayor. In addition, Temperley overcame the opposition presented by the candidacy of Jeremiah Kelleher of Newton Upper Falls. The latter received 3241 votes; most of which would have gone to Temperley, had Kelleher not been running.

Although Edward O. Proctor ran well ahead of the other independent candidates for aldermen-at-large, Ward Alderman Sydney Holden, who had the strong support of the Weeks' organization, won the contest for the Ward 6 berth by a comfortable majority. The other aldermen-at-large seeking reelection all had easy victories. These included Howlett, Ward 1; Greenstein, Ward 2; Bowen, Ward 3; Gordon, Ward 4; Murray, Ward 7. The five Ward Aldermen reelected are: Sproat, Ward 1; Hill, Ward 2; Farrell, Ward 3; Crim, Ward 4; Chandler, Ward 5. The only close contest was in Ward 3 where Keefe made a creditable showing against Farrell and carried one precinct. In Ward 4 former Alderman Silvanus Smith, who made a determined fight to regain the office he lost last year, was again decisively defeated by Dennis Cronin. In Ward 6 in a five-cornered fight, Goddard was the winner. In Ward 7 James B. Melcher won by a substantial margin over Ellis Sutcliffe to succeed Frederick A. Hawkins.

In the contests for the School Committee Harry E. Bryant of Newtonville won by a very narrow margin over Nelson B. Vanderhoof as member from Ward 2. John Finelli, who was the third contestant, received the appreciable total of 2251 votes. Mrs. Cornell was easily reelected as member from Ward 5; defeating her young opponent, Francis W. McOwen by 4300 votes.

Perhaps the most surprising result of the election was the decision of a majority of Newton's voters to favor the sale of strong alcoholic liquors in this city. It was thought that Newton would probably vote to permit the sale of malt liquors and wines, but one could have found plenty of persons willing to bet that there would not be a majority vote to permit the sale of spirituous liquors, but there was; the margin in favor slightly over 1000.

The fair weather on Tuesday was an important factor in enabling the workers for Weeks, White and the various candidates for aldermen to get out the tremendous vote. Mr. White had a large number of workers and automobiles engaged in his behalf, but they were few in comparison with the regiment of men and women, girls and boys who were working to bring Weeks' adherents to the polls; and the fleets of automobiles assisting the Weeks' cause.

A very heavy vote was cast in the first two hours the polling places were open. During the day the vote slackened considerably but from 5:30 until the polls closed thousands of late voters cast their ballots, and intensive activity by the workers at the polls helped materially to swell the evening vote. Several of the precincts had the returns on the vote for the five candidates for Mayor counted shortly after the polling places closed. The first returns, which were received at City Hall before 9, showed a big victory for Weeks. These early returns showed that the Mayor was getting about two votes to White's one, and this ratio was obtained in the final result.

Fast Work by Firemen Checks Newtonville Blaze

Dennison Block Threatened Sunday Night

Fast work on the part of Newton firemen checked a fire which threatened the Dennison Block at the corner of Washington and Walnut sts., Newtonville, on Sunday night. Edward Dooley, who conducts the drug store at 837 Washington st., noticed smoke coming from the cellar in the building at 7:32 and gave the alarm which was pulled from Box 23. When the first fire apparatus arrived the blaze had gained considerable headway and a second alarm was sounded at 7:46. In addition to Newton fire trucks, this alarm brought a fire truck from Waltham.

The blaze, which started in a box of rubbish in the cellar, spread to the store occupied by John Tamboekian as a shoe repair shop at 839 Washington st. Damage from smoke was caused to merchandise in the dry goods store of D. B. Needham at 261 Walnut st., and Dooley's drug store. The damage to the building and contents was estimated at about $5000.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Holiday Activities of Children's Room
A Christmas Story Hour will be held on Friday, December 22nd, at 4 o'clock in the Children's Room of the Main Library, Newton Corner. Mr. and Mrs. Cronan will tell the stories and there will be carol singing. All are cordially invited to attend.

Besides the usual Christmas tree, the toy village, exhibited during Book Week, will again be shown.

USEFUL CHRISTMAS GIFTS

1. EXTENSION BRIDGE LAMP $3.45
The brighter side of the extension bridge lamp is a short to light the entire top of a bridge table. So, some one thought up this idea of a folding bracket that opens up long enough to swing well out over the table top. It is a full-sized bridge lamp in a variety of quaint prints.

2. GENERAL ELECTRIC KITCHEN CLOCK $5.25
The new Hostess electric kitchen wall clock comes in seven colors: green, ivory, white, blue, red, orange, and yellow. It is 7 1/2 inches in diameter—easy to read and one hundred per cent accurate.

3. EASY IRONER $8.50
Closed, it is a handy porcelain-topped table. At a touch of the finger, the top drops down and the iron is ready. The ironer is ready for use. It is a full-sized Easy Ironer—fast and thorough—with adjustable knee control, full open end, extra wide base and all the fine features to make home laundering easier.

4. HOTPOINT COFFEE MAKER $6.95
Coffee connoisseurs claim that, to be perfect, coffee should not boil. This General Electric Hotpoint Coffee Maker uses an improved "drip" method, bringing out a flavor that will delight the most particular coffee drinker. The bowls are Pyrex glass. All metal parts are chrome plated.

5. WESTINGHOUSE ADJUSTABLE AUTOMATIC IRON $4.95
You can see this six pound chromed-plated Westinghouse Iron for any temperature you want... and the automatic control keeps it there.

6. HOTPOINT FOOD MIXER $2.50
The General Electric Hotpoint Food Mixer has to be really thorough job of mixing, beating, stirring, whipping, and juice extracting. It also drops oil for dressings and mixes beverages. Complete with two bowls.

7. TOASTMASTER $11.50
It makes no difference whether you start the day with hot toast. Toastmaster's flexible clock holds the slice just the right length of time, pops it up when perfectly toasted, and automatically turns off the current. The single slice model is $11.50. Two slices, $16.00.

Rotary Club

"Mere chance plays a large part in the vocation choice of school pupils," said Herbert A. Landry, newly appointed director of the Department of Guidance and Research in the Newton Schools, at the regular noon-day meeting of the Newton Rotary Club.

Choices of vocations are made in various ways by pupils; some through parental inheritance wherein a boy enters the trade, profession, or business of his father regardless of his aptitude for such a vocation. Other choices are often made because of the disappointed hopes of the father, who exerts every influence to realize in his son his own life's ambition. Still other choices are made on the basis of the social prestige of certain occupations. Mr. Landry very clearly showed how choices made on these bases resulted in gross maladjustments and serious misfits in life careers. Every child has the right of the best scientific plan of analysis, where he becomes known by his growth in the schools, by demonstrated aptitudes, interests, and capacities. An individual has a right to make his own choice, but such choices should be made on the basis of scientific data, measurements, and records, so that his evaluation may be in light of known ap- praisals.

To create a more practical basis for self direction, knowledge of the world at work will be brought into every child's life in the Newton Schools. The emphasis will be on planning, routing and measuring so that every child may have the advantages of individual attention. Each child will be assured of improved procedures so that he may have the greatest possible individual development.

The question period showed the great interest stimulated by Mr. Landry's very effective discussion of the new work of his department.

The club had as guests: James O'Connell and Harry Smith of Watertown, Willis Connor, Lydonville, Vermont; Russell Green, Quincy; and Edward Fisher, Palmer.

NATHAN FULLER CHAPTER, D. R.

The December meeting of the Nathan Fuller Chapter, D. R., was held on the 12th at the home of Miss Eleanor Gibbs, 155 Hunnewell ave., Newton. The regent presided and opened the meeting with the salute to the flag. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and accepted. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, read a letter of thanks from the President of the Gov. John A. Andrew Home for the basket of fruit which the chapter sent there at Thanksgiving time.

Recommendations of the executive board regarding magazine subscriptions for the Veterans' Hospitals at Bedford and Rutland, a small gift for each child at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children, and Christmas dinner for a poor family in Newton were accepted.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held January 9th at the home of Miss Barbara Estabrook, 37 Beechcroft rd., Newton. At this meeting the officers of the Sarah Hull and State Societies, D. R., will be guests.

After the business meeting adjourned, Mrs. Marjorie Sanderson, head of the Social Service Dept. of the Florence Crittenton Hospital in Brighton talked of the work going on under the auspices of the society.

During the social hour Mrs. Richard Lee and Mrs. Ernest J. McKenna assisted the hostess.

By L. D. G. Bentley

Beg pardon, but did you say of our city election, "I had an idea all along it would come out that way?"

Oddments

Working under high pressure must be considerable of a strain to those engaged in directing emergency relief. The heads of departments get the publicity while the clerks seldom figure in what appears in print. I haven't heard a word of complaint. Of course that's the best part of it—a splendid spirit of cooperation. Yet one of the young women good naturedly protested. Said she, "The business of working days, nights and Sundays is all right because it's in a good cause, but I don't see why we don't get our picture in the papers. Everybody's being photographed but us."

It is not sermonizing—at least not so intended—to say that a New England conscience sometimes pays. A preacher would insist that it always pays. Well, whichever way you feel about it, I have an incident to relate. A man employed in an office where there has long been established a rule against personal telephone calls was tempted to do wrong. That is, he wanted to use the office phone for a personal call. He could have easily gotten away with it. But, no, being a New Englander and conscientious, he put on his coat and hat and went out to do wrong. That is, he wanted to use the office phone for a personal call. He expected his nickel to be returned but not the shower of dimes and quarters that followed. His conscience might have spurred him to return the money to the telephone company but at that moment it failed him.

Chewing-gum Thoughts

Sometimes a trifling gift may embarrass us if received unexpectedly. A large gift would completely knock me for a goal if ever it was bestowed. But still I am of a judicial mind, in spite of a recent experience. It all happened when I found out that the manufacturers of a well known brand of chewing gum had favored me with samples of their product. Here was I possessed of some of the freshest and nicest gum obtainable. Ordinarily, chewing gum is not among my indulgencies. It used to be but eventually I gave it up for fear of seeming undignified or something like that.

Opening my gift package I was thrilled. Here were three sticks or hunks of gum. Three different flavors, too. How thoughtful and how generous. Immediately I started to select one for chewing purposes. Which flavor would it be? I hesitated. Then I thought, why not all flavors? And I wondered how a combination of the three flavors would taste and whether I should break off one of each to get the effect or try to chew three sticks at once.

While wrestling with the problem I suddenly remembered that I was about to go forth among people and it occurred to me that I might be making a mistake. Is it quite the thing to chew gum on a public street? The last time I did it more than one person gazed at me in critical surprise. I remember full well how a young woman of charming appearance raised her plucked eyebrows as she viewed my mastications from across the aisle of a trolley car.

Possibly it was the memories of that silent censure or it may have been my deep and abiding respect for conventions. Whatever it was I could not screw my courage up to make the break. I placed the gum back on my desk, determined to do my chewing in solitude. No one would deny that I had that right. Thus I relieved my mind. When, however, I actually got around to it some lachrymous person had taken the gum, leaving me nothing to worry about or chew over.

"Wrap It Up, Please"

There seems to be nothing that one cannot learn nowadays. To be more exact I should say that there is offered everybody a chance to grasp an elementary knowledge of a great many interesting subjects through the State's university extension courses. In fact, after studying the catalogue put out by that department it seemed that nothing had been omitted, except possibly smelt fishing and roller skating. The approach of the Christmas season has caused me to add another and at that a highly important subject to the list of those overlooked.

This second term will be at the First Baptist Church, Waltham, for ten Tuesday evenings commencing January 9. Bible courses will be given by Professors Warmingham and Lowstuter of Waban and Newtonville respectively. Methods courses will be given by Miss Doris Bigglestone, Mrs. H. P. Williams, Miss Luliona Barker and Mrs. H. B. Hartwell.

Tying-up packages is in itself an art. I know of a place where I frequently stand in admiration of the clerks who speedily wrap paper around a bundle and then proceed to bind it with string. It's a matter of dexterity, of course, but it requires more than ordinary skill to be able to break the string by twisting it around the fingers. How they do it I cannot understand. Whenever I have attempted the trick I have accomplished nothing more than a slight bruise on my fingers, with the string unbroken. The scissors for mine every time.

So many things have been invented or devised for tying bundles that a course in this science could cover several weeks' study. How to break string, how to fold the ends of paper, how to use the glued paper strips without waste or creating a torn and ugly appearance, how to put ribbon on a package of candy the way it is done in factories—there's something I'd like to know—how to make fancy knots that will stay flat, how to attach cellophane neatly, how to make a neat looking bundle for parcel post purposes—gracious, what a lot of things there are to learn! Maybe there are those who would never learn and whose fingers are all thumbs. I'm at present in that class myself, but willing to graduate.

Kiwanis Club

On Tuesday, December 12, the Newton Kiwanis Club met at the Charles River Country Club for a noon day luncheon, under the able direction of George White, its President.

The feature of the meeting was a talking motion picture, "The Inside Story" by Edwin B. Hill, the famous radio announcer. This was enthusiastically received.

"Ex-Kiwanis Day" is scheduled for next Tuesday, December 19. An especially interesting program is arranged and every Kiwanis, as well as ex-Kiwanis, member is urged to attend the luncheon that date at the Charles River Country Club.

NEWTON DEMOLAY CHAPTER

Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at its regular meeting last Saturday evening, had as its guests nearly fifty teachers, coaches and other instructors from the schools in Newton, Waltham, Belmont, Needham and Wellesley. The three great lights of the Order are the Holy Bible, the Flag and the School Books, and it was in emphasis of the latter that a special occasion was made at the meeting referred to. The initiatory degree was worked on twenty-five candidates, after which Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Chairman of the Advisory Council of Newton Chapter, delivered an address on Education.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The regular meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Warren on the afternoon of Dec. 7 with the Regent, Mrs. F. A. Shute presiding. Business being disposed of the afternoon was in charge of the programme committee.

Mrs. Chester Tubbard read a very fine paper on the life of John Eliot, missionary, which was full of interesting facts of his life among the Indians.

Miss Geneva Brown gave a reading in her own pleasing manner which was much enjoyed by those present.

Miss Brown is a young reader of much promise and will go far in her chosen line of work.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her able assistants.

A little more than thirty-three years ago a new pen took up the creation of the editorial policy of this column. It flowed with ideas and inspiration. The pen has been laid down.

He has not gone. He is just away. He has passed beyond our sight—to life everlasting—to a haven where peace and love alone abide.

He leaves—his ideals—his inspiration—a heritage.

The hand that held the torch has passed it down. May it light our way as it did his.

THE RE-ELECTION OF MAYOR WEEKS

The re-election of Mayor Weeks by an overwhelming majority is significant. The intense interest in the election, the large field of candidates for minor offices, and a contest for each position on the ballot served to set a new all-time record for the total vote cast at a city election in Newton. About seventy-seven per cent of the more than thirty-two thousand registered voters went to the polls.

An overwhelming majority of voters placed their stamp of approval on Mayor Weeks' administration—an administration that has been reflected in the maintenance of a sound financial standing and a low tax rate. It proved the confidence in which the Mayor is held by the citizens and taxpayers. While the re-election of Mayor Weeks seemed assured through the inability of such an able candidate and political strategist as Thomas W. White to uncover an issue on which to base his campaign, few, if any, felt that the Mayor's plurality would exceed the total vote cast for his combined opponents.

The closing days of the campaign brought the question down to the single decision as to whether or not the voters desired a change at City Hall. The answer was emphatically against a change. Ballot after ballot was marked for all candidates for re-election to office and they were swept in on the tidal wave. An enthusiastic endorsement for city officials.

The election is of more than local significance. Mayor Sinclair Weeks has been a logical possibility for further political honors for some time. With his long career in politics Thomas W. White has attained prominence throughout the state and he was also a possible candidate for further consideration. The overwhelming endorsement of Mayor Weeks has brought him into the field for advancement in the near future.

The Weeks' victory was brought about largely by the so-called younger group of voters. The Republican party in Newton has changed rapidly in recent years. The old leadership has gone—a new leadership has taken its place. And with that new leadership will come a realignment of political forces.

CONGRATULATIONS

We congratulate Mayor Weeks upon his re-election. We congratulate the city for the overwhelming endorsement of his administration. And we congratulate the voters for the determined stand that they took that a change was neither necessary nor desirable. The great majority of citizens and voters have faith in Sinclair Weeks.

Have you purchased your Christmas Health Seals? If not, do it now and help a worthy cause.

Poet and Seer

DECEMBER 17th marks the birth of the poet, John Greenleaf Whittier, 126 years ago. From his "Randolph of Roanoke," we quote:

"Still through every change of fortune strange
Rocked nerve, and brain all burning,
His loving faith in Mother-land Knew never shade of turning."

Such unshaken faith in ourselves, our fellowmen, our country and its great institutions cannot but help lead us up hill again under the banners of the NRA.

Sir Norman Angell At West Newton

Sir Norman Angell, who is to speak next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Unitarian Church in West Newton is spoken of by one great American writer as "the deepest publicist who has written in English since Hamilton." Few social prophets have been so vindicated, in their own life time, as Sir Norman. His book "The Great Illusion" provoked one of the greatest controversies of the generation and the war and what followed proved his thesis to the hilt. He is unique in having secured for books dealing with politics and economics, which are usually deemed to be dry and abstruse subjects, the sale of best sellers in fiction. "The Fruits of Victory," "The Public Mind," "The Unknown Assassins" are known wherever the finest modern writing is appreciated. His latest book "From Chaos to Control" received a full page notice in the New York Times Book Review this May, which is an indication of the challenging nature of his thought. A brilliant and convincing speaker, Sir Norman will discuss, next Sunday, "Why This Chaos?" A half hour organ recital at 3:30 by William Ellis Weston will precede the lecture.

The fourth number in the series, will be given on Wednesday evening, December 20th, when Mr. Hitchin, minister of the church, will give an interpretation of the play "Crossings" by Walter de la Mare, which radiantly captures the spirit of Christmas. This will be at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

TO PREACH FOR DEPRESSION HEROES

Five years after his first sermon at Lincoln Park Church, Rev. John Shade Franklin will preach again this Sunday morning on the same subject he used then, "The Uses of Prayer." At the West Newton Community Evening Service his subject will be "The Brave," a message for the heroes of the Depression conflict which all trust is now drawing to a victorious end.

Lincoln Park Church brought to a happy conclusion Tuesday evening, the 80th Anniversary of its founding, a week's program in celebration of the organization of the church on Dec. 12, 1853. Among the speakers for the final service were Mr. Clarence V. Moore, clerk of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, which was formed in part by members of the First Baptist Church, Newtonville, Lincoln Park's first name, seventy-three years ago; Rev. Louis E. Ford, pastor of the Myrtle Baptist Church, formed by members of the Lincoln Park Church fifty-nine years ago; Rev. Randolph Merrill, Secretary of the Newton Ministers' Association, on behalf of the churches of Newton; Hon. Edwin O. Childs, a lifelong friend of all the churches of Newton; and Dr. Frederick L. Anderson, teacher of Lincoln Park's pastures who studied at Andover-Newton Theological Institution since 1900.

—Betty Ann Finnegan, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Finnegan of Myrtle st., is confined to her home with the chicken pox.

—The friends of Miss Ellen C. Anderson of 15 Webster st. regret to learn of her recent illness, but are pleased to learn that she is recovering.

—Mr. Bernard Rolfe and Mr. Richard Howard conducted the service of the Co-Op Club in the Parish House of the Second Church on last Sunday evening. "The Closed Book" was the subject of discussion.

—Robert Herrington of Perkins st. was tapped to membership in Boston University chapter of Scarab and Blade, national military honorary fraternity. He is a student at the College of Business Administration.

—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Barbo of Washington st. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barbo of Armory st. spent the past week in New York where they visited Mrs. Daniel Barbo's mother who has been seriously ill.

—The very popular and much enjoyed Vesper Services have been resumed in Fuller Chapel of the Second Church at 4:30 each Thursday afternoon. "The Eternal Goodness" was the theme for the vesper service of this week.

—Mrs. Herbert W. Smith of Avalon rd. has been visiting relatives in East Kingston, N. H., this week.

—Mrs. Charles W. Elmer of Plainfield st. had as a weekend guest Mrs. Herbert Shonk of New York.

—Mrs. Kenneth McCutcheon is convalescing at her Chestnut st. home after her recent serious illness.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

KNOWING OUR PUPILS BETTER

A physician never prescribes a remedy to a patient until he has made a careful diagnosis of that patient's ailment. He gathers all the information that concerns the case at hand, makes a searching analysis of these facts, and then recommends a particular remedy or treatment.

Similarly, teachers and guidance counselors cannot write adequate "prescriptions" until they have a complete knowledge of those pupils whom they would guide or counsel. They can give adequate guidance only when all the information which bears upon the question at issue can be assembled and seen in perspective.

Individual teachers have always learned certain facts concerning the individual pupils in their care which made it easier to understand them and treat them as individuals. As these pupils have gone on from room to room and from school to school, however, there has not always been provision for passing on all of this valuable information so that each new teacher or counselor could have all the facts concerning the new pupils. In order, therefore, that we may know and treat more effectively as individuals the boys and girls in our schools, our new division of research and guidance is devising a system of cumulative records that will make it possible for us to know all the pertinent information regarding a particular pupil.

It is not enough to know about a child at any given instant. We must seek to know him at different times and under different conditions. We must seek to have a continuous picture of the progressive growth of the child, beginning with the time he enters kindergarten and continuing until the child leaves our schools. In this progressive picture it is not enough to know only the school progress of a child in terms of his achievement in various kinds of subject matter. We must know him in all of his relationships as a complete individual. There must be available information concerning his physical growth, his personal and developmental history, his social history and reactions, his abilities and disabilities, his interests and attitudes, his moral and emotional reactions, in short, everything that will contribute to a more thorough understanding of the child. This information must be made available to all those who would need to know because of their contacts with the child.

Within the limits of our school organization we shall seek to provide as complete a picture of each individual child as has been hitherto known of that relatively small group of children who have constituted serious problems, and who have, for this reason, been the subject of close study.

Such information, readily available, will make it possible for a teacher to make a survey of her class even before she sees her pupils, thereby enabling her to adapt the work of the grade or subject to the group and to the individual pupil. The teacher's effectiveness will be increased, since more time may be spent in further study of the children of the group rather than by repeating observations made by former teachers. Such an interest will help to redirect the classroom emphasis from the subject to the child. Finally, it will enable us to guide each child to make the most of his possibilities that he may take his place in our future society as a happy and well-adjusted individual.

Next week we will describe the newer devices and procedures used in child study.

MRS. SUSAN A. SHERMAN

Mrs. Susan Addie Sherman, for many years a resident of 39 Linden st., Newton Upper Falls, died at the Newton Hospital on Friday, December 8. Mrs. Sherman is survived by her husband Mr. A. Eugene Sherman of 38 Linden st., Upper Falls, one daughter, and one son Mr. Bernard Sherman of 715 Watertown st., Newtonville.

Funeral services were held from the Newton Cemetery Chapel on Monday, December 11, at 1:30 p.m. Rev. G. Vaughan Shedd, pastor of the First M. E. Church, Upper Falls, officiating. Mr. Allan Frazer, minister of music of the First M. E. Church, sang. Burial was in the family lot in Marshfield Cemetery, Marshfield, Mass.

Recent Weddings

LEATHERBEE—ULLMANN

Miss Helen L. Ullmann, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry J. Ullmann of Santa Barbara, California, was married on Saturday, December 9, in the Church of the Messiah to Mr. John H. Leatherbee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Leatherbee of Hatchville, formerly of Chestnut st., West Newton, and a graduate of Harvard College with the class of 1933. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend James Bancroft and the bride was attended by Miss Eleanor Boyd of San Mateo, California, and Miss Marjorie Dickson of Santa Barbara, California, who were classmates of the bride at Leland Stanford. Mr. Thomas Torrey of Scarsdale, New York, served as best man. Those serving as ushers were Mr. Walter O. Luskomb, Jr., Mr. Richard Francis, Jr., Mr. Clinton Leatherbee, Jr., and Mr. Harold W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Leatherbee will make their home in Hatchville, Mass.

Recent Engagements

MT. IDA SCHOOL

Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Thissell, Jr., of Waban are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Eleanor Thissell to Mr. Lee E. Langford of Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y. Miss Thissell studied at Newton High School and is now attending Emerson College of Oratory. Mr. Langford is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute. Their wedding will take place in June.

SPEEDERS FINED

The students of Mount Ida School will present the annual Christmas play at 8:15 on Tuesday evening, Dec. 19, 1933, to which it cordially invites the friends of the school. The play to be given is entitled "This Romantic Age" and the characters have been assigned to students in the Dramatic Department.

These functions are an annual custom of the school and have been greatly enjoyed not only by the students and their friends but also by people in the city.

REGINA WRIGHT of 300 Prince st., West Newton, was fined $10 in the Newton court on Wednesday for speeding. In court the same day a fine of $25 was imposed on Mary Cloverdale, 19, a Wellesley student. It was her second conviction for speeding within a year.

GOLDIE YARCHIN of 66 Westchester rd., Newton, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving her car onto a through way without stopping. Charlotte Ginsberg of Brookline was fined a like amount for a like offence.

ART MYSTERY ROMANCE

Style, too, in GIFTS of Exquisite OLD Jewelry

Bouquet brooches of carved coral, intricately designed yellow gold pieces set with black onyx; fringed and fretted brooch-and-earring sets; gold with turquoise, pearls and garnets; plenty of old cameo rings, men's and women's; dramatic large rings and a wealth of old bangles—all these you'll see.

BUT, see them EARLY, for nothing can be replaced, no piece or complete set of jewelry has a duplicate.

Debutantes are actually getting their ears pierced the better to follow the fashion of old jewelry. Grandmothers are adding more heirlooms to the treasures of their youth. Women of all ages are frankly buying grandmother jewelry for themselves.

Christmas Seals

Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs (clubwomen do not need to be told her title), has this to say to all citizens, in the December issue of The Clubwoman, on The President's Page:

"DON'T FAIL TO BUY THE CHRISTMAS SEALS THIS YEAR, FOR THE MONEY WAS NEVER MORE SADLY NEEDED!"

General Federation

BOARD MEETING. For the first time in the history of the General Federation, the Board of Directors will have as an honor guest and speaker a First Lady of the Land, when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt attends the dinner given by the Board on Friday evening, January 12th, at the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. Roosevelt, who is of course well known to women for her interest in public affairs, particularly in the field of social betterment, will bring a message of special interest to club leaders. Board members will be privileged to invite a limited number of guests. Plates for the dinner will be $2.50.

State Federation

RADIO. The State division of Music is to have the radio half-hour tomorrow, the 16th, from 11:15 to 11:45 o'clock, over Station WBZ, when Mrs. George Schroeder, the chairman, will be presented by Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Radio chairman. Mrs. Schroeder has arranged for an "Explanatory Talk on Music," and she will have the following artists on her program: Helen Coates and Jean Whittingham, in a composition for two pianos; and Mrs. Fletcher P. Osgood, Soprano soloist, with Mrs. E. L. Allen, accompanist.

PRESS AND PUBLICITY. Club-women especially interested in spreading Club News should save the date January 19th, when Mrs. Reuben Gleason, Jr., Press chairman, and Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Radio chairman, are to hold a Joint Conference in the Ball Room Foyer of the Hotel Statler, at 10 a. m., with a Luncheon at one o'clock.

CLUB INSTITUTES. Three prominent club-women of the country are already out for the office of president of the General Federation of Women's Club at the election which will take place in Detroit, Michigan, in 1935, upon the conclusion of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole's term of three years. Mrs. Poole announced on the Club Institute held on Thursday, the 7th, at the Y. W. C. A. in Boston, as she talked on the subject, "Let's Look at the General Federation." Those who are candidates to be her successors are Mrs. Eugene M. Lawson of Oklahoma, the "Indian Princess" of the General Federation, who is the first vice-president of the organization; Dr. Josephine Peirce of Ohio, second vice-president; and Mrs. Edward Hammert of Wisconsin, the treasurer.

Mrs. Poole explained that the president's state never endorses any candidate to succeed her in office, and also that she herself will play no favorites and will not participate actively in electing her successor, refusing even to divulge which candidate will receive her vote.

Mrs. Poole also revealed that the organization was $10,000 in debt when she assumed office, and amazed her auditors by announcing that at the Board Meeting last winter, this had all been cancelled, by rigid economy, and that now there is a good balance on the credit side of the ledger, for the first time in many years.

Mrs. Poole announced that she has offered two prizes of $10 each for the clubs that bring in the greatest gain in membership at the meeting next May in Hot Springs, Ark. The Wyoming State Federation offers a first prize of $75 and a second prize of $50 for the same achievements. Mrs. Poole sounded a warning to the women's clubs in regard to becoming involved in connections with other groups that may desire their co-operation, unless they have a voice in all proceedings and know "where every cent is gained and expended." "Get the habit of being suspicious and say 'No,'" she emphasized: "You have a right to dictate your opinion in forming policies."

Mrs. R. Moore, president of the Concord Woman's Club, amazed every listener with a remarkable story, of how Club has started six weeks' educational free courses in that town this year. Volunteer instructors for these classes have been found in the community, she related, and the greatest enthusiasm prevails. There are 452 enrolled. Such subjects as interior decorating, elementary English, stenography and typewriting, cooking (which claims 117 students), renovating clothing, parliamentary law, debating, economics, radio and handicrafts are taught. Mrs. Poole declared that this was one of the finest undertakings she has heard of in the country.

GENEVA CONFERENCE. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett has recently received a message of thanks and appreciation from Sir Arthur Henderson, president of the Conference for the Reduction and Limitation of Arms by International Agreement. The Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, at its Autumn Meeting in Great Barrington, cables a resolution of endorsement and co-operation to be presented to Sir Arthur when the Conference opened in Geneva. This message was in concert with 917 other women's organizations, 402 churches, 465 schools and colleges, as well as many individuals in the United States who are actively interested in world peace.

WAR VETERANS. "Making a Happy Christmas for Disabled Veterans and their Families" is the slogan of Mrs. Gordon Burkes, chairman of the division of Co-operation with War Veterans. Women's Clubs throughout the State can do much to spread cheer to the boys during this holiday season. The hospitals are asking for Christmas greens, cigarettes, tobacco, greeting cards, and many other articles so badly needed. Mrs. Burkes will gladly give any further help or information.

MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS. The Music division of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. George F. Schroeder, chairman, announces scholarships available to applicants who are unable to continue further their studies in voice or piano. Auditions in Boston are to be held on January 14th, afternoon and evening, in Steinert Hall, 162 Boylston street. Auditions in Springfield and Worcester will be held on January 21st and 28th, the places to be announced. Contestants must be between the ages of 18 and 30 years. For complete information, those interested should consult Mrs. Schroeder, or Miss Elsie Bird, 111 St. Paul street, Brookline.

Newton Federation

The Motion Pictures committee, a new committee in the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, through its chairman, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, wishes to call attention to the program at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, for January 21st, 22nd, 23rd, and 24th. The management of the theatre will present two splendid feature pictures "Little Women" and "Berkeley Square," at no advance in prices. The co-operation of the theatre is appreciated by the committee and a full attendance at each performance will prove the endorsement of Newton club-women of good motion pictures. Club women in assisting in this patronage, too, will be spared "movie-shopping" in Boston or elsewhere for these pictures, and will find it much more convenient to attend these special performances nearer home. They should save one of these dates, therefore, for this excellent entertainment.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On Sunday December 17th, from 3 to 9 p. m., the Art committee, Mrs. Don J. Edwards, chairman, will give a Crèche Exhibit in the Workshop. The Garden Club, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Newton, president, will have Christmas decorations to display, and the Music committee, Mrs. Harry A. Hageman, chairman, will lead in carol singing in the evening.

Members of the Club with their families and friends are invited to this interesting affair of the Woman's Club.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Tomorrow evening, the 16th, the Newton Centre Woman's Club and friends will enjoy another of their Annual Concerts and Dances at their Club House at 8:15 o'clock. Madame Apolline Blair will direct the Club Chorus, and Mr. Armen Carapetian will be the guest Violinist, with Mrs. Montague Ford as his accompanist. Mrs. Kirtley Mather will be the accompanist of the Chorus. Dancing will be an added feature following the Concert. Tickets at $1 may be obtained from Mrs. Ellis Spear, or from members of the Chorus.

Waban Woman's Club

The program for the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, December 18th, will be in keeping with the Christmas season. Mrs. Ward L. Cornell will talk on "Christmas Greens and Decorations" and she will exhibit various arrangements of these appropriate at this holiday time.

A Nativity Play, coached by Miss Dorothy Goggs, daughter of a Club member, will be presented, with small children from Waban taking the parts, and a chorus of High School girls singing Christmas music during the performance.

Following the program tea will be served by the Social committee, of which Mrs. George E. Armstrong and Mrs. John Davis are the hostesses.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Club Day, December 19th, will be entirely devoted to the entertainment of sixty special guests who have been invited to the Christmas Party of the Newtonville Woman's Club. Since last Spring the committee, under the direction of Mrs. J. Walter Allen, has been busy planning, shopping, and sewing for this annual event, and the little guests, whose ages range from five to eight years, will come from Newton Upper Falls, Thompsonville, Newton Centre, West Newton, and Nonantum. School nurses and teachers have assisted the Club in selecting the guests whose Christmas will be made happier by an afternoon of entertainment and a visit with Santa Claus. Members of the Volunteer Service committee will call at the school house and a teacher will accompany each group; after the party the youngsters will be taken to their homes.

By vote of the Executive Board of the Club, no other children than those especially invited will be admitted.

The son of a member will provide the entertainment. A puppet show, Jack and the Beanstalk, also Variety Bits, will be presented by Bill Fish and His Marionettes, who talk and act in a realistic manner. After this jolly show, the Social committee will serve refreshments, following which Santa Claus with two little special messengers, children of Club members, will greet the youngsters, and dispense toys and clothing from a surprisingly bountiful tree. Miss Marion Drew Bassett is the delegate of the Club again this year to contact with these little guests and to assure them that there is a Santa who wishes them to enjoy a happy afternoon.

The firemen at the Newton Station during the past few weeks have been mending and painting used toys, a much appreciated contribution to the preparation of this party, as in former years. The Flower committee, whose chairman is Mrs. Madeline C. MacPherson, will have charge of trimming the tree and of the decorations, and will have for sale at this time inexpensive Christmas wreaths.

At 9 o'clock p. m. on Christmas Eve the Drama committee will present living pictures grouped in the tower doorway of the Club House, in connection with the community singing led by carolers grouped around the municipal tree on the Park in front of the Club House.

Newton Community Club

Delightful and mysterious preparations are going gaily forward for the Children's Christmas Party to be given by the Newton Community Club to a large number of little guests on the afternoon of Thursday, the 21st, in the Underwood School Hall. The Juniors have been busy for several weeks making ready the stockings in which candy, fruit, and toys will be packed for the tree. Besides these presents there will be an entertainment by Mr. C. Elliot Smith, ventriloquist and magician, and afterwards there will be refreshments, with ice cream and cake completing the real party for these children who would not otherwise be visited by Santa Claus this year if the Club were not making this effort to give pleasure to some needy families of the city.

West Newton Woman's Educational Club

Friday, December 22nd, is the date on which the West Newton Women's Educational Club will entertain the children of the Club members at a Christmas Party, to be held at the Second Church, West Newton, at 2:30 p. m. This meeting is in charge of the Literature and Drama departments of the Federation committee, co-operating with the Program committee of the Club. Mrs. Edwin M. Wolley and her co-worker, Mrs. Biff Jones, with their committee, are assuming the responsibility for the success of the party. All the children who attend are asked to bring some small gift, either a toy or an article of clothing, nor for one another, but for the children in the community who are in need. Useful gifts are also asked of the Club members. All these Christmas packages will be donated to some local organization which will, in turn, distribute them to the children who are most in need of them at Christmas time. If any of the Club members prefer to have the chairmen purchase gifts for these children, they may send the money to Mrs. Wolley, Mrs. Jones, or to one of their committee, and they will see that some useful articles of clothing are purchased and sent to those children who are most in need of them.

RECENT EVENTS

Community Service Club of West Newton

Regardless of the rain, a large and appreciative audience of members and guests enjoyed the presentation of "The Madonna" by Rosamond Joyelle, at the meeting of the Community Service Club at West Newton, on Wednesday, December 6th. Miss Joyelle possesses unusual dramatic ability, and by a skillful arrangement of draperies and change of tone interprets all of the thirteen characters she presents. Her reverent portrayal of the Christ child and her sweet humility in the role of the Virgin were particularly beautiful. Mrs. Frank S. Tower's piano accompaniment, and a solo charmingly sung by Miss Phyllis Brown, added much to a most artistic performance.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs.

in Russia, Germany, and England. He explained clearly and concisely just what Bolshevism is, what it has accomplished in Russia, and what it has failed to accomplish so far. He also assured his audience that "Bolshevism was a garment which would never fit American shoulders"—truly a comforting thought. Then he reviewed the German situation of today. He gave a vivid picture of Hitler—a marvellous orator, a firebrand, a magnetic personality—and described what he has done to the present time for Germany, and what he has failed to do, and the harm that he has done. Lastly, he touched upon conditions in England, describing briefly the two present wars, the Economic war and the Currency war, and showing how prosperity is gradually but surely coming back to England without any "quack remedies."

A social hour with refreshments served by the Hospitality committee brought the afternoon's program to a close. Those who assisted by pouring at the tea table were Mrs. George F. Larcom and Mrs. B. Howard Lester.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A demonstration of Flower Arrangements, especially planned to be low in cost, was given before the Garden Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Monday afternoon.

The speaker, Miss Ruth Peticolas, brought from Carbone's several types of containers, and combined cut flowers with some of the dried ones such as sunmace and goldenrod, using just a few of the fresh flowers for color.

The chairman, Mrs. Charles Grover, conducted a brief business meeting, calling attention to the coming event in January when members only will stage a Flower Exhibit.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, of Central street.

The second in the series of Contract Bridge lessons which are being given free to Auburndale Woman's Club members, was held Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Austin Eaton conducting the construction periods. An hour of play followed, during which Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Herbert Athens and Mrs. Winthrop Stiles gave advice to the players.

A social hour, in charge of Mrs. William A. Smith and Mrs. Lipecom Bruce, Jr., closed the afternoon's program.

The Annual Christmas Party of the Business and Professional Group was held last Tuesday evening, and the chairman of the group, Miss Lillian Gerroll, was hostess at the Club house. At this time the gifts for the Canton Home for Crippled Children are assembled and dolls, stuffed animals, toys of all kinds, and jewelry made a fine display. A most entertaining evening was spent in the filling of the stockings with nuts, candy, and small toys, part of which go to the Welfare Bureau, and the result was very gratifying. A social hour brought the evening to a close.

Wendell C. Crouch

late of Newton in said County, wife of Paul Webb Crouch of Windsor, in the State of New York, representing that her husband fails without just cause to pay debts due him, and that he has failed to accomplish in Russia, and what it has failed to accomplish so far. He also assured his audience that "Bolshevism was a garment which would never fit American shoulders"—truly a comforting thought. Then he reviewed the German situation of today. He gave a vivid picture of Hitler—a marvellous orator, a firebrand, a magnetic personality—and described what he has done to the present time for Germany, and what he has failed to do, and the harm that he has done. Lastly, he touched upon conditions in England, describing briefly the two present wars, the Economic war and the Currency war, and showing how prosperity is gradually but surely coming back to England without any "quack remedies."

The speaker, Miss Ruth Peticolas, brought from Carbone's several types of containers, and combined cut flowers with some of the dried ones such as sunmace and goldenrod, using just a few of the fresh flowers for color.

The chairman, Mrs. Charles Grover, conducted a brief business meeting, calling attention to the coming event in January when members only will stage a Flower Exhibit.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, of Central street.

School NotesDay Jr. High School

Great interest is centering around the campaigns for ninth and eighth grade officers. Candidates have been holding rallies in the home rooms and have been utilizing the radio to bring their parties before the attention of the student body.

Ninth grade parties are the Progressive, with Richard Whitney, Geraldine Wisbach, Marcella Renard, and William
Kinney as candidates; the Blue Eagle, offering Carmen Napolitano, Alfredo Coletti, Michael Civetti, and Alfred Marzilli, the Navigators, proposing Bernard Erickson, Arthur
Henderson, Janet Merrill, and Betty Jarf.

In the eighth grade the United Party consists of William Nelson, Donald Emin, Winifred Mergenthaler, and Dudley Hall; Harry Bond, Eleanor Sheas and
Jack Arend comprise the Federalist Party. There is one independent candidate for president, Frank Scheehl.

The Dayton Club was responsible for the assembly on December 13. From between the covers of a large magazine stepped the boys and girls who participated. They illustrated in very clever and original ways the different departments which are to be found in this year's school paper, the "Daytonian," whose first issue will appear before Christmas. Club members who took part were Joan Cox, Nancy Flagg, Winifred Batty, Jean
Brownning, Sidney Cox, Walter Crane,
Merle Dalton, Frank Light, William
Nelson, Albert Everts, Geraldine Wisbach portrayed the peasant girl of Breton's picture, "Song of the Lark."

Ernest Johnson of Division 1D exhibited in the corridor a creche which he had made at home and which his father had wired for him. The special broadcast of the Radio Club on Friday set forth the history of the city of Newton. The Research Committee was responsible for preparing the program.

For the first time in an F. A. Day assembly a "talkie" was shown on December 6th. It was enthusiastically viewed by both children and teachers. The film presented the processes by which the cacao bean is transformed into chocolate in the Hershey Plant in Pennsylvania.

Much excellent work is being done by the clubs. Members of the Marionette Club are busily engaged in molding the heads of the puppets which they hope to use in a performance to be presented later in the year. The Art-Needle Club has very daintily embroidered some luncheon sets and handkerchiefs. The Visual Aid Operators Club keeps notebooks with descriptions of and directions for operating the various machines owned by the school. The Camera Club has been taking photographs and developing them.

The seventh grade held its election on December 11. The officers elected are Thomas Burkhardt, president; John Gahan, vice-president; Shirley Green; secretary, and Kendall Fischer.

The boys' leaders corps conducted the assembly program of December 13. They held the attention of the audience while they illustrated some of the important fundamentals of the game of football. Members of the corps who took part in the performance were Thorne, Hurley, and DeGenuino of the seventh grade; Stoneham, Arubuckle, Johnston, Hickman, Robey, Leger, Klein, Powers, Gehling and McNeille of the eighth grade; Coughlin, Hardy, Blair, Isham, Nichols, Nelson, Fitchet and A. Thompson of the ninth grade.

When the curtains of the auditorium parted at the assembly program of December 6, the members of the audience of the Weeks' Junior High found that the Art department had a treat in store for them. The stage was bare except for a large picture frame which was later to enclose living reproductions of many popular canvases, as well as some of the world's greatest masterpieces, most of the pictures were paintings of children. The program included the following canvases brought to life by members of the Art classes:

"Boy with a Rabbit," by Henry Raeburn; "Edwin Meeser, 'Hearing,'" Jessie Wilcox Smith, Mary Reilly; "Reading," Jessie Wilcox Smith; "The Sower," Jean Francis Millet; "Carl Lancaster, 'The Song of the Lark,'" Jules Breton; "Bertie Keely, 'Portrait of My Mother,'" James McNeil Whistler; Irene Laern; "The Jester," Frans Hals; George O'Innenzenzo; "The Melon Eaters," Murillo; John Harrigan, John MacDonald; "The Virgin," Abbott Thayer; Elizabeth Banchas, Anna Kearns and Shirley Green; "Blue Boy," Gainsborough; Pat Kimball; "Madonna," Janet D'Englebert.

Ellis Dierdorff held the rapt attention of the audience for thirty-five minutes with his lucid explanations of the masterpieces and the lives of their originators. Mr. Alvin Parker arranged the appropriate musical accompaniment.

Class basketball is in full swing for the 1933-34 season. The various home rooms have organized their teams and have elected the following captains: Seventh Grade, manager, R. Albers; Assistant, G. Henry; Room 107, S. Toranto and A. Taith

Girl Scouts Hold Yuletide Frolic

Ceremonies to Take Place in Cabot's Woods, Dec. 19th

The Newton Girl Scouts are to revive a picturesque custom of Old

England in their Yuletide Frolic on Dec. 19th. Cabot's Woods is to be turned into the Court of King Fun, who will sponsor a hunt for the Yule

Log and a frolic for members of Girl

Scout Troops throughout the city.

King Fun and his attendant Pages,

Heralds and the Court Jester will start the Girl Scouts on a hunt for the large oak log at 3:15 p. m. When it has been found, Herald will blow a trumpet call to bring the King's subjects together around the great

Yule fire. There, the winning troop, arrayed in red caps, will place the log on the fire, to the accompaniment of singing by the entire company.

Gathered around the fire, Girl

Scouts will witness the presentation of the Golden Eagle to Betsy Thorpe, good of Troop 13, Newton Centre.

The Golden Eagle is the highest award a Girl Scout may attain, and is to be presented by Mrs. Walton

S. Redfield, Commissioner of the Newton Council of Girl Scouts. Following this presentation, members of Troop

perform a Christmas Folk Dance.

At a mass meeting of citizens of the Oak Hill section of Newton Centre held Tuesday evening at the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Knight of 20 Meadowbrook rd., the subject of better school facilities for this district was enthusiastically discussed.

Some eighty children from this district now have to go by bus over two miles to the Rice and Mason Schools for lack of adequate local facilities.

A committee of five was appointed to present to the School Committee

a petition for a new school building probably to be located in Oak Hill

Village on land already offered to the city.

Mr. Henry S. C. Cummings, chairman,

33 Oak Hill st.; Mr. Frederick H.

Knight, 20 Meadowbrook rd.; Mr.

Earle C. Davis, 24 Jane rd.; Mrs.

Charles R. Davis, 138 Arnold rd.; and Mrs. Lawrence Early, 524 Parker st.

W. C. T. U.

At the next meeting of the West

Newton W. C. T. U. Dec. 18th, at 7:45 p. m., they will have a Christmas Party at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth

Ashdown, 319 Cabot st., Newtonville.

Second hostess, Mrs. Florence Allen.

Ella Starrett at Newton Church

Miss Ella Starrett will be the special artist at the Community Sunday evening service at the Newton Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Centre and Wesley sts., Rev. Harry

Belmont Hill, minister, this coming

Sunday evening. She is exceptionally

and violin. The Theremin is a new

Leon Theremin, a prominent Russian scientist. This instrument produces music at the artist's will without any mechanical means of personal contact. Simply by gestures of her hands, she draws forth tones of vibrant mellowness, weaving them into beautiful and unforgettable music.

Miss Starrett is in great demand.

She gives programs every night in the week for churches, clubs and lodges. She has recently returned from a three months' tour of the state of New York. She is well known to a wide circle of radio fans.

Rev. Mr. Hill will preach on the theme "Who Are Your Friends?"

Rev. Harry Hansen, a missionary on furlough from India, will preach at the morning hour (10:30), using as his theme "Three Ways of Living."

Temperley Asks for Action on $140,000 Gift From State

After President Collins of the Newton Board of Aldermen had informed the Board on Monday night that the last regular meeting for 1933 was about to adjourn, and that the 1934 Board will meet on January 1st, Alderman Temperley arose and stated that he had a matter to bring before the Aldermen before the meeting closed.

Temperley inquired as to what disposition, if any, had been made on the matter of the offer by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to give $140,000 for the continuation of Hammond Pond Parkway from its present terminus at Beacon street to Commonwealth avenue. When the State Legislature made an appropriation a few years ago for the construction of the parkway which starts at West Roxbury and runs through Brookline and Chestnut Hill to Newton Centre, a large amount was appropriated for the section which was to extend from Boylston street, Brookline, to Beacon street, through Hammond Pond Woods Reservation. Because of the greatly reduced cost of construction work in 1932 and 1933, it became apparent that there would be a large balance remaining from the sum appropriated. The Public Works Department of the State obtained authority to offer this balance to Newton for the continuation of the parkway in this city.

Many months ago the Newton Board of Aldermen voted to petition for the legislation which would enable the city to obtain this unexpended balance. Application by the city for this money had to be made before the end of this year. No such action was taken; hence Alderman Temperley's inquiry on Monday night. In reply to it President Collins of the Board stated that the initiative on this matter must be taken by Mayor Weeks. Mr. Temperley then read a letter he had received from Chairman Keniston of the Metropolitan District Commission on November 21st. This letter stated that about $140,000 is available to the city if request for it will be made prior to December 31. President Collins asked Alderman Murray, chairman of the Public Works Committee if the Mayor had made any recommendation on this matter. Alderman Holden volunteered the information that he has talked with Mayor Weeks on this matter and that the Mayor expressed the intention of calling a special meeting before the end of this year to take action.

Alleged Newton Thief Caught

Wesley Grant, 21, who is charged by the Newton police with having robbed his benefactor, Edward H. Eldredge of 44 Ellison rd., Newton Centre, of jewelry and other articles valued at $500, was arrested on Monday at Chicago. Grant, who came from Danvers, Mass., had served time in a reform school in California and at Shirley Reform School in this State. He was on parole from the latter institution when Eldredge employed him at his home as houseman. It is alleged that on the night of Dec. 11th while the Eldredge family was absent Grant took $18 in money, seven watches, other jewelry and a revolver from the Ellison rd. house and disappeared.

On Dec. 17 a theatre office at Danville, Ill., was held up by Grant who then commanded a taxi and compelled the driver to take him and a young woman companion to Matteson, Ill., 106 miles distant. The pair were arrested on a train as it approached Chicago. Grant's woman companion was a 19-year old girl who had deserted her home in New York.

Walter Scott of Troy lane, West Newton was awarded $25 damages and $4 for a doctor's fee by Judge Weston in the Newton court on Tuesday. Scott was delivering Christmas mail as temporary letter carrier on December 24 of last year at the home of Richard Klein, Larchmont ave., Waban. As a settlement was not made, Scott brought suit against Klein. According to law, Klein must pay double the amount of the award; which means that he must pay Scott $58.

Recount Vote for Ward 2 Member of School Committee

Vanderhoof Gains, but Bryant Elected by 176 Plurality

A recount of the votes cast in the contest for School Committee member from Ward 2 was held at City Hall on Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday afternoon. The recount was conducted by the Registrars of Voters assisted by clerks from the City Clerk's office. The original count on first choice votes was—Harry E. Bryant, 7242; Nelson B. Vanderhoof, 6894; John Finelli, 2251. As Bryant did not receive a majority on first choice votes, it was necessary to count second and third choice votes. By this method of counting Bryant on the first tabulation received 7688 votes; Vanderhoof 7468. Finelli 2491.

On the recount Bryant gained 5 votes, bringing his total to 7693. Vanderhoof gained 49 votes, making his total 7517. Finelli lost 12 votes, making his corrected total 2479. Bryant, therefore, was elected on the corrected tabulation of 176 votes.

Claim Autoist Hit Milk Wagon And Driver

Anthony Mazzola, 25, of 470 California st., Newtonville, was in the Newton court last Saturday charged with assault on Harold Moore of Katherine st., Watertown. It is alleged that Mazzola's car ran into a milk wagon driven by Moore, hurling the latter off the seat of the wagon. It is also alleged that Mazzola was driving under the influence of liquor. Moore charges that when he asked Mazzola to produce his license and registration, that the latter assaulted him. The case was continued.

Car, Driven By Boy, Hits Man

In addition three licenses were granted last night for the sale in packages of all alcoholic beverages. They were given to Newton Corner Wine Shop, 315 Centre st., Newton; Angelo Annicilli, 350 Waterman st., Nonantum; Highland Beverage Store, 9 Woodward st., Newton Highlands. Licenses have also been granted to four drug stores—Hubbard Drug Store, 425 Centre st., Newton; Hudson Drug Store, 265 Washington st., Newton; Lombardi's, 409 Watertown st., Nonantum; E. J. Dooley, 837 Washington st., Newtonville.

Mayor Weeks has reappointed the three members of Newton's License Commission. Chairman William T. Glidden of Barnstable rd., West Newton, for a term of two years; Bernard L. Gorfinke of Algonquin rd., Chestnut Hill, who has been serving as secretary of the commission, was re-appointed for a term of four years; A. Leslie Moriarty of River st., West Newton, was reappointed for a term of six years. The members of the commission receive no salaries. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, at the recommendation of Mayor Weeks, the sum of $300 was appropriated for expenses of the commission.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

COACH SIMMONS CUTS BASKETBALL SQUAD TO TWENTY PLAYERS

Coach Frank Simmons of the Newton High school basketball team has cut the large squad which he has been directing for several weeks and retained for a varsity nucleus twenty players. The quintet opens its season on Wednesday, Jan. 3rd, against Natick High at the latter's court. The first home game is scheduled for Jan. 5th with Westboro High the visiting aggregation.

Coach Simmons has two lettermen from last year's aggregation on hand in Capt. Charlie Flagg and Claude Frazier. Flagg is a forward while Frazier is the type of player who can hold down any position on the team. Last year he played largely as a centre but it is probable that on this year's outfit he will play forward and when called upon to fill in at centre, will play offensively as a centre and defensively as a guard. Both Flagg and Frazier are seniors. John Brooks, a junior, is a leading prospect for a forward berth and when Frazier is playing centre will probably team up with Flagg. Donald Curry, a junior, is the leading centre candidate with Jimmy Bryne, football end and also a junior, slated to hold down one of the guard positions. Curry can also play a defensive guard should Frazier go to centre. These five players, along with Ellis Donovan and Bill Spillman, guards, with the latter also available for forward duty, seem to provide the team with the strongest attack and the stiffest defense. The Newton coach has been experimenting with various combinations in order to find the best clicking team. Four other seniors are being retained as members of the first team and are being given a further chance to show their ability. They are Anthony Lochiatto, a centre; Donald Skauen, a forward, and Barker Nokhoudian and John Kulesca, guards.

The second team line-up will be comprised of juniors and seniors in an effort to give them playing experience to replace members of the first team who will graduate in June. Of this group of nine, four are sophomores who have shown more than average promise. Graham Simpson is a six foot five inch centre from the John W. Weeks Junior High school who should have an excellent future. Edgar Gillette, a forward, and Ernest Savignano and Tom McCutcheon, guards. Five other juniors are in the running for second team berths. They are Phil Morrison, Brooks Baker, Guy Shedd and Archie Gath, guards, and Fred Drew, center.

SPORT NOTES

Track Practice

Coach Don Enoch of the high school track team will have the track squad out for practice on Tuesday morning of next week at the indoor school track at ten-thirty. Several alumni of recent years, home from college for the Christmas vacation, will probably be on hand. The track team will open its season on Jan. 13 with a dual meet with Lawrence high at the Andover Academy indoor dirt track.

Newton Team Entered

Newton high is among the twenty-one schools who have entered the annual Northeastern University Interscholastic track meet at the Boston Y. M. C. A. to be held Jan. 27th. Medford retired the championship banner last year having previously won in 1928 and 1930. Newton won in 1929 and 1931 and Everett in 1932. Newton should make a strong bid for a first leg on the new banner.

Wine Card Honors

Tom Hines, director of physical education at Brookline high school, held his annual gathering of school coaches at his cabin in New Hampshire last week. Gets Mitchell Insignia

John Hathaway of Newton was among those on the Mitchell School football team that were recently awarded football letters. The Billerica school had an unusually successful season this past fall.

Julian Gets Minor "H"

George Julian, Harvard sophomore and former Newton high athlete, received a minor "H" as a guard on the Harvard varsity football team this past fall. At the start of the season Julian was a starting guard but inexperience brought him back to a reserve role and he did not get a chance to get into the Yale game for a major letter. With two more years to play Julian, who is a cousin of "Mike" Julian, Brown captain and all-American can tackle a decade ago, should have a future ahead.

HOCKEY TEAM TO OPEN HIGH SCHOOL WINTER SPORT SEASON

Y. M. C. A.

The winter sports season of the Newton High school athletic teams gets underway next week Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden in the opening set of games of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Ice Hockey League. With a solitary veteran letterman from last year's squad available, Coach Dr. Oscar Martin of the orange and black has many problems on his hands to find a combination that will click.

During the past week and also next week the Garden authorities have arranged practice sessions for teams comprising the league on the indoor surface. Meanwhile there has been some outdoor ice which the teams have been able to use to good advantage.

Dr. Martin must of necessity experiment with various combinations of the candidates who are seeking berths on the Newton sextet and he will probably not make his final selection of a starting team until shortly before the opening contest with Arlington on Dec. 30th.

Teddy Johnson, subdefense player of last winter's team, is the sole letter wearer on hand. Ernie MacLeod is the only other defense player available who saw some service last year. Joe Greene, Dave Dennis, Tom Griffin and Norman McCutcheon, forwards who saw some action but failed to make their 1932 letters.

Other candidates who have been showing promise at the practice sessions are Eddie Bell, Charles Thackeray, Tom Hennessey, Charles Butterfield, Jack Goodbar, Dick Harvey, Dick Mullane and Johnny Waters.

The last named is a natural athlete in three sports, football, hockey and baseball. A year ago last fall he suffered a ruptured kidney playing football and for the remainder of the school year was out of athletics. He has regained his health and although unable to play football should make the grade in hockey and baseball. He played second base on the baseball nine in the 1932 season as a sophomore.

Defense candidates for the hockey team are Gus Castoldi, captain-elect of football; Ben Grow, Charles Johnson, Bud Connolly, Herb Smith, Maurice Hallett, Frank McCarthy, Bob Young and Dick Howe. Goal candidates are Bert Finberg, Sherwin Kirkby, Frank Joyce and Bert Woodward.

SPORT NOTES

Local Tinge to Green Sextet

The Dartmouth hockey team has a strong local tinge with former Newton athletes holding down five of the six positions. Frank Spain is in centre and William Powers is left wing on the starting forward line while Bob Bennett is the starting left defense player. On Monday the Green defeated the Concord Hockey Club 3 to 1 with Powers figuring in one tally when he passed to Paul Guibord, former Melrose star, and starting right wing. Wednesday the Green had a field day running up 22 tallies to 1 for St. Michael's. Powers counted three times and had two assists while Spain had two goals and five assists.

Yale Has Two Newton Players

Yale has two former Newton athletes in its varsity hockey line-up with Gene Gilligan at centre ice and Warren Cobly at left wing. The local pair are considered strong points in the Blue offence. It should be an excellent attraction from a local viewpoint when Yale and Dartmouth meet each other on the ice this winter.

Dartmouth to Play at Brae Burn

A winter carnival of the Brae Burn Club will be held this Saturday night with one of the feature attractions a hockey game between the Dartmouth varsity, with three Newton youths in its line-up, and the Brae Burn sextet, comprised of former college stars many of whom are local youths. The game will start at 8:15. It has been announced by Ted Leonard, former Newton high and Dartmouth star goalie, who is chairman of the winter sports committee of the club. All of the club's winter sport facilities for skating, sliding, tobogganing, skiing, etc. will be open. A carnival will also be held on Friday, Dec. 29th with fancy skating stars as the feature of the program.

The Christmas Service in Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will begin at 10:45 with a fifteen minute prelude of carols sung by the Junior and Carol Choirs—including eighty-five boys and girls. The Chancel Choir, with Nina Mae Forde and Franklin Field as soloists, and including twenty-five men and women, will sing three selections from "The Messiah." All three choirs will sing together "O Holy Night" by Adam Franklin Field will sing "The Virgin at the Manger," by Perlihov. The minister, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, will preach.

On Sunday evening at 7:30 a pantomime of the Nativity will be presented, with musical accompaniment by Lillian West at the organ, Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill, soprano, and a chorus. This pantomime is given for the third year in succession in response to many requests for its repetition. The directing and lighting effects by C. Hassler Capron and the rich costumes by Mrs. Charles Abrams and Mrs. Percy E. Woodward make it exceptionally beautiful and impressive. The evening closes with a candle-lighting ceremony.

On Christmas morning at 9:30 a short service of praise will be conducted by Mr. Merrill. Mrs. Merrill will sing.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

Residents of Oak Hill are petitioning for better school facilities in that section of our city. The normal growth of the Oak Hill section which less than ten years ago was largely one of large estates or farms has been along residential lines. There is no doubt that this growth will continue steadily and even rapidly with more normal economic conditions. With such growth comes a necessity for better school facilities, more fire and police protection and other such municipal advantages. We believe that the School Committee and the Board of Aldermen recognize the situation and will be ready to grant the residents of that district improvements that will equal those enjoyed in other sections.

TURNING ANOTHER CORNER

The New Year is but ten more days ahead. The past year has been one of many problems, some of which have been solved, at least in part. What of the future? A return to normal economic conditions has in some ways been helped by Federal aid. Gradually the country is recovering. Yet there are still obstacles in the path. We used to hear, "prosperity is around the corner" but we turned so many corners that we failed to find it. Now we turn another corner with the New Year. And we do so with renewed hope and confidence that 1934 will see better times.

Protest Gas Station In Old Ice House

that the ice company would be zoned for residences. Alexander Standish of 183 Lake ave. raised the point that if the city has any intention of buying the ice company property, no permit for a garage or filling station should be granted, as this will make the property more costly when the city buys it.

A showing of hands by those who favored and those who opposed the petition was asked for. Nine persons present favored the petition; twenty-two opposed. Alderman McKay asked the representative of the Metropolitan Ice Company if his organization would be willing to agree not to charge the city for rights acquired by the granting of a filling station permit. The assistant treasurer stated he had no authority to make such a promise. In answer to questions by Alderman McKay and Pratt, City Solicitor Balloult stated that the city cannot grant a permit on a condition of business value waiver; neither can it grant a filling station permit on a time limit. Alderman McKay suggested that the proponents and opponents of the Mitchell petition get together before the matter will come up before next year's Board, and endeavor to make a compromise.

WOMAN'S BIBLE CLASS GIVES CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Woman's Bible Class of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church entertained about two hundred adult members of the congregation and their friends at its annual Christmas party on Tuesday evening.

The second part of "The Birds' Christmas Carol" was given by the following members of the class: Mrs. Ruggles, Goldie Hoar Wieczorek; the Ruggles' children, Peter, Mary Lavinia Doggett; Peoria, Lola Veino Thyny; Kitty, Elizabeth Pillsbury Poole; Clement, Ariana Mitchell Cortis; Sara Maud, Edith Powell Brummett; Cornelius, Edith Johnson Thomas; Harry, Albert Pillsbury Phillips; Elfrieda, Anna Worden Taylor; Uncle Jack, William Jackson Lowther.

Following the play and the singing of Christmas carols, Dr. W. J. Lowstuter, the class teacher, conducted an impressive candle lighting service. The first candle was lighted by Mrs. Mary E. Soden who passed her light on to the candles of the Rev. Harry A. Hanson and Mrs. Hanson who represented India. Mrs. J. C. Atkinson lighted her candle for her native country, Canada. Thus lights were passed from guest to guest until each one, in a circle extending around the large hall, held a lighted candle.

The guests of honor were three young men from the Boston University School of Theology and their wives. Gifts were presented to Mrs. W. H. Timble, president of the Missionary Society, for the Cooper Community Centre and for the Hull Street Medical Mission in Boston. Refreshments of doughnuts with coffee and apples and candy were served—by Mrs. C. E. Thyny and her committee.

Upper Falls

The Misses Nellie, Gertrude and Florence Osborne of High st. will hold a family reunion on Christmas Day. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. David M. Osborne of Cambridge, Mr. Joseph Beckett of Calais, Maine, and Mr. and Mrs. David E. Osborne of Boylston st.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

THE NEWER DEVICES USED IN THE NEWTON SCHOOLS FOR PUPIL STUDY

WHY NEW TYPE TESTS ARE USED

No two children are ever exactly alike mentally. As they differ in physical characteristics such as height, weight, color of hair, finger strength, etc., so do they differ in mental qualities, such as learning rate, memory, mechanical aptitude, etc. It follows, then, that if the school is to guide each child most effectively it must recognize and provide for these mental differences. It is only then that the school can make its greatest contribution to every child.

Before we can adjust the work of the school to meet the needs of the child we must know the child. We must know his abilities and disabilities, his strengths and weaknesses, all the qualities which influence his success or failure in school. To gain this knowledge of individual children we are making use of various testing devices and procedures.

APTITUDE TESTS

Among these are the academic aptitude tests. They are commonly referred to as "general intelligence tests" and measure a pupil's ability to do school work of the academic type. These tests furnish information which enables a teacher to gauge the rate with which a pupil may progress in academic school work. They furnish a basis for assisting teachers to determine whether a pupil is or is not doing all that can be expected of him. They also provide the teacher and the counselor with valuable information that they may guide pupils in their choice of courses.

In addition, use is made of tests of mechanical aptitude, which measure a pupil's ability to work with materials, tools and mechanical devices. Clerical aptitude tests furnish measurements of the ability to deal with clerical items and procedures. Likewise, tests of musical and artistic aptitude furnish valuable information in their respective fields.

OBJECTIVE ACHIEVEMENT TESTS

The objective achievement test is another type of test used in pupil study. This type of test is designed to measure achievement in school subjects and is an outgrowth and refinement of the traditional type of examination. It has been developed to increase the amount of subject matter that may be tested at one time and the accuracy with which it may be tested. Tests of this type exist for nearly all of the different school subjects and furnish accurate means of measuring pupil growth in each. On the basis of these measurements teachers can more effectively adapt the school work to the individual.

DIAGNOSTIC TESTS AND RATING SCALES

Diagnostic tests in reading and arithmetic enable us to investigate the causes of pupil difficulties in these fundamental tool subjects. These diagnoses furnish the basis for remedial instruction.

Rating scales, interest and activity questionnaires and similar devices give pictures of other important aspects of a child's makeup. They furnish additional information that is both valuable and necessary for gaining a more complete knowledge of the child.

Through the use of the testing devices and procedures that have been mentioned, we hope to be better able to know and treat the child as an individual. However, at no time are they to be used as a means of cataloging or card-indexing children; at no time are they taken as the final authority, but in all instances are they taken as scientific devices used in substantiating and reinforcing expert teacher judgment. As such, they assist greatly in making possible a thorough human understanding and treatment of boys and girls.

Next week the work of the junior high school counselor will be discussed.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

We wish our readers a Merry Christmas. Those who have not been drawn into the depression vortex the past four years and reduced to poverty or near poverty, surely have reason to be joyful. We know it is difficult for those who are victims of the economic debacle to be merry. But, while they may be down, they are not out, if they still have faith and courage. The Almighty continues to provide an abundance of natural resources. All that is needed to bring back happy days is co-operation and unselfishness on the part of men.

The other day we were petting a kitten which is now the mascot of the Hubbard Drug Store when Ernest Jolle, the popular dispenser of sodas and ice creams at that store asked us—"Why does a cat always curl its tail on its left side?" We admitted that we had never been sufficiently observing of cat's habits to realize that these animals had this peculiarity. Monsieur Jolle avers that cats all act this way. Perhaps some person in Newton who is learned in felinology can tell Ernest why a cat parks its tail on the port side.

If parents of children who ride bicycles would prohibit them from riding such vehicles on streets after dark, unless the bicycle carries a light, and if the Newton police were ordered to enforce the law which specifies that any bicycle operated on a street after dark must carry a light, a few children would be victims of automobile accidents.

When sidewalkers are not sanded there is a great temptation for pedestrians to walk on streets. But, if they realized the risk they run from skidding automobiles, they would take a chance of slipping on a sidewalk rather than getting hit by an automobile.

Governor Ely appoints a commission to study crime in Massachusetts for the purpose of attempting to lessen crime. The Governor has been pardoning cold-blooded murderers and other hardened criminals. Consistent, isn't it?

It is probable that new drug stores will be started in Newton for the purpose of selling alcoholic beverages. Such stores, if started, should not be granted licenses. The legitimate drug stores in the city are entitled to a square deal. Licenses should not be granted to non-residents, or persons who move into the city for the purpose of obtaining licenses.

A couple of days ago the writer visited the greenhouses of William Riggs on Freeman st., Auburndale, and saw the finest collection of poinsettias and cyclamen that we ever observed in this city. Persons who intend buying a plant for Christmas should see Mr. Riggs' display.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

With the many Yuletide wishes for our happiness and prosperity comes the earnest hope that we may fully deserve them.

Oddments

The spirit of Christmas came to my rescue the other day, or at least to the rescue of a funeral of my acquaintance. In fact, both of us were saved. He from a beating and I from the danger of a brawl without knowing whether I would survive. Forebearance intervened when he made a comment on the "wet" majority in Newton and observed, "Well, there's one thing they can't repeat." Foolishly, I inquired, "What's that?" and his reply was "A banana."

Right on top of this another man assured me that the sales of glassware has been doubled by the change of things. He even went as far as to assert that manufacturers of bottles and cut-glass were rushed to death by the unprecedented call for receptacles of all kinds. It quite knocked over my prediction that there wouldn't be such a great demand for these things as had been predicted in some quarters.

And yet I'm not ready to acknowledge that the glass manufacturing business is picking up for I know nothing about it. However, if more glassware is to be used there will have to be more washing of containers. Naturally, that will call for more soap and towels. Another boom for both soap and towel manufacturers and for the art of bottle-washing. I suppose one could go on, figuring the growth of other allied trades that is bound to come. All that is necessary is imagination, if you know what I mean.

Charm Versus Courage

A self-appointed "charm expert" has announced a list of the 10 most charming persons and has created a "Hall of Charm" in which she has set those she believes entitled to that honor. All are known throughout the Nation, and some throughout the world. It makes people think and argue for not all agree with her. Personally, I make no protest. Indeed, I am grateful for it has inspired me to create a "Hall of Courage" to include men and women whose strength of character entitles them to respect and admiration.

If my list were offered to the world it would not contain the names of those of whom practically all the universe has heard. I would take my candidates for the "Hall of Courage" from the ranks of the humble. The

No, I rather think that it was in the cards for the Mayor to be re-elected. Many of us were critical of the pledge-card system and I had my doubts whether more than fifty or sixty percent would step up and vote the right way on Dec. 12th. When eighty-five percent of one ward was reported favorable to the Mayor I said to his Lieutenant, "Oh, yeah," but I was allowed to live. It seems that most of these people stayed put. Well, you can't laugh off a decreased tax rate, an AI city credit and regular pay days throughout the depression for city employees. These are solid, substantial and stimulating facts.

As for issues, what did White have? Little or nothing. The water problem was his best bet but it wasn't enough. Furthermore, the Mayor had a pretty good answer in his circular letter and the rates were cut a few weeks before election.

My own hunch is this. The voters of Newton decided that they had been well governed during very trying times. Why change? They apparently prefer the Weeks type of man to the well known but outmoded professional politician type. Weeks' good points and his sound administrative record were either overlooked or else overshadowed by the type that he represented.

Weeks received a well-deserved tribute—a remarkable vote of confidence. Weeks emerges from the election in a stronger strategic position than ever. Congress looms ahead.

first nominee would be The housewife whose husband has met with definite reverses and who finds herself compelled to do housework and care for her children without assistance. These tasks are only part of her duties but she performs all without hope of reward and without complaint of having been forced to give up conveniences and comforts of the past.

Next I would nominate the man who has found himself out of a job after having drawn a substantial salary or enjoyed a first class income. That is, I would give fame to the man who has gladly gone to work at a task that brings in something, though the amount is far below that which he previously received. This man's spirit of "taking it on the chin" with a smile and striving to aid himself is something that sets him far above the average.

Another candidate would be the individual whose sympathy for those in distress has led him or her to devote energy and time to the giving of help and assistance; spending time in care of the sick and aiding unemployed to obtain work. People who do that without compensation and with only the spirit of the Good Samaritan in mind are much more deserving of recognition than those renowned in the political or motion picture world.

From the Letter Carrier
Dear Mr. Bentley—if you have influence I wish you would use it to get the Boston Elevated trustees to do something nice for their passengers. What I most particularly desire is the installation of radios in trolleys. Think how pleasant it would be to relieve the monotony of the long ride between Boston and Newton with a little talk on shopping, some music from a sleek restaurant which you never have enough money to patronize or the latest news, or anything interesting. I suppose that even if the Elevated trustees did show approval of the idea it would take some time before anything was done about it. Meanwhile I wish they would do something about the passengers who cough their heads off and fall to consider the comfort, health and happiness of the other riders. I don't know just how to handle this unless they have the conductors give a little lecture on

Nations Must Use Common Sense in Their Dealings

Sir Norman Angell, British Economist, Speaks in West Newton Church

In speaking at the West Newton Unitarian Church on Sunday afternoon, Sir Norman Angel, the great British economist and publicist declared that the present world economic chaos is due to the failure of nations to use the knowledge which they have, and that permanent recovery depends upon their using the common sense in dealing with each other which people in civilized countries use in their dealings with their fellow men.

The speaker said that when the treatise of Versailles was imposed upon Germany, the men who drew up the document knew that if the Allies took all the gold which the Germans possessed that it would amount to no more than one percent of the amount of separation, and that if Germany were to pay in gold that the creditor nation would not be able to use them. He said, "It took ten years for England to see this, which brought about the cancellations of German reparations by the treaty of Lausanne, and that France does not yet admit the point."

Sir Norman berated politicians for appealing to prejudices and hatreds in their political campaigns instead of appealing to their constituents on the grounds of their common welfare, and he satirized voters for not electing men capable of using existing economic knowledge about which there is general agreement in the settlement of great international questions.

In closing the speaker admitted that he recognized the difficulty of bringing about international economic order, but, said he, "The thing which makes a thing reasonable of accomplishment is the fact of the power of the human will. Believe and ye shall perish."

RAY MARR MUSICAL REVIEW
AT PARAMOUNT

On next Sunday evening, Dec. 31st, patrons of the Paramount Theatre, Newton, will be treated to something new in the way of entertainment. "The Ray Marr Musical Comedy" of twenty-five singers, dancers and comedians, will occupy the stage with Don Healey and his Radio Band. This will be in addition to a double feature bill which will be for one day only, namely, Ginger Rogers and Joel McCrea in "A Chance at Heaven" and Bill Boyd in "Flaming Gold."

For the first three days of the week, Dec. 24 to 26, Ruth Chatterton will be seen in "Female" and Ed Wynn in "The Chief." On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, John Barrymore will be seen in "Night Flight" and Wallace Ford in "East of Fifth Ave." This is an excellent program for the Christmas Holiday Week with a continuous performance on Christmas Day.

Will you please make reference to this in your next issue and oblige,

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club, at the regular Monday noonday meeting at The Brae Burn Country Club, was delightfully entertained by two favorites among radio audiences, Helen Barr, soprano, and Sybil Morse, pianist, who broadcast regularly over Station WEEI.

Mrs. Barr, with clear and expressive voice, sang many favorite modern selections, such as "My Lindy Lou," "Dark Eyes" and "By a Waterfall." A very lively piano solo "Apple Leaf Rag" was given by Miss Morse.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, December 26, when the local club will be the guests of the Watertown Rotary Club.

The club has as invited guests—Harry Smith and Walter Bailey, Watertown, and William Frayer, Boston.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Groups from the various churches in Newtonville are planning to meet for the singing of carols at the Annual Community Sing and Christmas Tree at Washington park, on Sunday evening, December 24th, at 9 o'clock. Mr. Frederick Briggs, well-known for his interest in carolling, will lead the singers, who will be accompanied by trumpeters.

The proximity of this growing tree to the Woman's Club House affords the Club a welcome opportunity to co-operate in the observance of Christmas Eve by producing a series of five living pictures in the tower doorway.

The words for the accompanying carols will be shown on a screen on the front wall of the Club House, so that all may participate in the singing, the arrangement of the program being as follows:

Tableau I—Angel and Shepherds
It Came Upon Midnight Clear
The First Noel
Hark the Herald Angels SingTableau II—Shepherds Adoring
Angels from the Realms of Glory
While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night

Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem

Tableau III—Wise Men Travelling
There's a Beautiful Star
We Three Kings of Orient Are Silent NightTableau IV—Wise Men Adoring
There's a Song in the Air
As With Gladness Men of Old Away in MangerTableau V—Angel
Oh Come All Ye Faithful
Joy to the World

The tableaux will be produced under the supervision of Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, chairman of the Drama committee of the Club. As this is evidently a community gathering, everyone interested is urged to be present and join in the singing.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be held on December 29th at 2 p. m. This is the annual Daughter's Day, and this year the Sons are to be included. The program promises to be very interesting, as Bob Hewitt will give an illustrated lecture on "Roaming in Wyoming." Mr. Hewitt has had five years' experience as a United States Ranger, and has traveled thousands of miles over the unmapped areas of Wyoming and Montana. His camera, which was always with him, has faithfully recorded what he has seen.

Mrs. Selden E. James, director of the Twelfth District for the Massachusetts State Federation, will be the guest of honor. Tea hostesses are Miss Harriette M. Arnold and Mrs. A. Harry Hutchison.

The Annual New Year Reception, which is always so enjoyed by Club members and their friends, will be held at the Newton Centre Club House, on Monday afternoon, the first of January, from 3 to 5:30 o'clock. There will be dancing, an excellent orchestra furnishing music, and refreshments will be served. The Art Committee is arranging for an Art Exhibit to interest visitors, also. The reception is for any residents of Newton Centre who would like to attend.

State Federation

RADIO. Tomorrow, the 23rd, promises a most interesting topic to club-women on the radio program, a talk on Motion Pictures, by Mrs. Oscar Blaisdell, chairman of this department of the State Federation, entitled "The Best in Pictures." Christmas Carols in duets will be given by Esther Downing and Marian McCarthy. For the topic poetry, there will be "A Christmas Sketch," presented by Adele Hoes Lee, Interpreter of plays. The State broadcast is given over Station WBZ during the half-hour 11:15 to 11:45.

CONFFERENCES. With the New Year, and after the exciting personal interests of the Holidays, various departments of the State Federation have arranged for conferences, renewing activity in club conferences for club-women's information and study. On Wednesday, January 17th, there will be the Annual Conference of the division of Inter-racial Unity, of which Mrs. William L. Macaulay is chairman, in room 607 of the Y. W. C. A., corner of Clarendon and Stuart streets, Boston, from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Educational, social, and immigration problems will be discussed during the morning session.

On Friday, the 19th, the Press Conference, combined with the Radio department, will be held at the Hotel Statler, in the Ball Room Foyer, opening at 10 a. m., with a luncheon at one o'clock.

On Friday, February 2nd, the Annual Conference of the department of International Relations, Miss Helena B. Shipman, chairman, will be held at the Twentieth Century Club.

ART LECTURES. The Art Scholarship series of lectures were so enjoyed last year that Mrs. Herbert Stephens, chairman, announces that there will be another series of four to be given this year at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. On January 12th, Chinese Art will be discussed; on the 26th, Japanese Art; on February 9th, Tapestries; and on February 23rd, Etchings. The ticket for the series is $1, single admission, if seats are available for such, 35 cents. Those interested should send check and self-addressed, stamped envelope at once to the chairman, 347 Mystic st., Arlington.

MOTHERCRAFT EXHIBIT. Friends of Mothercraft will be glad to know that Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball is recovering from her recent illness and will preside at the Mid-Winter meeting of the Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts, at the Old South Church, Copley square, Boston, on February 6th. A special exhibit of Mothercraft pictures is being shown at Federation Headquarters, 115 Newbury street, Boston.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM. The Executive Board recommends the following legislative program: three bills to individual clubs for action and two for study. The three questions upon which clubs are asked to vote are: The Ratification of the Child Labor Amendment, a Hairdressers' Bill, and an Act to Penalize Slander by Radio. The two bills for study are The Tugwell Bill and a Federal Measure to Control Food, Drugs, and Cosmetics, also a bill regarding Children in Hazardous Occupations to be presented by the Department of Labor and Industry. Mrs. Russell A. Cone, State chairman of Legislation, has had five years' experience as a United States Ranger, and has traveled thousands of miles over the unmapped areas of Wyoming and Montana. His camera, which was always with him, has faithfully recorded what he has seen.

BOARD MEETING. The Annual Mid-Winter Meeting of the Executive Board of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at Headquarters, in Washington, D. C., from January 9th to 13th. As was stated last week, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will attend the banquet on the evening of the 12th, to be held at the Mayflower Hotel, where she will be a speaker as well as honored guest. This is the first time in the history of the General Federation that a First Lady of the Land will be such a guest and speaker.

Events of these interesting days will be announced later, but of special interest at this time, in connection with Mrs. Roosevelt's appearance at the banquet, is the consideration of her new book, which has a challenge, as well as an informative viewpoint. Citizens country-wide are aroused to enthusiastic admiration for a First Lady who really is doing something vital while "carrying on" in her many other duties of her new office as mistress of the White House. It may safely be said that she is an active personality that has never before been equalled in her position, and American women find themselves warming to this new character that spurns merely supine social movements as the crux of the new honor that has come to her husband and herself. "It will do us no harm to look at ourselves somewhat critically in relation to some of the problems that confront us today."

With this persuasive, disarming sentence, Mrs. Roosevelt concludes the foreword to her book, "It's Up to the Women," recently published by Frederick A. Stokes, and then throws the challenge of the title at her audience in twenty chapters of realistic discussion. These chapters embrace The Problems of the Young Married, Budgeting Your Time, Family Health, When to Economize Wisely with Children, Marriage, Grandmothers, Women and Jobs, Various Occupations for Women, Social Workers and Church Workers, Women and the Vote, Women in Public Life, Women and Business Training, Women and Working Conditions, Women and Peace, and Women and the NRA. While the subjects are naturally inter-related, each taken by itself provides stimulating material which clubs may find useful for study and discussion.

In all crises, Mrs. Roosevelt points out, from earliest colonial days through internal and external warfare, heavier burden and responsibility rested upon the women than is generally realized; the successful outcome was very largely due to the women. While this crisis differs from preceding ones in the lesser tangibility of the enemy, the hardships and the struggle must still be shared in large part by the women, who "know that life must go on and that needs of life must be met . . ."

The First Lady devotes a proper amount of space to the problems of the working woman, but the book's primary appeal is to mothers, housewives, consumers. It is their role in the economic warfare which she stresses. The advice is practical and unaffectedly given, much of it obviously drawn from her own experience and from intimate observation. This is a book that no woman should ignore.

For clubwomen's information, this book is priced $1.25, and the De Luxe, limited edition, autographed, may be obtained for $5.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Annual Creche Exhibit was held on Sunday, December 17th, from 3 to 9 p. m., in the Workshop. As one entered one saw on the right a very beautiful Delta Robe Swag, done by Mrs. Herbert W. Stetson, and arranged by Mrs. Elizabeth S. Newton.

Small Christmas trees, decorated with cellophane, silver ribbon, and tiny tinkling bells, were exhibited by Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver and Miss Harriet M. Marcy. Mrs. Roscoe A. Carter had a very beautiful setting in "The Celestial Choir." Artistic wreaths, made by Alice Kirk Atwater, Mrs. Donald D. McKay, and Mrs. John A. McAlpine, hung on the walls, and also a ball with mistletoe by Mrs. C. Mackay.

A large creche, with very artistic and intricate lighting, was shown by Mr. Ernest J. Weaver. Other outstanding creches were a large one portraying all nations and all animals coming to visit the Christ Child, by Cornelia and Virginia Brown; a small one by a twelve-year-old boy, Joseph Allison, and one in a frame with paper cutouts and models in clay, by Nathalie Norton.

The creche exhibitors were Alice Kirk Atwater, Joseph Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Edwards, Mr. Ernest J. Weaver, Mrs. Herbert W. Stetson, Cornelia and Virginia Brown and Mrs. Walter M. Fife.

Tea was served, with Mrs. Don J. Edwards pouring.

Community singing of carols in the evening was led by the Club Chorus.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Sixty-one little boys and girls were guests for the afternoon on December 19th of the Newtonville Woman's Club. Bill Fish and His Marionettes provided the entertainment for the first part of the program, the puppets being most versatile in their variety acts. There was a fiddler, a juggler, one who played the harmonica, an artist who performed most remarkable feats of balance, a lively dog, and a very intelligent donkey, not to mention a skeleton dancer. The play of Jack and the Beanstalk, cleverly presented by the puppet master, was thoroughly enjoyed.

After being served refreshments by the Social Committee, Santa Claus and two little brownies, Jane Cornish and Nelson Everts, arrived with much jingling of bells, to present the toys and bundles of clothing from around the tree. Following a jolly visit with Santa Claus, sixty-one happy little children were returned to their homes by members of the Volunteer Service Committee, and the 1933 Christmas Party Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club felt well repaid for their efforts in sponsoring this annual event.

There was a fine attendance at the first of the lectures on Current Events on December 14th. Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor, who is conducting the series this season, and who calls her subject "History in the Making," was a most interesting and lucid speaker. The next lecture will be on January 25th.

Christmas Made Merry for Patients At Newton Hospital

Welfare Bureau and Welcoming Committee Also Spread Holiday Joys

For so many years one can hardly remember when the happy custom began, the trustees of the Newton Hospital have made possible a happy Christmas there with personal contributions. The recent Christmas season was no exception.

A forerunner of the good times was a visit from Santa Claus and his family—Santason, the jolly clown and Mickey and Minnie Mouse—from Jordan Marsh's. Arms filled with gifts for the children they visited all the wards on December 12th.

On Sunday evening, Dec. 17th, members of the Highland Glee Club of Newton entertained the student nurses with carols and songs. On Wednesday evening, the 20th, the Male Fraternity Chorus under the direction of F. W. Meakin sang carols for the patients in the hospital buildings.

The Annual Dancing Party of the employees was held on Thursday evening, Dec. 21st, with a jolly Santa Claus to distribute the gifts for which names had previously been drawn.

Again on Saturday morning Santa Claus visited the Out-Patient department where he found a gay decorated Christmas tree, a bag of candy for everyone and a gift for each child. One little girl said she had not had a Christmas for three years. In addition to the toys that were given there were also some warm gloves, caps, sweaters and coats.

On Christmas eve at 6:30 o'clock about thirty young people from the Eliot and Grace Churches at Newton gathered at the hospital and visited the various wards singing carols. Just at bed time a small group of nurses went through the hospital corridors singing "Silent Night." After the hospital was quiet final preparations for the morning were made. The dining rooms were decorated and gifts for each patient, nurse and employee were distributed. Besides the gifts from the Trustees many entertaining, useful and amusing contributions had been left at the hospital during the week. A partial list of these gifts included:

Scrap books, stuffed animals, Christmas card blotters, mounted pictures, books of jokes, handkerchiefs and handkerchief holders, Santa Claus and Christmas Tree favors, magazines, post cards, and many toys from such donors as the 6th Grade of the Underwood School; 2nd Grade Adams School, 1st Grade Pierce School, 5th Grade Davis School, the Cheerful Letter Committee of the Newton Centre Unitarian Church, Girl Scout Troops, the Home Guild of the Trinity Church at Newton Centre, the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U., the Grace Church Kindergarten and St. Mary's Church of Lower Falls. Many toys were sent by Mrs. Clarke Baldwin of Tudor Lane, Chestnut Hill, two large pictures books were given by Marjorie Johnson of Waltham, and post cards by Miss A. Gertrude Lee of Topsfield. As for many years the Newton Centre Charity Sewing Club sent in stockings for each child filled with fruit and toys. Two filled stockings were brought in by Master Franklin MacPherson and his brother of Prince st., West Newton. Among other gifts were candy, fruit, a barrel of apples and newspaper subscriptions.

On Christmas morning at 5:30 the patients in the hospital buildings were awakened by the carolers—student and graduate nurses. From the wards they went to the dining room for their own breakfasts and gifts. Scarce (Continued on Page 2)

Girl Scout Is Awarded Highest Honors at Frolic

Betsy Thorogood Receives Golden Eagle

Betsy Thorogood of Troop 13, Newton Centre, was awarded a Golden Eagle—the highest award ever given to a Girl Scout, at the Yuletide Frolic. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Commissioner for the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts, presented this award. In doing so she expressed the pleasure and pride which the council felt in conferring this honor. She also spoke of the fact that Betsy's sister, Alison, had also received the award and graduated Mrs. Thorogood on having two daughters who had attained this high rank.

Jovial King Fun and his comical Court Jester opened the Girl Scouts' Yuletide Frolic in Cabot's Woods last Tuesday afternoon. Six hundred and fifty Girl Scouts from all over the city were on hand to pay homage to His Majesty and to hunt for the oak Yule Log which was hidden in the woods after the mediaeval custom. A bevy of red-clad pages and the Court Herald urged the Girl Scouts on, and it was only a short time before Troop 13, of Newton, discovered the hiding place of the log. Then the Girl Scouts gathered around the King's throne, next to the great Yule fire, and sang carols while the procession of pages, carrying a Boar's Head, a Plum Pudding gaily decorated with lighted sparklers and a huge wassail bowl led the winning troop, dragging the log on a sled, before the King.

When the log had been placed on the fire, members of Troop 6 of the Stearns School, performed a gay Christmas dance called "Jingle Bells." Music for the dance was the jingle of the dancers' bells, and the voices of the several hundred Girl Scouts who sang to the time beaten by the Court Jester.

At this point in the ceremony, the Jester stepped forward, and reading from a long scroll, called out the numbers of the troops by villages. As the number of each troop was heard, one of its members stepped into the circle, carrying a fagot. She made a wish for her troop as she placed the fagot on the fire.

Those who took part in the ceremony were: King Fun—Jeanne Minchin of Waban; Pages—Marjorie Collins and Barbara Collins of Newtonville; Betty Bartram and Katherine Douglass of Waban; Frances Chamberlain of Newton Centre; Jester—Elizabeth Barna of Newton; Court Herald—Jane Hayden of West Newton.

Federal Aid For Pre-School Center For New Children

Will Receive $932 Per Month
—Supt. Lund to Proceed With Plans

Supt. of Schools Lund informed the School Committee on Tuesday night that this city has been allocated $932.51 per month by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for a pre-school center for children under the regular school age. The purpose of this is to give work to unemployed school teachers. In addition the grants will be used for instruction for adults. In addition to regular instruction, the adults will be instructed in home making and foreign born adults will have special classes. Mr. Lund stated that the high standing of Newton's schools was responsible for the allocation of this money.

A petition was received from residents of Newton Corner asking that free bus transportation be given pupils attending Newton High School.

Two Newton Postal Clerks Retired

The policy announced by the post office department several months ago of retiring postal employees who have served 30 years or more, whether such employees desire retirement or not, made its effect known in this city this week. Orders received from Washington will cause the retirement on pension on December 31st of two women who have served the public of Newton long and faithfully. Those to be retired are Miss Lillian E. Ellis and Miss Jennie E. Tierney of the Newton Centre post office. Previous to this year postal employees had to reach the age of 65 to be retired on a pension, unless they became disabled. This year this rule was changed so that any employee who had served 30 years might retire, if he or she so desired. Later this rule was again changed so that many employees throughout the country are being retired by compulsion.

Miss Ellis, who resides at 139 Summer st., entered the postal service 42 years ago under her father, the late Edward A. Ellis, then postmaster at Newton Centre. She later served under Postmasters Morgan and Haskell before the Newton post offices became stations of the Boston postal district. Miss Tierney entered the service 36 years ago at Newtonville under John Turner, who was then superintendent at that post office. In 1909 she was transferred to the Newton Centre post office and has since been employed there. She resides at 1054 Beacon st., Newton Centre.

More Permits For Liquor Sales Given

The Newton License Commission this week granted a license to sell all alcoholic beverages (in packages) to Peter Guzzl at 1295 Washington st., West Newton, a drug store licensee to Dilberto's Pharmacy at 303 Washington st., Newton; Beacon Pharmacy, 761 Beacon st.; G. A. Edmunds, 294 Walnut st.; Washington Pharmacy, 348 Walnut st.; Garden City Pharmacy, 1271 Washington st. Three package licenses for the sale of wines and beer were granted to stores; eleven more licenses for wines and beer were granted to restaurants.

Hours of sale were limited from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. to drug stores and package stores (Sundays and holidays excepted); restaurants prohibited from selling between 1 a.m. and 8 a.m.; and on Sundays until 1 p.m.

The members of the quartet came to New England from Orangeburg, South Carolina, where, at Clafin University, they received their training. In fact, they defrayed all of their college expenses by singing. The quartet was first known as Clafin University, but since coming North the name has been changed to The Mansfield Singers in honor of its leading member. These boys have sung in every leading city and town in New England and for the past four years have been heard weekly over many radio stations.

Music lovers of Newton are fortunate in being privileged to hear them in this service. Mr. Hill will breach on the theme: "What Are You Worth?"

Oak Hill Residents Before Committee For New School

School Board Refers Action to Next Year's Body

A petition signed by 125 residents of the Oak Hill District of Newton Centre was presented to the School Committee of Newton Tuesday evening at their regular meeting. These residents were represented at this hearing by a committee composed of Mr. Henry S. C. Cummings of 33 Oak Hill st., Chairman; Mr. Frederick H. Knight, Mrs. Charles R. Davis, Mrs. Lawrence Early and Mr. Shedd Van Lawrence.

The Oak Hill District is bounded roughly by Dudley, Vine, Dedham, Natick, Winchester and Boylston sts. Within these boundaries the growth during the past ten years has been most impressive both as to the increase in families located there and in the tax return to the city. The number of dwellings ten years ago numbered but 165, whereas today there are 337, with 28 new homes in process of construction, according to the record of building permits authorized.

The committee made a further concession to serenity in the lives of Newton school pupils. It adopted a rule forbidding corporal punishment in Newton public schools. In the future only moral suasion will be used. The committee, however, did consent to allowing teachers to keep pupils after school, as a disciplinary measure.

Another important rule made was that forbidding teachers to receive presents from pupils.

School Teachers' Salary Reduction Remains in Effect

School Committee Votes Not to Restore Former Scale

A meeting of the School Committee was held on Tuesday night. The committee held a conference with Mayor Weeks relative to the budget for the ensuing year and voted to adopt a budget similar to that for the past year. Had this action not been taken, the salaries of the school teachers and other school department employees would have reverted to the scale which existed prior to last year's cut of 7½%. As the school department cannot, according to law, expend more money than was expended the preceding year, unless money for such extra expenditures has been authorized, complications would have resulted, as no provision had been made for additional appropriations by the Board of Aldermen.

About 75 residents of Newton Centre were present when President Collins opened the meeting at 8 o'clock. Mr. Collins read Section 2 and Section 3 of Chapter 301 which provides that the City of Newton may receive from the Metropolitan District Commission the unexpended balance of the appropriation made by the Legislature in 1931 for the construction of the parkway between Brookline and Beacon st., through Hammond Woods. This balance was estimated at about $140,000. It would be used to extend Commonwealth ave., and if the cost on the parkway from Beacon st. toward the route to be selected should be more than the balance, the difference must be paid by the City of Newton. This extension must be constructed within 3 years from the time of the passage of the act.

Alderman Chandler questioned President Collins to elicit the information that the city can return the $100,000 to the State, will not be forced to go ahead with the project, and that a special act of the legislature can arrange for the return of the money to the Metropolitan District Commission. Alderman Murray quoted City Solicitor Bartlett as saying that such a procedure will be a comparatively simple matter. Alderman Pratt asked Mr. Collins if the Metropolitan District Commission usually does what a majority of the citizens affected desire, and he received an affirmative answer. He then asked if the commission had acted in this manner on the change of route made in the parkway by Hammond Pond. Mr. Collins answered "No." This reply caused an outburst of laughter from the majority present at the hearing. Charles S. Wing of 98 Homer st. opposed the acceptance of the money. He said that to extend the parkway by using Beacon st. will be a deviation, not an extension.

Mr. Collins explained that the hearing was simply on the acceptance of the act and did not concern the route of the proposed extension. He said that as the matter now stands, the Metropolitan District Commission is on record for the extension of the parkway through Hobart rd., but the city government may decide on another route and petition for such a change.

Answer to a question, Alderman Murray, chairman of the Public Works Committee stated that the balance is estimated at $140,000. O. D. Fellows, Jr., of 142 Homer st., engineer of the Metropolitan Planning Board, said that he had received earlier in the evening from the chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission the information that the balance available will not be much over $100,000. He stated that the estimate of extending the parkway through Hobart rd. is $60,000; by extending it via Beacon st. to Chesley rd. and through Willow st., the cost will be $190,000. Alderman Murray asked if the latter estimate includes property takings. He received an affirmative answer. Alderman Sproat asked if this estimate included widening Centre st. Mr. Fellows said it plans a taking of a narrow strip along the west side of Centre st. from Homer st. to the avenue.

Richard B. Cole of Bishopgate rd. said that one plan calls for the parkway extension being carried along both Hobart and Bishopgate rds. He commented that the extension will go through some persons' yards and if it comes through his, he will try to reconcile himself to the situation, but it would be a shame for the city not to take the money when it is available, and more good than damage will result from this needed improvement. Mrs. Ellis Spear of Bishopgate rd. agreed with Mr. Cole and said the people of Newton would be shortsighted not to accept the money and get together on this matter for the best interest of the city.

Alderman Norman Pratt said that Matt B. Jones of Ledges rd. had telephoned him earlier in the day that he is against accepting the money if it entails the spending of more money by the city. Mr. Pratt assumed that Mr. Jones would object to the Chesley rd. extension, but not the Hobart

Aldermen Vote To Accept $100,000 From State To Extend Hammond Parkway

Unexpended Balance From State Funds Would Have Lapsed With New Year Without Action—Route Yet to Be Determined

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last night by order of Mayor Weeks for the purpose of enabling a public hearing to be held on the matter of accepting Chapter 301 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1932 relative to the extension of the Hammond Pond Parkway from Beacon st., Newton Centre. Action on this matter must be taken by Dec. 31, 1933.

Charles Waller of Grant ave. said he opposes the acceptance of the money. Mr. Fellows said that if the Hobart rd. route is chosen, it is advisable to accept the money, as the amount will more than cover the cost. He said that it would not be advisable to accept the money if the other route is selected because of the cost to the city. In reply to Alderman Murray, he said that no route has been selected as yet by the terms of the act. Mr. Murray commented that the Metropolitan District Commission defers to the wishes of people affected 90 per cent of the time.

Alderman Chandler questioned President Collins to elicit the information that the city can return the $100,000 to the State, will not be forced to go ahead with the project, and that a special act of the legislature can arrange for the return of the money to the Metropolitan District Commission. Alderman Murray quoted City Solicitor Bartlett as saying that such a procedure will be a comparatively simple matter. Alderman Pratt asked Mr. Collins if the Metropolitan District Commission usually does what a majority of the citizens affected desire, and he received an affirmative answer. He then asked if the commission had acted in this manner on the change of route made in the parkway by Hammond Pond. Mr. Collins answered "No." This reply caused an outburst of laughter from the majority present at the hearing. Charles S. Wing of 98 Homer st. opposed the acceptance of the money. He said that to extend the parkway by using Beacon st. will be a deviation, not an extension.

As none other appeared to desire to speak in opposition to the taking of money, President Collins asked for a showing of hands of those in favor and those opposed. Seven persons raised their hands in favor; forty opposed. Alderman Temperley said that very little expression of opinion, and the result of the showing of hands caused doubt, and there should be more expressions of opinions. Alderman Pratt called for a showing of hands on choice of the two routes mentioned. President Collins ruled against this question as the hearing (Continued on Page 5)

SPORT NOTES

See New League Records

New records for the season were set Wednesday night in the Newton Bowling League matches. Hunnewell Club, bowling at the University Club took all four points with a total pinfall of 1690 to upset the previous season's best. Loring of the Hunnewell team hit 116-129-137-332 for a new season's three string total which was broken the same night by Kavanagh of Maugus with 113-144-136-393 against West Newton Neighborhood Club. The Hunnewell team hit 578 on its first string for a new team single total which was also later broken by Maugus with 597. Maugus took all four points from their opponents while in the other match, Middlesex also blanked Weston. Hunnewell and Middlesex are tied for first place in the league standing, each having won 11 and lost but one point.

Willie Hoppe Coming Here

Willie Hoppe, world's 18.1 ballkline and cushion carom champion, will appear here at the Newton Billiard Hall at Newton Corner in an exhibition on Jan. 2nd at 9:15 p.m. Hoppe, known the world over as the greatest billiardist of today, is one of a group of seven players touring the country in the interest of the game.

Welfare Bureau for everything over 100 people known to Newton Welfare Bureau, Public Welfare Department and other social agencies, were invited to be guests of the Waldorf Lunch at Newton Corner for dinner on Christmas Day.

And who were the ones who helped make this possible? 14 volunteers who worked hard for several days. Horace Orr, who donated the use of an empty store for nearly a week; Archie Osgood, owner of Waltham City Laundry Company, who for about eight years has taken care of all the deliveries. Thanksgiving and Christmas, with his trucks, as a donation through the Rotary Club; the driver of the Garden City Laundry trucks themselves, who are always so pleasant and co-operative about it all. Boy Scout Troops, who collected, painted, and repaired toys; Girl Scout Troops, who took care of several families; 10 people who contributed money to be used especially for Christmas, also one Woman's Club and one fraternity; 24 agencies and individuals who cared for 103 of the Newton Welfare Bureau families; public and private schools, who gave up and clothing; Sunday School classes, churches, Y. M. C. A. clubs, fraternities, and others who helped make this a merrier Christmas for so many of our neighbors who have been having a hard time to get the fundamental necessities of life, and could not have had a Christmas this year unless all these people had been willing to share, and to spread their own Christmas cheer.

WELFARE CHRISTMAS

...and a creature was stirring . . . certainly does not apply to the week before Christmas at the Newton Welfare Bureau at 12 Austin st., Newtonville!

Everyone is stirring with the Christmas work of the Bureau. This year, as in former years, a great many Newton people shared their Christmas cheer with others less fortunate than themselves through the Newton Welfare Bureau.

Two hundred and twenty-five diners, over 2,000 toys, and many articles of new clothing were given out during the week before the holiday.

Here are some of the things done and some of the people who helped to get them done:

225 families cared for with dinners; 178 families received toys, 163 packed at the Newton Welfare Bureau and donated by schools and churches, and 15 given by members of the community to Newton Welfare Bureau families; $514.53 spent by Newton

COMING EVENTS

Newton Federation

ATTENTION. Clubwomen and others interested should note the following change in date. Because the film "Little Women" has been shown for a longer period than originally planned at the Boston theatres, the suburban theatres must of necessity delay showing the production; therefore the Newton Paramount will show "Little Women" for four days beginning January 28th.

Newton Clubwomen are reminded that the Legislative Meeting for the 4th, 5th, and 12th districts is to be held with the Newtonville Woman's Club at 2 p.m. on January 5th.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The New Year's Day Reception which is an annual affair given by the Newton Centre Woman's Club, is to be another Community Day open to all who wish to be guests of the Club at their Club House between 3 and 5:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. Dancing will be featured with an orchestra accompaniment. And an Art Exhibit is being arranged by the Art committee.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"The Creative Spirit and Youth," a lecture by Rollo Walter Brown, will be given before the Newtonton Woman's Club on January 2nd at the Club House. Dr. Brown was a pioneer in behalf of the creative spirit in American education and American life, and is well known for his writings of biography and fiction, as well as for his lectures before audiences at institutions of learning and at international educational meetings and also before many clubs. Mrs. Watson F. Baker, Clerk, will be the musician at the meeting.

On this day members of the Club are asked to bring donations of clothing for adults and for children of preschool age. There is great need for much more clothing, and the Civics committee, whose chairman is Mrs. Robert Whitehill, urges contributions. From 1:30 to 5 o'clock in the gallery, the Art committee will exhibit paintings and objects from China and Tibet loaned by Mrs. Percy E. Woodward. Members should please note that this exhibit may be enjoyed either before or after the lecture. Mrs. Henry M. Weisner, chairman of Hospitality, will be in charge of the tea after the meeting.

Richard Hill Wilkinson will conduct his next lecture in the Short Story Course at 10:30 o'clock on January 5th at the home of Mrs. Frederick L. Edmunds, 89 Madison avenue.

The remarkable success, both social and financial, of the recent bazaar has received much favorable comment, and Mrs. George H. Tracy, the chairman, has been asked to talk on that subject at the State Club Institute of January 4th.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

Miriam O'Brien Underhill, the famous mountain climber "In the Alps," will give an illustrated lecture on her adventures, at the regular meeting of the Club on Tuesday, January 2nd, at 2:30 p.m., in the Congregational Parish House. Daughters and sons of High School age, of members is invited to be guests of the Club.

The Directors of the Club and Directors of the Workshop are holding Open House at the Workshop on New Year's Day, from 3 to 5:30 p.m. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all members of the Club with their families. Tea will be served and a pleasant afternoon is planned. It is especially hoped that all new members will accept this invitation.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The first All-day Sewing Meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton will be held on Wednesday, January 3rd, at the Parish House of the Unitarian Church. The work to be done is in aid of the Red Cross, and Mrs. Francis W. Doane, chairman of the Sewing Committee, is providing plenty of work for all. A cafeteria luncheon will be served at one o'clock, for which the charge will be 25 cents.

The Club is sponsoring at these Sewing Meetings, of which there will be three, a series of lectures on Current Topics by Prof. Claude Miller, of Tufts College. It is hoped that all who can will come early to sew, in order that much work may be accomplished before Prof. Miller's talk at 2 p.m. Those who cannot come to sew are urged to avail themselves of the privilege of hearing Prof. Miller. No tickets are being sold.

Social Science Club

President Comstock of Radcliffe will be the speaker at the January 3rd meeting of the Social Science Club, her subject, "Problems of the Pacific." Guests of the Club will be welcome at 10:30 o'clock, in the Channing Church Parlor. The hostesses will be Mrs. Chester A. Drummond and Miss Maud B. Henry.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. F. S. Keith of 20 Hartford street, will be the hostess for the Shakespeare Club on Saturday afternoon, January 6th.

The program of work will be the readings of Acts IV and V of "Othello," followed by a discussion of the entire play, under the directorship of the president, Mrs. Allan McIntosh.

Twelfth District

LEGISLATIVE CONFERENCE. The Newtonville Woman's Club will be hostess for the Legislative Conference of Districts Four, Five, and Twelve at the Club House, on January 5th, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Stewart A. Colpitts, Mrs. Charles W. Taylor, Mrs. Seiden E. James, and Mrs. Thomas J. Walker will be guests. Mrs. Russell A. Cone, chairman of Legislation, will present the speakers who will discuss the following bills: "Ratification of the Child Labor Amendment," and "Children in Hazardous Occupations," Robert Watt, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor; Hairdressers' Bill, Miss Lilian J. Kane, a shop owner; Children's Radio Bill, Hon. Frederick W. Cook; Tugwell Bill, Mrs. Mark T. DeSilva of Lowell in favor, and Mrs. A. C. Sennett of Danvers in opposition.

the NRA in terms of industry, labor, and the consumer, at the Thursday evening meeting, and he will be followed by Dr. Frederic C. Howe, Consumers' Counsel for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, who will explain the workings of the AAA. Dr. Howe is well known to clubwomen through the Thursday afternoon series of broadcasts in which he is interviewed on consumer problems by a representative of the General Federation.

The proposed amendments to the Pure Food and Drugs Act, which are expected to arouse lengthy discussion in the next session of Congress, will be explained by outside representatives of both sides of the question, at the Saturday morning meeting.

A speaker of special interest to Board members will be Count Rene de Harnoncourt, internationally-known authority on art, who is soon to begin a series of broadcasts on art appreciation under the sponsorship of the General Federation's division of Art. Count Harnoncourt's address will come on Wednesday evening, January 10th. On the same program will be the General Federation's "scholarship girls," Miss Elizabeth Haines, who has the medical loan scholarship and is pursuing her studies at Johns Hopkins Medical School, and Miss Hortensia Varas, who is studying at Columbia University, holder of the Pan-American scholarship, each will tell what the scholarship means to her.

In accordance with established customs, a brilliant reception will be held at Headquarters on Tuesday with clubwomen from every State, having as their guests the Senators and Representatives from their States, and their wives, as well as a number of distinguished personages from Washington's social and official life.

As has already been triumphantly announced, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, first lady of the land, will be guest of honor and speaker at the dinner on Friday evening, the 12th, at the Mayflower Hotel, this being the first time in history that first lady has so honored the organization. Those privileged to attend this delightful event are proudly purchasing tickets for favored guests, the Board permitting such opportunity.

The official opening of the Board meeting will take place Wednesday morning, January 10th, with the president, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, presiding. New directors will be ratified, and reports made by the president and by other officers of the General Federation, and by the chairmen of standing committees. At other meetings during the week, there will be reports from the various departments and committees, and from the Headquarters staff. In order to give the clubwomen an opportunity to visit the numerous points of national interest in the Capital, Thursday afternoon will be left free for sightseeing.

In addition to the Tuesday reception, a series of entertainments is being planned by local club leaders for the visiting women. Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, president of the District Federation, will entertain at a tea at the Women's City Club; this historic building was once the temporary home of Theodore Roosevelt, and is located a short distance from the White House, facing Lafayette Square. The Chevy Chase Women's Club, one of the largest organizations in the locality, with a membership composed half of District women and half of Maryland, will also entertain at tea at the home of Mrs. J. Craig Peacock. Historic Gadsby's Tavern in Alexandria, Virginia, will be the scene of a tea to be given Wednesday by Miss Helen Norris Cummings, president of the Cameron Club of that city.

CHORAL CONCERT. Clubwomen who have become members of the Choral Society, formed yearly under the auspices of the State Federation, will give their Annual Concert on Saturday evening, January 6th, at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, with many distinguished club officers and noted musicians in the receiving line for the reception, and with a brilliant list of patrons sponsoring the affair. There are fifty voices in the Chorus, of which George Sawyer Dunham is conductor. Solos will be sung by Helen Josephy Franklin, soprano, and Arthur Welcome, Tenor.

The proceeds from the Concert will be presented to the MacDowell Colony in Peterboro, N. H., for their Maintenance Fund. Mrs. MacDowell will attend the Concert as guest artist, and the reception will be in her honor. Among those in the receiving line will be Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, State Federation president; Mrs. George F. Schroeder, State chairman of Music; Mrs. Arthur Brattle Wells, founder of the Musical Guild; Mrs. Nelson W. Howard, president of the Massachusetts Music Federation; Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, president of the Choral Society; and Edith Noyes Greene and Mabel W. Daniels, compositors of the Cameron Club of that city.

Informal dancing will follow the reception, rounding out an enjoyable evening. Tickets may be obtained from State Headquarters, 115 Newbury street, Boston, or from Society members.

The Club is sponsoring at these Sewing Meetings, of which there will be three, a series of lectures on Current Topics by Prof. Claude Miller. It is hoped that all who can will come early to sew, in order that much work may be accomplished before Prof. Miller's talk at 2 p.m. Those who cannot come to sew are urged to avail themselves of the privilege of hearing Prof. Miller. No tickets are being sold.

CLUB INSTITUTES. The Club Institute for January will be held at the Boston Y. W. C. A., on January 4th at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. George A. Melton, the chairman, will open the meeting, and Mrs. Thomas J. Walker will speak on "Our Debt to Hostess Earth," following which Mrs. Josephine Davison will give a lesson in Parliamentary Law. Mrs. John F. Cameron of Newton Centre will speak on "How Club Income is Raised," and Mrs. J. W. Bean of West Medford on "Why I Like to Come to Club Institutes." The subjects to be discussed are "Methods Used to Raise Money for Specific Purposes" and "Club Courtesies."

General Federation

BOARD MEETING. The Annual Mid-Winter meeting of the Executive Board of the General Federation to be held this year at Headquarters, January 9th-13th, will again emphasize the theme, "The United States," but stressing its new significance in the light of the tremendous developments which have taken place in the country during the past nine months. Mrs. Poole states that when she adopted the slogan for her administration a year and half ago she could not have foreseen how much more meaning it has taken on since then. A prominent representative of the United States government will discuss the legislative conference.

Miss Ruth Flene, daughter of Mrs. Louise Flene, and a talented young reader, entertained the audience with a Christmas story, which she rendered most effectively. This reading was followed by a marionette show, produced by "Bill Fish and His Marionettes," with the assistance of Mr. Ronald Jones. The first number, "Variety Sketches," was most amusing, and the children laughed delightedly at the antics of the marionettes. "Jack and the Beanstalk," always entertaining to young and old, completed their program.

INAUGURATION OF CITY GOVERNMENT

The new city government will be inaugurated next Monday afternoon at appropriate ceremonies at City Hall. There will be but two changes in the Board of Aldermen, and but one in the School Committee. Aldermen James B. Melcher, Ward 7, and Paul B. Goddard of Ward 6 are the two new members of the Board and Harry B. Bryant of Ward 2 is the new School Committee member. Mayor Weeks' inaugural address should be extremely interesting from many angles. Many unusual policies were made necessary in 1933 with the aid and co-operation of the federal government. Unemployment has been relieved considerably by this co-operation although it still constitutes a serious problem, particularly for the first four or five months of the year. Mayor Weeks and various department heads undoubtedly have definite plans for the near future which are of interest to all citizens. We take this opportunity to extend to Mayor Weeks and the official city family, as well as to Newton citizens, our best wishes for a most happy and prosperous New Year.

A FINE RECORD

The School Committee of 1933 met Tuesday evening for its final meeting of the year. It marked the conclusion of an exceptionally fine record of the only retiring member, George H. Tracy of Ward 2, a member of the committee for the past nine years and chairman for the past two years. During these nine years of service to the city Mr. Tracy has not missed a meeting of the committee, regular or special. Mr. Tracy has reason to be proud of this record and the city has reason to be grateful for the unstinting service that he has given in the interests of his ward and city.

FRANK C. HYDE

Frank C. Hyde died on Dec. 25 at his home in Wakefield. He was born in Newton Highlands 64 years ago, the son of J. F. C. Hyde, Newton's first Mayor. His funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at Newton Cemetery chapel; Rev. Ben Roberts of Newton Highlands officiated. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith B. Hyde; a son, Capt. James F. C. Hyde, U. S. Army, of Belmont; and a sister, Miss Mary Hyde of Newton Highlands.

JOHN F. HERLIHY

Mr. John Frederick Herlihy of 12 Richardson rd., Newton Upper Falls, died on Tuesday, December 26. Mr. Herlihy, who was an employee of the city, was working at Bulloch's Pond, where he was seized with a heart attack which caused instant death. Mr. Herlihy is survived by his wife, Mrs. Julia Leary Herlihy, one daughter, Mary Herlihy of Upper Falls, his father who resides at Lee, Mass., three brothers, Edward and Henry Herlihy of Lee, and Leo Herlihy of Roxbury and one sister, Mrs. Minnie McNeal of Lee.

Mr. Herlihy was born in Gardner, Me., and has been a resident of Upper Falls for the past 27 years. He was a past grand knight of the Needham Council, Knights of Columbus and a member of the third degree.

He was also a member of the Eugene Daly Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a member of the Fosters of America. Funeral services were held from his late home, 12 Richardson rd., Upper Falls, Thursday, December 28, at 8 a. m., followed by a high mass of requiem at the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church at 9 a. m.

Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham Heights, with a military service by members of the V. F. W.

MRS. JANE E. STUART

Mrs. Jane E. Stuart of 108 Beaumont ave., Newtonville died on December 21. She was the widow of Thomas P. Stuart and had resided in this city for 50 years. She was a native of Dorchester. She is survived by two sons, Albert J. and Duncan T. Stuart of Newtonville; and five daughters, Miss S. Marguerite Stuart, Mrs. Clarence Welch and Miss Genevieve Stuart of Newtonville, Mrs. Bennett Glynn of Waban and Mrs. Henry Morrissey of Texas.

Mrs. Stuart's funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from her late home where the service was conducted by Rev. Daniel Riordan of Our Lady's Church. Burial was at Holyhood Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. William O'Brien of St. Bernard's Church.

Resolutions for 1934

To tend to the business of Christ-mas shopping earlier and not wait until the streets get slippery.

To check and double check and triple check my greeting card list in order nobody shall be overlooked.

To vote against taverns in Newton if the occasion arises.

To take better care of my new woolen scarf and not lose it as I did the last one.

To make another trip to the Berk-shire Hills for a short vacation in the Fall.

To continue to complain against bicycle riding on the sidewalks until I am bowled over and then to take the law in my own hands—if able.

To answer letters more promptly.

To write fewer letters so there will be no need for answering the replies.

To read several books I had on my list this year and failed to obtain.

To take more exercise and reduce my weight. (Haw, haw!)

To remember to write 1934, beginning as near Jan. 1 as I can.

To remain on the curbing until the red and yellow lights show themselves.

To wind my watch regularly.

To keep as many of these resolutions as possible.

As We Approach

New Year's Day has achieved a psychological importance which far exceeds its original chronological significance. It enables us to close, as it were, a door on the events of the previous 12 months, to put away its cares and disappointments and to bear with us only the previous year's happy memories and successful accomplishments as we open another portal and step eagerly, hopefully and confidently into a new year, almost a new life.

Since every man is at heart a pioneer, the advent of a new year gives everyone an opportunity to explore an entirely new continent of time, to travel on shores where none have tread before, to breast new storms, to discover new secrets, to win new victories.

Shoulder to shoulder we stand, ready for the plunge into the great unknown of another year. We are gay, we are solemn, brave and timid, prayerful or hysterical. We are paradoxical, not one man but all men, as we await the tinkling of the chimes which will announce the arrival of a new year, a new hope. Only in one thing are we in unison as we attend that moment. We are all tremendously excited, with that certain tightening of the heart strings which we wouldn't admit for anything in the world.

We laugh, we play, we dance, we hold aloft a brimming glass to toast the infant year which is to be born in the blackness of the night. We dare the new year to do its worst to us, and, making the challenge fear to look back at what the old has done. We radiate vitality, we are life itself—we hope and are dauntless in our optimism.

The year may bring us anything, fame, riches, adventure, trouble . . . death! Who cares? Its birth brings us an hour of joy.

The moment arrives. The clock chimes. We drain our glasses.

"Happy New Year!"

"It is tremendous!"

How Many New Year Days?

SOON there will be another round of New Year Days.

First our own, January 1st, which also welcomes the Japanese year 2594.

Then the Mohammedan year 1352, which started last April 25th, comes to an end.

Still later, the Jewish year 5694, which opened only this past September 20th, gives way to another New Year.

Whichever you may observe, a Happy, Healthy, Prosperous Year to you all!

Hammond Pond Pkwy Extension

was not on the matter of a route. Alderman Gordon tried to arrive at the same information sought by Mr. Pratt by asking for a showing of hands on the acceptance provided the city will not have to spend any additional money. President Collins also ruled against this question.

Alderman Griebenstein said he observed that George W. Pratt of Chestnut terrace, former president of the Board of Aldermen was one of those present who had voted against accepting the money. He asked that Mr. Pratt give his reasons. Pratt said that he believed Newton's representatives in the Legislature have sufficient influence to obtain an appropriation for the extension of the parkway whenever it will be necessary.

He said that neither the Newton aldermen, the Met. District Commission nor anyone else knows now if the ending of the parkway at Beacon st. will cause a traffic problem. He suggested that the money not be accepted, that a study be made next spring of traffic conditions at Beacon st. and Hobart rd., and Newton Centre square. He commented that no traffic problem has arisen at the junction of Hammond st., Brookline, and the parkway. Alderman Murray said that if the $100,000 is not accepted by the city now, it will be thrown into this out the window, as Commissioner Lyman of the State Dept. of Public Works says the coming year will be the worst yet in which to get appropriations.

Alderman Jamieson asked for a showing of hands of those who had opposed and who live east of Grant ave. Twelve hands were raised. Apparently most of the 40 who opposed are persons who do not desire the parkway extension along Beacon st. and through Willow st. Prof. F. L. Anderson of 169 Homer st. said that the parkway should not be extended from Beacon st. Dr. E. A. Andrews said there already is a traffic problem at Lansley rd. and Beacon st. Mrs. Norman Pratt echoed the opinion of George Pratt when she said that Newton is an important city and she can't see why the Legislature will not grant money necessary for an extension whenever it may be needed. Dr. Richard Cattell of Dalton rd. opposed the parkway in his section because of the danger it might cause for the many children in that neighborhood.

Mrs. Ellis Spear asked if a traffic study had not been made in past years regarding Hammond st.? President Collins asked Herbert Kelley of the Newton Planning Board to reply to this question. He said a study had been made 25 years ago, when even at that time the traffic problem on Hammond st. was recognized as becoming serious. A parkway was then planned that would connect the West Roxbury parkway with the Charles River parkway. This would take traffic away from the center of Newton and Watertown. He said the present parkway should not be ended at Beacon st. but should be extended to Commonwealth avenue, a wide artery which will act as a distributing route. Mr. Kellaway asserted that if the parkway is not extended, Newton residents, who know the locality, will use Hobart rd. as a short cut, other motorists will follow, and it will later be necessary to widen this street at the expense of the city. He said the offer from the State ought to be accepted and thus save the city the money which must later be expended anyway, in continuing the parkway.

G. E. Frost of Homer st. said that if the money is accepted from the State, and then the Hobart rd. route is not chosen, the city will have to pay the large balance entailed by the alternate route. Alderman Murray replied that this will not be necessary as the money can be given back to the State if the city so desires. Richard B. Cole, who had inferred that the estimates given by Mr. Fellows of the costs of the two routes, were computed by that gentleman individually, persisted in questioning the planning engineer, to finally receive the information that these estimates had been made by the Metropolitan Planning Board and not by Mr. Fellows personally.

H. G. MacDougall of Hobart rd. said that if the parkway goes over that street property valued at $880,000 will depreciate 50% in value and the city will lose $11,000 taxes yearly. Mr. Kellaway answered that some persons seemed too worried over what the parkway might cause. He said the Met. Dist. Commission is strict in controlling speed on its parkways and trucks are not allowed. He reminded residents of Hobart rd. that much of this street is not accepted. If traffic becomes heavy on it, it will have to be improved and the owners of properties along it will have to pay for this work. Mrs. Opal Barnes of Cedar st. asked why were Homer st. residents notified of the hearing by the city clerk, if it is not intended to route the parkway in the direction of Homer st.? Alderman Holden replied that he had requested that residents of Homer st. be notified, because they had demonstrated last year when they had not been notified of a hearing relative to the parkway extension.

C. Raymond Cabot of Newtonville, who said he was present in the interest of two residents of Newton Centre, remarked that many oppose the acceptance by the city of the grant from the State, because they do not know what may happen as regards the route. President Collins said that the city will make a careful study of the situation before deciding on a route. In reply to a question from Alderman Sprout, he said that it would be unprecedented on the part of the Metropolitan District Commission to go ahead and build a parkway extension against the wishes of the City of Newton.

The Aldermen, following the hearing, went into a long secret session and when they reassembled voted to accept the grant of the unexpended balance (about $100,000) from the State. Alderman Pratt was the only member to vote in the negative.

GEORGE H. HAYDEN
West NewtonRecent Weddings*PICKHARDT—MARSHALL

Miss Elizabeth Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Marshall of Brookline and Mr. Fowler Pickhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Pickhardt of West Newton were married at a family wedding on Wednesday evening, Dec. 27th, at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Irving Marshall of Hammond st., Chestnut Hill. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Marshall as maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Miss Agatha Pickhardt, sister of the groom, Miss Helen Marshall the bride's cousin, Miss Jean Wilson of Newtonville and Miss Virginia Price of Brookline. The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin trimmed with old lace from her grandmother's wedding gown and the maid of honor and bridesmaids were gowned alike in turquoise blue velvet and carried tall-mans roses.

Mr. Pickhardt had for his best man his brother, Mr. Carl E. Pickhardt, Jr., and for ushers his cousin, Mr. W. Clark Noyes of St. Johnsbury, Vt. Mr. Richard Kemper, Mr. Francis Chase, Mr. Clifton Leatherbee, Jr., Mr. George Hutchinson all of Newton and Mr. Fred Glover of Brookline.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Boynton Merrill, D.D., of the Second Church in West Newton. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Pickhardt will establish their new home at 75 Charles st., Boston.

HEATH—HANSEN

Miss Barbara Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Alfred Hansen, was married to Charles Edward Heath of 3 Sherman st., Lexington, on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 23rd, at the home of her parents, 5 Cheverick rd., Auburndale. Dr. Ralph Rogers of the Auburndale Congregational Church performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of red velvet with a short train, and a hat to match. Her sister, Miss Carol Hansen, as maid of honor, wore olive green velvet, and the bridesmaids, the Misses Marjorie Billings of Faneuil, Helen Hall of Auburndale, Margaret Haberstroh of Newton Highlands and Gwen Coombough of Erie, Pennsylvania, wore gowns of dark purple velvet.

Donald Heath, brother of the groom of Lexington, was the best man. The ushers were Donald Hansen, brother of the bride, of Auburndale; Charles Fisher, Robert Lowe and Prescott Kattell, of Lexington; Leavitt Milliken of Belmont and Phillip Lewis of Lexington.

A reception was held at the Brae Burn Country Club. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. M. M. Heath, mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. H. Alfred Hansen and the bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath will reside at 7 Grant st., Lexington. D29

BIZZELL—CARRAWAY

The wedding of Miss Dorothy (Hauer) Carraway, 11 Fern st., Auburndale, and Mr. Elliott Lee Bizzell, Winter Haven, Fla., took place Christmas Eve at 11 Fern st., Auburndale. Rev. Mason W. Sharp, minister of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride's gown was fashioned of hyacinth blue taffeta. She was given in marriage by Mr. T. H. Ryan. There were many guests present, among whom were Miss Catherine McDaniels and Mr. James McDaniels of Natick, Miss Mary Wingate and Miss Margaret Wingate of West Newton, Mr. Donald Foley of Newton, Miss Mary Therlault of Waltham, Miss Rita McDonald of Newtonville, Mrs. A. J. Holland of Brighton, Mrs. Clarice Wentzell of West Newton, Miss Margaret Ryan, Miss Helen Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ryan and Mr. Edward Gleason of Auburndale.

Mr. and Mrs. Bizzell will be at home at 11 Fern st., after Jan. 1.
